AUTO HORNS ADD TO TUMULT

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Zi-yow-se-l-i! The grandfather of all the pigs is shrieking in awful agony, with a sharp knife in its throat.

Rip! Snort! Wah! Wah! Cit! A wounded hippo, snorting with rage and insolence, is charging down on you, blood in its beady little eyes, bloody foam on its jaws.

(Nice little Mr. Smith is swinging round the corner in his racing roadster).

R-r-r-bumpty-bump-clang—clang-zip-i-s-s-e-e-e! A small earthquake approaches, tearing down buildings in its path, shrill bells are ringing, three hundred babies, each as large as the city hall, are screaming with the colic.

(The street car stops at the corner to take you downtown. The motorman is a victim of the gong habit. The fiat car-wheel is doing its best to earn 55 per cent for the city as it rounds the curve.)

R-r-r—r-r-r! The downtown streets are full of giant birds. Every half minute, a dozen to the block, they send their shrill calls high above the roar of the city.

(The crossing coppers are signaling to keep the traffic moving. In London greater congestion is handled by the lifted hand.)

W-w-uuu-h! wah! wah! wah! A steam boiler has burst under your feet. The top of your head is flying off. Goodby, cruel world!

(It is a railroad locomotive blowing three blasts on its whistle to notify Flagman Jones, who is 100 feet down the track, that he had better climb on the back platform. The whistle can only be heard four miles on an ordinarily noisy day. The city ordinance expressly states that no locomotive whistle or bell shall be blown or rung within the city limits on the elevated tracks or on tracks inclosed by walls or fences, except in cases of danger. In another paragraph it expressly gives permission to blow whistles for brake signals. It is on the whole a well scrambled piece of legal verbiage. There are on the average about 1,800 railroad locomotives operating daily in Chicago).

ONE may shut his eyes, close his mouth, keep his hands in his pockets, but, especially in the summer time, it would be uncomfortable to protect the auditory nerves by constantly wearing ear muffs. Sleeping and waking the ears are always open. For twenty-four hours a day in a city like Chicago 10,000 shrill, piercing, rasping, banging, rattling noises in endless succession beat against the ear-drums and keep the auditory center in the brain in a perpetual state of activity and excitement.

Out of this constant pounding is likely to come neurasthenia and even insanity. All the medical authority in the country is behind this statement. Every year adds to the clamor and tumult of unnecessary noise in great American cities. Every year the percentage of insane increases. In 1890 the total number of insane people in the United States was 106,000; twenty years later it was 188,000. In the first year there were 162 insane asylums in the country; in 1910 there were 373.

The great increase is largely due to the increasing strain of life in great cities. A great share of that strain may be fairly charged to what that eloquent old nervous dyspeptic, Thomas Carlyle, called "the devil's own infernal din all the blessed day long—a truly awful, hell-like combination." And Carlyle was writing of London, which in comparison with Chicago is almost noiseless.

LIKE the dipsomaniac, whose system is saturated with whisky, the man who lives ten years in the wild, shrill, piercing

TWENTY COUPLES TO MARRY THAT ALL GIRLS MAY LAND.

Eight of Score of Women from Great Britain Barred by Immigration Authorities Unless They Wed.

New York, May 5.—Twenty blushing prospective brides ran down the gangplank of the steamship California today into the arms of twenty eager sweethearts.

Gladness reigned until the immigration authorities found that eight of the girls did not have papers to prove their identity, and told them they could not remain unless they were married first at Ellis Island, the immigration detention station. When the other twelve heard this they said they would all stand together, and the twenty couples left for the island to find a clergyman.

The young women came from Scotland and Ireland, and the immigration authorities said they were the prettiest as well as the largest company that ever came here to be married.

ALDERMANIC BODY URGES WIPING OUT SEGREGATED VICE

MARRIAGE CURB PROPOSED

MUNICIPAL TENEMENTS SUGGESTED

"Constant repression, with a view to total annihilation," was the social evil policy urged upon Chicago last night by the special committee of the city council that spent several months studying the subject.

"The immediate elimination of all segregated vice resorts" was a companion recommendation in the preliminary report submitted to the council.

Additional recommendations include the education of parents so they may instruct their children in sex questions, the appointment of a housing commission, the passage of a marriage law requiring several days' public notice before the issuance of a marriage license, and the appointment of a wage commission to study the relationship between low wages and the social evil.

Would Close Disorderly Flats.

Existence of many disorderly flats throughout the city was reported by the committee. It was recommended that the police adopt drastic measures, "putting them out of business."

Municipal tenements were suggested as a possible solution of improper home surroundings which are blamed for the downfall of many girls. The project also was recommended to philanthropists.

The committee was appointed last October on the motion of Ald. John R. Emerson. Mayor Harrison gave Emerson the chairmanship and named as his associates Lewis D. Sitts, A. W. Belifuss, Si Mayer, James Donahoe, James F. Burns, Charles E. Reading, Jacob A. Hey, and John Haderlein. Reading is no longer a member, as he has left the council, but the committee asked that a successor be appointed so a full membership may perform the work leading up to a final report. This will be made after the conclusions of the Rockefeller commission of New York City have been made public.

Aldermen Change Opinions.

When it first took up the subject the committee was regarded as a pro-segregation body. It was appointed shortly after the late John E. W. Wayman, then state's attorney, closed up the red light district.

The chairman and one member of the committee called upon him to ask him to withhold his hand until the council investigation had been completed. For that reason there was some surprise the report was so sweepingly opposed to the existence of segregated districts. It was said every one of the members had been won over by the arguments against that policy.

The conclusions upon which that principal recommendation was made were that commercialized vice has no rights to consideration, that segregation means recognition of commercialized vice, that segregation furnishes a market for "white slavers," and that "segregation does not segregate and regulation does not regulate."

Findings of Committee.

Findings of the committee are as follows:

"We directed many questions as follows:

1. The extent of the evil in the redlight districts.
2. The extent of the evil outside of the redlight districts.
3. The chief contributing causes of the evil.
4. The dangers incident to dance halls and other public places.
5. The spread of vice from one district to another.
6. The prevalence of disease incident to vice.
7. The measures suggested to abate, lessen, or prevent these evils.

"We found in the statements of many citizens and specialists of every class that the report of the vice commission had not been exaggerated on any one of these phases of evil.

Conflict on Remedies.

"But when remedies were proposed there was a decided and sharp exchange of opinion. The question which arose at the outset was whether these evils could be restrained and the physical diseases incident to them checked by means of regulation of houses of ill fame, confining them within a restricted zone.

"Some members of the committee were inclined to favor this idea, on the ground that if the trade in vice could be restricted within certain limits it could also be controlled, its criminal aspects checked, and its physical consequences reduced by sanitary measures and medical inspection.

"Arguments in favor of these views were presented by well informed citizens and through able attorneys, and the subject of segregation became the central issue of the controversy.

Opposition to Segregation.

"On the other side of the question an overwhelming testimony was presented. The committee found themselves facing a veritable crowd of witnesses against any form of regulation and of segregation in particular. Eminent clergy (Catholic, Jew, and Protestant), lawyers, physicians, merchants, and citizens generally, including prominent women, spoke eloquently against the toleration and segregation of the social evil.

"After sitting through several public hearings the committeemen found themselves in the presence of a great mass of testimony, which called for much patient work to ar-

"PRINCE'S" VICTIM SLUGS ART QUINN

PANIC AMONG DINERS.

"Prince" Arthur Quinn, son of and heir apparent to James Aloysius Quinn, city oil inspector and ward political boss for Mayor Harrison, adventured out of his father's bailiwick on the north side last evening and entered the loop.

A large number of the persons whom "Prince" Arthur has threatened to shoot within the last year and several of those whom he has beaten with blackjacks live on the south side of the Chicago river. A number of them have been waiting patiently for the "prince" to show himself outside of his father's domain.

"The Prince" Gets His.

Hence it happened that soon after "Prince" Arthur crossed the river last night he "got his." He got it with a large H and a water bottle. It required the service of a doctor and the use of twelve stitches before the "prince's" scalp could be sufficiently repaired to permit of his return to his native heath.

The orchestra was playing "Ripples" and the loop set was just warming up for the festivities of the evening when "Prince" Arthur, accompanied by two young women, made their entrée to the Union restaurant in Randolph street. They took seats at a table in the dining room and ordered drinks. While the drinks were coming the "Prince" arose from his seat and went to the bar.

Meets an Old Combatant.

This manuever was a mistake. The "prince" didn't know it then, but he realizes it now. Behind the bar—a humble oyster opener—was Steve Broad, alias Steve Waddell. Steven and "Prince" Arthur had met before. The meeting place had been a café on the north side, and "Prince" Quinn had made an indelible impression on Steven's memory with the butt end of a revolver. After making Quinn's acquaintance Waddell spent some time in the hospital, after which he concluded the north side was no place to live.

When Waddell glimpsed the "prince" he spoke not a word. He merely laid down his oyster knife and walked circumspectly into the kitchen. There he possessed himself of a large out glass water bottle and awaited the return of "Prince" Quinn to his table.

Women See "Prince" Slugged.

He had only a few minutes to wait. The "prince" walked back to the girls and sat down. The orchestra was still playing "Ripples." The loop set was approaching its merriest mood. And then—just as the night's gayety was sweeping forward in a long crescendo of joy—Oyster Opener Waddell appeared suddenly behind "Prince" Arthur's chair and brought his water bottle down on the "prince's" head with a loud resounding bang.

The subsequent proceedings were of little interest to Waddell, so he faded.

Quinn, with blood streaming down his face, staggered to his feet and ran away from the ris with whom he was sitting. The crowd was thrown into the wildest excitement. The orchestra stopped playing. Quinn crouched down behind a group of girls and began to cry. "My name is Quinn," he said. "Arter Quinn."

W. A. McQuire, playwright, 4066 Sheridan road; William Quigley, a bartender, and George L. Scheine, an attorney, assisted Quinn's women companions into a cab. Quinn himself ran out of the restaurant to a saloon across the street. The the police found him and took him to the Iroquois Memorial hospital. A doctor sewed up his wounds and he was able to go home.

ANDY CRAIG SLUGS WAITER.

This is the story of "An Entertaining Evening" at Andy Craig's German Village in South State street. It was told to a reporter for THE TRIBUNE by William Lee, waiter No. 51, at the village.

Mr. Lee, who is almost five feet tall, was interviewed in the Emergency hospital last night where his eye and jaw were being attended by the doctor.

"It happened like this," he said. "I'm serving beer to a bunch o' dames and another waiter shoves me elbow. I swings with my right, and catches him square on the mouth.

"I did t slo quick that no one saw it but the women. Tom Mason comes in. He's the manager of the dump, and he's about six feet eight. He sees me pouring hope as nice as you please, and the big fish waiter hanging up aginst the wall with his hook over his mug.

Then Craig Uses Feet.

"Mason gets hold of me, takes me out to the bar, and then he says: 'Well, you little fluff!' and he slams me with his left flipper. I fell on the barroom floor, and then Craig, who's sitting back of the place buying wine for a table full o' skirts—Craig beats me up, kicks me in the eye, and chases me out. That's why I'm here."

"Are you going to get a warrant?"

"Maybe. You see when I came in tonight I had a gun. It wasn't mine. I was just carryin' it for a fellow, and I gave it to the bartender to keep for me. I was afraid of gettin' in wrong. If I got a warrant, maybe they'd pinch me for carrying the gat. What do you think?"

IN JAIL 80 DAYS; WONDER WHY

County Judge Owens yesterday started an investigation to determine responsibility for the detention in the county jail of William Lueders-Kurtz, 70 years old, a Swiss, locked up since Feb. 13 and released on his own recognizance on Saturday.

Lueders-Kurtz says he is ignorant of the reason for his incarceration. Hearing of his case was set for May 17. According to his attorney, Emil F. Link, Lueders-Kurtz lost $38 by theft at the Harrison hotel in October. On Feb. 13 he was arrested by the sheriff.

Examination of the files revealed that Miss Nelson, a housekeeper at the hotel, sued the Swiss for slander in connection with the robbery. She obtained a judgment by default of $500 on Jan. 14. One object of the investigation is to determine how Miss Nelson, who sued as a poor person and escaped paying court costs, has been able to pay $3.50 a week to keep the Swiss in jail.

PLAN LAW BUREAU TO AID PRISONERS

FRAUD BROUGHT TO LIGHT

A committee meeting to be held today at the Chicago Bar association quarters is expected to lead to the establishment of a bureau which will offer its services free of charge to prisoners in the county jail and in the police stations.

An increasing number of letters addressed to the association and complaining of extortion of prisoners at the hands of pettifogging lawyers has convinced its "committee on poor persons accused of crime" of the necessity of such a measure. One of the letters, sent in by the Central Howard association, contains information and names that will lead to an investigation by John L. Fogle, attorney for the association.

"Our discussions have led us to believe that the plan of a bureau is better than to seek legislation which would provide money for the defense of poor persons," said Mr. Fogle yesterday.

Conditions Here Pitiful.

"The favorite scheme of the pettifogging lawyer is to call on the man behind the bars and say: 'I can get you out on the street tonight,' with some insinuation of mysterious political pull. When the prisoner and his relatives can scrape together a hundred dollars, the lawyer exchanges the sum for a slip reading: 'Received $100—retainer.'

"Most times the delinquent feels confident by the mention of that word 'retainer,' but if he asks to have the stipulation of his freedom added the lawyer is quick with an explanation that it would spoil everything to compromise his political friends by putting the promise black on white.

Then the Lawyer Bluffs.

"The lawyer then makes a 'bluff' of studying the case. If the association happens to hear of his conduct and asks a statement, he comes back with the assertion that he did several hundred dollars' worth of work. In dozens of cases we have found it impossible to secure evidence on which to start disbarment proceedings, mostly because the testimony of jail inmates carries no weight. Therefore we have concluded that the creation of a bureau with all the members of our association supporting it would be the most efficient means of stamping out the disreputable practice."

The complaint made by the Central Howard association is signed by its superintendent, Dr. F. Emory Lyon, and says that one man ran away from his parole because he was dunned by his lawyer, in whose debt he was.

"In one case an attorney received $5 from a prisoner's mother," the letter says. "He did nothing, but refused to return the money. In still another case an attorney, by false representation, secured savings of $400 from a prisoner's brother."

The Bar association promises prompt action by its committee, of which Harry B. Smoot is the newly elected chairman.

It is planned that John L. Whitman, superintendent of the bridewell, will be consulted in planning the bureau.

THROUGH ROUTING PUT UP TO COUNCIL BY "L" COMPANIES

Letter Signed by Insull, Cobe, and Blair Submits Plans on Which to Proceed.

QUICK RELIEF PROMISED

North and South System to Be Started as Soon as Necessary Changes Can Be Made.

TRANSFERS TO LINES GOING WEST

Through routing of elevated trains was put up squarely to the city council yesterday.

Following the plan outlined and advocated by THE TRIBUNE, the management of the elevated roads submitted a definite statement of the terms asked for this improvement in service. Those terms now are before the council. If accepted in their present form or in a modified form acceptable to the company, the first through routes are promised within three months. Complete unification of operation would be probable in five months.

No Loop Guarantee Asked.

Further in conformity with the plan urged by THE TRIBUNE the road representatives did not ask that proceedings against the loop structure be dropped. Even the request for "assurance of loop tenure" outlined in their statement last Friday was omitted. All that was asked was authority to make in the loop structure the changes necessary for through routing the trains.

The proposition to the city was made by Samuel Insull, Henry A. Blair, and Ira M. Cobe, the three men actually in charge of the Chicago Elevated railways. Since last Thursday when THE TRIBUNE began the campaign the most pressing demand has been that they "talk business" as soon as Mr. Insull returned from New York. He returned on Sunday and agreed to the demand.

Here's Insull's Statement.

Mr. Insull then prepared for THE TRIBUNE a concise statement of the position he and his associates took at this conference. This was as follows:

"Upon obtaining the authority from the city for the extension of existing platforms, the making of the necessary structural changes and track connections, and the construction of the necessary transfer platforms, we are prepared as soon as it is physically possible:

"1. To establish through routing of the north and south elevated trains in such manner as will produce the best service to the public, using the loop for that purpose.

"2. To establish free transfer at transfer stations between the north and south trains and the trains of the Metropolitan company, and also between the north and south trains and the trains of the Oak Park company."

His attention was called to the omission of all mention of "assurance of loop tenure."

Attitude on Loop Tenure.

"Does this mean that you waive your former request for such assurance?" he was asked.

"I am free to say that the only objection we have to legal attacks on the loop structure," he said, "is that it interferes with our efforts to finance our properties on the best terms possible. We are certain that the outcome of such litigation will be in our favor if it is pushed."

Mr. Insull was asked about the length of time required to install through routes.

"We estimate we could through route north and south in a way that would give full relief by Oct. 1," he said, "but we could install some through routing in three months so that it could be said to be in operation at the end of July or the beginning of August. Much depends upon the time occupied by the city."

The Oak Park Case.

He was asked if the Oak Park line could be through routed with the other lines.

"That road is in the hands of receivers for the United States court," he said, and later indicated a belief that the legal difficulties of that company could be straightened out in a few months, or that the approval of the court might be obtained for a change in the system of operation if that change could be shown beneficial to the company.

Mr. Insull and his associates also sent to the local transportation committee a letter setting forth more in detail the results of their meeting. It opened with a denial that the Chicago elevated railways have declined to relieve congestion "through wanton disregard of the convenience of its patrons." It then spoke of the expectation that the elevated trains would be through routed under the plans for merging them with the surface lines, which now have been dropped, at least temporarily.

Started on Plan in October.

"As early as last October," it proceeded, "appropriations were made to meet the expense of necessary changes in equipment and structure for the purpose of carrying out this adopted plan, and so much of the work as it was practicable to undertake while waiting for a final decision of the city in regard to the general merger was finally done."

It was because this work had been done, Mr. Insull said in discussing the letter, that he was able to promise through routing in three months. The next sentences of the letter were a reproof to the local transportation committee for not asking what the company was doing about through routing. The writers said a mere request for such information would have brought an answer that much work already has been done in this direction.

The letter then carried the substance of the terms asked by the company as set forth in the statement Mr. Insull prepared for THE TRIBUNE. Then came the only mention made of the legal attacks on the loop, but even this was only a protest in the form of argument.

Ask Chance on Loop.

"But if this is done," said this sentence, "the companies should not be called upon to defend their right to occupy the loop, at least until such time as some other means are provided for through routing their trains through the downtown district."

The letter also carried an expression of willingness to "talk business" with the local transportation committee.

"Our representatives will be glad to meet with your committee at its pleasure," was the closing sentence, "and to discuss the ordinances necessary for this purpose, and we beg to assure you that it is our desire to do everything for the comfort and convenience of the public that is within the engineering possibilities of the situation."

Chairman Block Gets Letter.

This communication reached the city hall shortly before the call to order in a special meeting of the local transportation committee in advance of the evening meeting of the council. It was in Chairman Block's hands when he called up the recommendations of a subcommittee that sought to create "clubs" to be held over the head of the elevated managers and to compel them to grant through routing.

Two of these had been prepared by the law department for this purpose. One was an ordinance limiting the number of passengers in a car to its seating capacity and the other was an order directing the commissioner of public works to order the removal within thirty days of all news stands, cigar stands, gum machines, and similar devices from the elevated stations.

At the request of the chairman the ordinance was passed and he was given authority to ask its immediate passage by the council without the regular procedure of having the report published and deferred for action a week later. He made the same request in connection with the order concerning the stations.

Ald. Healy Objects.

"I believe," objected Ald. W. J. Healy, "that the purpose of this order is to whip the company into line, and with that purpose in mind it could be deferred and published."

He moved that it be passed with an understanding that council action would be deferred in that way, but Ald. Block insisted the order could be reconsidered if the elevated managers "show they are good fellows" before the thirty day limit expires. On this basis Ald. Healy withdrew his objection to immediate action by the council.

During the council session Block presented both matters and had them passed under a suspension of the rules.

After these matters had been disposed of in committee Ald. Block had the letter from Mr. Insull, Mr. Blair, and Mr. Cobe read, but a hurried adjournment was taken because the hour of the council meeting was approaching. Ald. Henry D. Capitain suggested that the three men who signed the letter be invited to appear before the committee in person instead of sending their attorneys.

"That will be done without any motion," said the chairman.

Date of Conference Not Settled.

Later Block said he had not decided on the date of the meeting at which the three men will be invited to appear, but said that it probably will be held tomorrow. Mr. Insull was told of the assertion of the aldermen that he and his two associates should come before the committee. He expressed a willingness to attend a session of the committee.

"There will be a great deal of detail in connection with the matter," he said, "that it will not be necessary for us to take up in person, but if they want to talk to us about the situation as a whole we are willing to do that."

INSURGENTS WANT BLAIR'S SCALP

Insurgent stockholders of the Chicago Railways company yesterday prepared to draft a petition to the Harris Trust and Savings bank demanding the discontinuance of the finance committee of the road. The objecting stockholders believe the committee has become superfluous.

Under the mortgage, according to the insurgents, the bank, as trustee, has the right to terminate the existence of the finance committee at any time. The finance committee, it was said, has become a burden to the road, and the minority stockholders contend Henry A. Blair and the other members of the committee were placed there not to perpetuate themselves in office but as a safeguard against repetition of Yerkes' methods in the finances of the company.

Statement by Minority.

A statement embodying the views of the insurgents was given out by Joseph Beifeld, chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago Railways Protective association. It read in part:

"The minority stockholders of the Chicago Railways company declare with great emphasis that while Henry A. Blair seemingly controls the affairs of the company such is not the case and he is deluding himself by hanging on to a rope of sand.

Members of Committee.

"The finance committee is composed of Henry A. Blair, Chauncey Keep, and B. A. Eckhart, all enjoying salaries.

"Summarized, Blair is receiving compensation from the Chicago Railways company from three sources: First, as chairman of the board of directors; second, as chairman of the finance committee; third, for attendance at directors' meetings. Chauncey Keep is enjoying compensation from two sources: First, as member of the finance committee, and second, as member of board of trustees."

ORDERS RECOUNT OF ALL BALLOTS

BIG FRAUDS UNCOVERED.

All the ballots cast at the November election for candidates for state's attorney of Cook county are to be recounted.

Judge Jesse Baldwin of the Circuit court made this decision yesterday when the startling irregularities uncovered in the recount of the first twenty-one wards were formally presented to the judge's notice. The country towns have been recounted already and there are now fourteen wards yet to be recounted.

The "official" returns of the board of election commissioners gave Maclay Hoyne 76,261 in the twenty-one wards and the country towns; the recount in those wards cut down the incumbent's vote to 73,053.

William A. Cunnea, Socialist candidate, had on the official returns a total of 56,915; when a true count was made his total was advanced to 58,991.

May Be Criminal Prosecutions.

That there will be criminal prosecutions as a result of the mass of fraud already uncovered was suggested by Election Commissioner Czarnecki in statements made to Judge Baldwin in open court.

That a special state's attorney and a special grand jury should investigate affairs which permit such a condition was the demand of Mr. Cunnea, who in the districts counted has made a net gain on Hoyne of 4,274.

Although Cunnea must make an average gain of 680 votes in the remaining wards to overtake Mr. Hoyne, Judge Baldwin declared that the recount should go on if merely to unearth frauds which it is charged existed at the last election.

Mr. Hoyne made no objection to the completion of the recount and at the suggestion of D. J. Schuyler, his attorney, this fact was incorporated in the record.

Fraud Charges Substantiated.

"Whether or not the remaining wards will show sufficient changes to unseat Mr. Hoyne, the recount should be continued," said Peter Sissman, attorney for Mr. Cunnea. "Every allegation of fraud we have made has been substantiated. The official returns show that the state's attorneyship vote was 10,000 larger than the electoral vote. The recount thus far shows the state's attorney candidates are running 4,500 behind the vote for president. We want to find out where this discrepancy of 15,000 votes in fourteen wards will be shown."

"The fraud in this election has been made apparent," said Frank D. Ayres, representing Mr. Rinaker. "It has been gross and the matter should not be allowed to rest with the declaration that either Hoyne, Cunnea, or Rinaker was elected."

"The election commissioners say now that they are investigating and wish to be informed as to any sign of fraud discovered," said Election Commissioner Czarnecki. "We are going to call in the judges and clerks in all precincts under suspicion."

Public Policy Demands It.

Bernard Mahoney, a $4,000 a year assistant state's attorney, who has been detailed by Mr. Hoyne to watch the recount for him to the exclusion of his regular work in the Criminal court, although D. J. Schuyler is Mr. Hoyne's personal attorney in the case, replied to the charges of Mr. Sissman and Mr. Ayres by saying it was hardly possible for Cunnea to overtake Mr. Hoyne's lead, despite the large gains already made.

Judge Baldwin then ordered the recount to be completed.

"Public policy demands that this be done," he said, "and the recount shall continue until all the precincts have been gone over. The work will start at 9 o'clock in the morning."

Mr. Cunnea's Position.

"Whether or not I win the recount is a secondary consideration," said Mr. Cunnea. "As a personal proposition I don't want the place. But the recount so far shows that the November election was rotten to the core. We have uncovered precincts in the First ward—in Griffin's precinct and in the 'red light' district precinct, where ballots were plainly 'penciled' for the Democratic candidate. In 'Manny' Abrahams' precinct in the Twentieth ward there was a difference of eighty-one votes.

"I do not raise a cry of fraud on account of a few votes difference. I know what happens in an election when the officials are tired out. But when these 'mistakes' are plain on the face, when fraud is so conclusive to show that the Hearst-Harrison machine tried desperately—and successfully—to 'put Hoyne over'—then I think something should be done.

"There are 15,000 votes missing somewhere that must be explained. Maybe the remaining wards will bring them to light. We have the information regarding the workings of the steal. The first bit came to use the night of the election through a telephone leak. I didn't think much of it at the time, but the recount has borne out what we were told.

H.-H. Machine Busy.

"It was after 10 o'clock the night of the election that the H-H machine began its work. There were telephone messages sent out—there were sudden automobile trips about town. Returns were held up. In many instances ballots were taken from the room by Democratic committeemen. When they were returned and counted the changes had been made. It was a corrupt machine at work at high speed.

"A special grand jury in charge of an efficient special state's attorney could bring to justice many of the culprits discovered by this recount. Some fearless judge should demand such action. I, myself, do not wish to take the initiative, as my personal interest in the matter might seem to make me appear as a disgruntled loser—in case Mr. Hoyne should win the recount. But I would join with any person or persons in asking such a special grand jury and state's attorney if public sentiment demands it."

PAUL D. KELLEY DIES IN EAST.

Chicago Clubman Succumbs to Heart Disease on Estate He Purchased Four Years Ago.

Paul D. Kelley, well known in Chicago society, died yesterday of heart disease at his country estate, "Retreat," near Berryville, Va. A telegram apprised his mother, Mrs. David Kelley, and his brother, Addison D. Kelley, 2922 Prairie avenue, of the sudden demise.

The body is being brought to Chicago by Mrs. Kelley and will arrive this evening. The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. at Graceland chapel.

Mr. Kelley was born in Chicago thirty-eight years ago and graduated at Yale in 1893. He left Chicago about four years ago for the Berryville estate. Mr. Kelley was a member of the Chicago, Onwentsia, Chicago Golf, Saddle and Cycle, and University clubs. Mrs. Kelley was Miss Jessica M. Stevens of Wisconsin. They had no children.

SAVES FELLOW CLUB MEMBER FROM BEING VICTIMIZED.

M. E. Bosley Sees University Man About to "Fall" for "Con" Game and Causes Arrest.

An attempt to victimize William M. McArdle, a member of the University club, was frustrated last night by Maurice E. Bosley, also a member, who recognized the alleged swindler and caused his arrest. At detective headquarters the prisoner gave the name of Harry W. Wright, and claimed to be connected with the Lockwood company, 18 Reade street, New York. Lieut. John Tobin declares he is a clever confidence man.

Last Friday Mr. Bosley, who is a son of E. F. Bosley, president of the D. W. Bosley company, was visited at his office by a man claiming to be H. W. Bamber of New York. He said he was a brother of the Bosley company's eastern representative.

"I have just arrived in Chicago on my honeymoon," said the visitor. As I was getting off the train my pocket was picked, and I lost all my money. I have wired my brother, but I won't be able to hear from him until morning. In the meantime I would like to get a small loan of $50 or $100 to tide me over. I am on my way to Denver on my wedding tour."

Mr. Bosley told his visitor to take his wife to Hotel La Salle and he would meet him there an hour later. It was Mr. Bosley's intention to "stand good" for him at the hotel, and also give him a loan.

The alleged Mr. Bamber failed to show up at the hotel, and Mr. Bosley, becoming suspicious, telegraphed New York. He received an answer that the man was an impostor.

Last evening Mr. Bosley was entering the University club, when he saw "Mr. Bamber" standing in the doorway. He recognized the man and decided to watch him.

Soon McArdle came out and met Wright, who repeated the robbery story. McArdle was about to "fall" and write a check when Bosley caused the arrest.

Dr. Wolfer's proposal followed them. The wedding was announced yesterday to take place in Detroit on June 10. Dr. Wolfer is a member of Northwestern university faculty and youngest surgeon on the Cook county hospital staff. There will be a honeymoon in the Bermudas.

LAND LAW BRINGS GRAVE SITUATION

Japan Feels That Honor Has Been Insulted by Action of California.

BRYAN TO GET PROTEST.

Federal Government May Be Forced to Support Measure It Opposed.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—With the reporting of the objection of the Japanese government to the anti-Japanese bill passed by the California legislature the president is gravely concerned over the relations of the two countries.

The question at issue in the Japanese mind is not the refusal of California or any other state to let the people of the far eastern empire own land, but the advertisement to the world thereby of their inferiority to other races. It is a question which touches Japanese pride and Japanese honor, and the resentment aroused is likely to increase unless allayed in some fashion.

The Japanese embassy was supplied by the state department today with a copy of the alien land owning bill, and the ambassador will employ the time between now and Secretary Bryan's return to Washington in preparing a formal protest against the measure.

Note to Outline Protest.

The embassy will make known the ground of its protest in a diplomatic note to Secretary Bryan. It is understood that to settle the question, no matter what may be the point of objection, will require the action of the United States courts, and much consideration must be given to the procedure to be followed in arranging for a judicial test of the California law.

It will be for Secretary Bryan to determine whether the United States government itself shall become party to a suit of this character in the capacity of an intervenor.

International lawyers hint that the administration is in an exceedingly delicate position for the reason that, while apparently a champion of the Japanese cause through the secretary of state before the California legislature, probably from this point on it must defend the California law against Japan in the diplomatic struggle about to begin.

It developed today that as a result of the centering of attention upon the California situation, a number of the diplomatic representatives in Washington have been informally discussing and conferring over alleged violations of treaties by many states.

Munitions Sent to Islands.

San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—Urgent orders from Washington delayed the departure of the United States army transport Sherman from this port for Honolulu today, when it was suddenly decided by the war department to dispatch a large consignment of artillery and rifle ammunition to the Philippine islands.

SURGEONS TO WAR ON QUACKS

Medical Men Will Found "College" with Examinations.

DEGREE MEANS ABILITY.

Organization to Have Headquarters and First Meeting in Chicago.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Five hundred surgeons from all parts of the country founded an institution tonight which is designed to designate competent wielders of the scalpel and protect the public from bunglers and quacks. The founders intend that henceforth a surgeon shall be known as unworthy of employment unless he possesses the certificate of the organization.

The institution is to be called the American College of Surgery and will have its headquarters in Chicago. It will grant to surgeons who meet the requirements of the college the degree of fellow of the American College of Surgery and will give recipients the right to use the initials F. A. C. S. in connection with their names.

At the meeting in the Willard hotel tonight J. M. T. Finney of Baltimore was elected president; W. W. Chiman of Montreal, first vice president; Rudolph Matat of New Orleans, second vice president; Franklin H. Martin of Chicago, secretary; and A. J. Oschner of Chicago, treasurer.

Regents to Examine Surgeons.

A board of regents was created, consisting of Dr. J. B. Murphy of Chicago, Dr. Edward Martin of Philadelphia, Dr. George Brewer of New York, Dr. C. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., Dr. Sherman of San Francisco, Dr. Crile of Cleveland, Dr. Haggard of Tennessee, Surgeon General Stokes of the United States navy, Dr. Bruce of Toronto, and Dr. McKechnie of Vancouver.

This board of regents will pass on the ability of all the surgeons in the United States and Canada and grant degrees to those who meet the requirements. It is probable the conditions of the degree will require that an applicant shall have served a certain period as an interne and another period as assistant to a surgeon of recognized capability.

The 500 surgeons who attended the meeting represent the various societies in the congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, which is in progress here. They will receive degrees upon application. Delegates from these societies will elect the board of regents hereafter.

Plan First Meeting in Chicago.

The first meeting of the college will be held in the Auditorium in Chicago next November. A distinguished guest will be the president of the Royal College of Surgery of England, which constitutes the model of the American institution. At that time the board of regents will report its first list of surgeons eligible to the degree. It is expected about 3,000 men will receive the certificate.

Dr. Franklin H. Martin of Chicago, who was a pioneer in the movement for the establishment of the college, will have charge of the Chicago headquarters.

Dr. J. B. Murphy, Dr. Ochsner, and other noted surgeons said in their addresses that this step will result in driving incompetents and quacks out of the surgical field. The public, they said, has long needed some organization that would protect it from the depredations of such unworthy practitioners and serve as a guide to surgeons who know their business and can be trusted.

EXPERTS PICTURE THE CITY OF 1963

CONFERENCE IS ON HERE.

Civic Improvement Men Make Auto Tour of Chicago After Session.

The city of fifty years hence will have a new public department, according to the "practical idealists" who opened the fifth national conference on city planning yesterday at the Hotel La Salle.

The new department will be the bureau of city planning. It will be as firmly established as the fire department or the public schools, according to the city planners' prophecy.

The outline of the bureau of city planning of the city of fifty years from now was given as the opening of the serious business of the conference last night. It was given by Frederick Law Olmsted, fellow of the American Society of Landscape Architects of Brookline, Mass. It was prepared in cooperation with the executive committee of the conference.

The City Fifty Years Hence.

"Looking forward fifty years," said Mr. Olmsted, "let us imagine the status of city planning in a fairly well conducted American city. There will be some official body charged with the prime responsibility for the custody, interpretation, and amendment of the city plan. Whether the official head is one man or a group of men, there will be a staff of assistants and the whole body will be known as the city plan office.

"This office will have accumulated extensive archives. These records will relate to the entire physical environment of the people; not merely to the physical aspects of the streets, public parks and buildings, but to the locations, grades, and other essential facts about all the sewers, conduits, pipes and subways beneath the surface of the streets; all the poles and wires and other objects above the surface; all railways and other means of public transportation; all catchment areas and waterways, from the smallest gutters to the reservoirs and ponds, sewers, ditches, canals, and the rivers of the greatest flood capacity in the region; and finally to every piece of land and every building and improvement, both public and private.

Bureau's Second Function.

"In its second function as interpreter of the city plan, the office will report on every project under discussion as to whether it is or is not harmonious with the whole aggregation of accepted and approved projects.

"In its third function its main duty will be to recognize the march of unforeseen events, whether fortunate or unfortunate, and if necessary alter the plan to meet the new conditions. One class of hard facts to be thus recognized will doubtless be the occasional disregard of the plan by the executive authorities of the city and the consequent establishment of permanent improvements interfering with the approved city plan.

Model Section Described.

One of the interesting features of the conference is the report of the committee on city planning study, which was made last night. It was accompanied by plans of a model section of 491 acres to be built within the limits of a city of 500,000 inhabitants, but to be four miles from the center of the municipality. Seven landscape architects participated.

It is said to be the first outline of a model city which has been figured down to actual cost of building. The cost of the land plus interest and taxes during the period of operation averaged in the seven plans $1,539,381. The construction cost averaged $1,818,057. The general overhead expenses were placed at an average of $571,488 and the profit at $210,022. The sum of these amounts, representing the total selling price of the land for sale in lots, averaged $3,638,948. The report was given by John Nolen of Cambridge, Mass., chairman of the committee.

The members of the conference were guests at a luncheon yesterday at the South Shore Country club. Corporation Counsel W. H. Sexton and Charles H. Wacker made short addresses. The luncheon was followed by an automobile tour through the parks and boulevards, and some of the special features of the Chicago plan were pointed out to the visitors.

MONOPOLY ON WORD 'MOTHER'? NO! SAY CHICAGO WOMEN.

Protest of Philadelphia Organization Against Local Use of Flower Sale to Raise Funds Is Ignored.

Has any organization a monopoly on the word "mother"?

The Mother's Day International association of Philadelphia says it has. The Mothers' Emergency league of Chicago is equally emphatic in its assertion this city has as much right to use the word as has the "City of Brotherly Love."

A letter from the eastern organization to THE TRIBUNE, protesting against the local use of the word "mother," was received yesterday. It called attention to the proposed flower festival to be given by the Chicago organization for the benefit of the Chicago Union hospital's free room for destitute mothers next Saturday, and declared Philadelphia had the sole right to solicit funds through any mother's day measure.

"No person or society in your city or state is authorized, or has any right, to solicit 1 cent in any way through Mother's day, either directly or by subterfuge of any kind," reads the letter. "To this association alone belongs the right to use its work, although we have never exercised the privilege."

"There is no monopoly on the word 'mother,'" said Edward J. Brundage, a director of the Union hospital and attorney for the league. "I received a letter from this Philadelphia association, but find they are not incorporated in this state, so I can see no reason why we should not use the word mother. I have told the league officials to ignore this protest."

WARS ON MOSQUITO NET HOSE

Voliva Tells Zionites Women in Low Necked Dress Will Be Put Out of Church.

"The first woman I see in my audience with low necked dress and mosquito net stockings I'll say to the ushers, 'Here, take that naked woman out,'" said Wilbur Glenn Voliva before his Zionite audience in Shiloh tabernacle on Sunday. "When a dignified judge in New York can take exception to brazen women flaunting their legs with hose that you could shoot peas through, I think it's time something be done to allay this evil in God's house. Mosquito bar stockings must be barred in Zion and let purity be stamped on the people's faces!"

YEAR FOR PICKPOCKET CHIEF

Conway Also Fined $200 for Attempting to Bribe Victim.

EVADED TRIAL 15 TIMES.

Forfeited Bonds on Three Occasions Before Final Conviction.

James Conway, "pickpocket trust chief," was tried yesterday after fifteen continuances since Dec. 6 and three bond forfeitures. He was found guilty of larceny and bribery by a jury in Municipal Judge Mahoney's court and sentenced to one year in the house of correction on the larceny charge and fined $200 and costs for bribery.

After gaining numerous continuances and seeing that he could not play the "freeze-out" game, Conway went to Kowencz's home and offered him $35 to drop the case.

"Bribee" Telephones Police.

Kowencz telephoned to the North Halsted street police station. Lieut. Doherty asked to be advised as to when Conway made his next visit.

The lieutenant sent Detectives Johnson and Spangler to the Kowencz home, and they were seated at the dinner table when Conway and Peter Renders, said to be business agent of the Hod Carriers' union, appeared. The policemen posed as friends of the family and when the two men gave Kowencz $20 and agreed to give him $30 more, Johnson and Spangler arrested them.

Partner Turns Against Conway.

Renders was tried for bribery, fined $100, and sentenced to six months in the house of correction, but sentence was suspended on condition that Renders would appear in court against Conway. He agreed and Judge Mahoney will today take the fine and sentence under consideration.

DIVORCE BILL HIS DEATH NOTE.

Man Whose Body Is Found in River Leaves Farewell on Summons: "Anna, It's God's Verdict."

"Anna, it's God's verdict."

This message scrawled on the back of a divorce summons was found yesterday on the body of Carl Gensen, taken from the Chicago river at Clay street Saturday. At the coroner's inquest Mrs. Anna Gensen testified that she was twice married to Gensen, that she divorced him once, married him again, and on Feb. 27 secured a second decree from the man on charges of cruelty. She said that she had not seen Gensen since she left him several months ago. The jury returned a verdict of suicidal death by drowning. This is the second divorced man to commit suicide within three days.

ASTRONOMERS CANNOT EXPLAIN WOODLAWN'S CAPTIVE COMET.

One Professor Says Strange Light Is Steel Furnaces Glow, but Lychnobites Spurn That Old Stuff.

Tendons in the necks of night hawks along East Sixty-third street ache from a continued strain. Every night for three weeks a strange light has appeared, seemingly high in the sky and east of Jackson park. Policemen, street car conductors, and other lychnobites stop on the corners and ask each other:

"What is it?"

The light looks much like a comet, according to some. The tail appears about ten feet long and extends upward from the sky phenomenon. It appears between 2:30 and 3 a. m. and sometimes is visible for an hour.

F. R. Moulton, professor of astronomy at the University of Chicago, attributes the light to the Illinois Steel works at South Chicago.

Steel employés said they had nothing different from the familiar flashing light. They have not started anything new in the last few weeks. Prof. Elias Colbert, astronomer, could not account for it.

"It's not the steel works," said a policeman out of Woodlawn station. "I know the lights from South Chicago."

HONEST GIRL WINS REWARD AFTER RETURNING GOLD BAG.

Miss Bertha Weideranders, Private Secretary, Finds Jewelry Dropped by English Woman—Given a Necklace.

Miss Bertha L. Weideranders, private secretary to Henry E. O. Heinemann, a trade journal publisher in the Webster building, yesterday was rewarded with a heavy gold necklace studded with garnets when she returned a gold mesh bag dropped on State street by a woman shopper.

The woman said she was Mrs. Chester Gale of London, England. She was followed by a porter carrying bundles. She said the bag contained her wedding ring, engagement ring, and other valuables "that money couldn't buy."

"She took my name and address and insisted I accept the necklace," said Miss Weideranders at her residence, 1200 East Fifty-fifth street. "I simply saw it when it slipped from her hand and I picked it up. I followed her through the crowd and returned it. She said the necklace cost £22 in England."

LOSES $30,000 IN ONE NIGHT.

Oscar Tricarico, Arrested for Embezzlement, Blames Partner for Monte Carlo Plunge.

Oscar Tricarico, former partner with Fred Scingo in a private bank at 771 South Halsted street, yesterday was brought back from Los Angeles, where he was arrested on a charge of embezzling $30,000 of the bank's funds.

The bank failed Oct. 28, 1911. Both partners disappeared.

Scingo, Tricarico said, fled to Monte Carlo, where he lost $30,000 in one night. He then went to Italy, and, after traveling for a short time, shot and killed himself.

MOTHER OF BABY ENDS LIFE

Mrs. L. Kirby Canouse Shoots Herself in Temple at Home.

HUSBAND A PATHOLOGIST.

She Was Graduate of Chemistry at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Mary N. Canouse, wife of Dr. L. Kirby Canouse, assistant pathologist at Mercy hospital, ended her life shortly after noon yesterday in her apartment at 519 East Forty-ninth street. The act is believed induced by temporary insanity. Mrs. Canouse gave birth to a baby a few weeks ago and had been ill and in care of a nurse ever since.

Mrs. Canouse had been out in the morning, but shortly before noon returned home and sat down to lunch with the nurse, Mrs. A. Moore. After lunch, leaving the baby in charge of the nurse, she went to her room, saying she was going to lie down for a moment. Soon after the door closed the nurse heard three shots. When she rushed into the room she found Mrs. Canouse on the floor with a pistol wound in her temple.

Dr. Canouse was downtown and was summoned to the house by telephone. He said the pistol was his own.

"I had the weapon in the house for my own protection," he said. "If the pistol had not been at hand she might have used something else. My wife knew as much chemistry as I do myself, having taken a degree in science at the University of Chicago."

Edward G. Ward, 1333 West Nineteenth street, ended his life in the evening at his home by inhaling gas. He was found by his wife when she returned from a grocery. He left a note to her in which he said he ended his life because of his inability to procure employment. Ward has been unable to find a position because of a crippled right arm and leg.

ERIE HOTEL OWNER GUILTY.

Proprietor of North Side Resort Fined $200 and Costs After Conviction by Jury.

William Cline, proprietor of the Erie hotel, 660 North Clark street, was found guilty of keeping a disorderly hotel by a jury in Municipal Judge Hopkins court yesterday. Judge Hopkins imposed a fine of $200 and costs. Attorney for Cline asked for a new trial. The plea will be heard on Saturday.

COUNCIL WANTS CLEANER CHICAGO

Meeting Almost Wholly Devoted to Garbage Discussion and Traction.

ALD. BLOCK IS AROUSED.

A cleaner city and better transportation occupied most of the three hour session of the council last night.

The program for cleanliness was started by a proclamation by the mayor which promised that all débris collected by organizations and individuals during this week will be hauled away by the city teams. Next followed the adoption of an ordinance recommended by the health committee making it an offense for private scavengers to overturn garbage and ash cans.

The council again ordered that bids be asked for the erection of a plant and the disposal of garbage for the next five years on a site at Forty-sixth avenue and the drainage canal.

This was partly offset a little later when Ald. Pitts and Toman, under the charter motion, forced a delay of a week in the passage of a resolution actually to obtain the site either by purchase or long term lease.

Women War on Fly.

The Woman's circle of the Lexington Avenue Baptist church petitioned the council to adopt the so-called "fly ordinance"—a measure intended to prevent the spread of flies from refuse.

Chairman Block and his committee on local transportation were jabbed so frequently because of their failure to accomplish anything worth while in the last year that the chairman finally fought back. He criticised Walter L. Fisher, former secretary of the interior; Bion J. Arnold, chairman of the board of supervising engineers, and John J. Coughlin, alderman of the First ward.

Block got the council to pass a resolution instructing the local transportation committee to begin negotiations for a merger of the surface street car companies.

"I don't see any reason why the order should be passed," said Ald. Merriam, "but if it will hurry up the committee I will move the passage of the order."

Block Opposes Merriam.

Mr. Merriam then presented a resolution calling upon the board of supervising engineers for their plan of improving the service of the surface lines, also any suggestions along the same line for the elevated companies. Block was inclined to oppose this.

"We have asked that board for information and the results have been generally unsatisfactory," he said. "We had to send to Canada for a permit from the mayor to get certain data from the board."

Referring to Mr. Arnold, Ald. Block said that in the recent merger negotiations the expert "jumped from one side to another." Block also referred to Mr. Fisher as "a man without a job."

Previously Ald. Coughlin had given his opinion of the local transportation committee, saying:

"It has done nothing in two years. It can't have any defense. It's a dead one."

Resolution to Committee.

The Merriam resolution was referred to the transportation committee. The council amended the resolution of Ald. Kunz, passed a week ago, to provide that the transportation committee shall investigate the accounts of the Chicago City Railway company. Kunz presented another resolution last night directing that the sale of scrap by the street railway companies be investigated. That was referred to the local transportation committee.

What the Council Did.

Received report of vice commission condemning segregation.

Deferred action on mayor's recommendation for a large park in Jefferson, if consolidation of parks is effected.

Referred to health committee ordinance requiring hospitals and institutions to report to city all cases of insanity treated.

Passed ordinance requiring a clean glass for each customer in all hotels, restaurants, and ice cream parlors.

Passed ordinance prohibiting use of hand organs in streets for advertising sale of wares.

Ordered corporation counsel to ascertain if traction trust fund can be invested at a higher rate of interest than is now obtained.

KID ARMY ROUTS ENEMY DIRT

Ten Thousand Start Week's Cleanup with Bang.

FILTH FORCES DEFEATED.

Lots, Yards, and Alleys, Invaded and Made Spotless.

When Mayor Harrison sent forth the proclamation of a week's war against Enemy Dirt he stirred a powerful army in the junior population of Chicago.

The war proclamation went into effect at daybreak yesterday. Ten thousand boys and girls took up "arms." Generals, majors, captains, lieutenants sprang from the ranks. Divisions, squadrons, regiments, and companies spread out in battle line. Enemy Dirt was forced to retreat with great loss.

Recruits were drawn from the public schools, playgrounds, and small parks. In many instances boy scouts who had been privates were put in command of divisions. They marshaled their troops, including girl "soldiers," commanded them to draw bayonet rakes, or alm shovels, and charged furiously at the enemy.

Enemy Dirt Flees.

Dismayed and panic stricken, Enemy Dirt, including the tin can ranks, broken ash barrels, old bottle brigade, and the waste paper flanks, scuttled off the main thoroughfares and the vacant lots and out of alleys.

Enemy Dirt seemed to have concentrated considerable force in the neighborhood of Central park, formerly West park No. 2. Here was a battle royal. "General" Hazel Jerome called for volunteers. Hundreds flocked around her. She picked a personal staff, placed them in command of divisions, and sounded the battle cry. Across Fourteenth place she led the army. They ran down an embankment, through an alley, and surrounded a large detachment of the enemy under the sidewalk and close to an old barn. There was a deep pit and no chance for escape. The small soldiers and soldieresses took every can and old stovepipe and bottle captive. The prisoners were carried away in carts.

Woman's City Club Leader.

The cleanup army was called into being as the result of the work of the Woman's City club. From this club 1,000 women in different sections of the city were assigned as inspectors to help in the campaign. The health department detailed thirty-five sanitary inspectors for the hospital corps. Frank W. Solon, superintendent of the street cleaning department, provided 175 extra wagons to carry away the "dead."

All school has been declared off for this week, principally to give the cleanup army an opportunity to make a complete conquest of dirt.

TRAPPED BY GIRL, LOUDERBACK SAYS

Calls Miss Sowka, Who Sues Him for $25,000 Damages, a Blackmailer.

SHOWS HOW HE "FELL."

Asserts Woman Went with Harvey Hill to Levee Dives and to Other Cities.

A vivid cross section of the life (alleged to be gay), which centers around Chicago's Twenty-second street district, was placed on exhibition in Superior court yesterday in a cross bill filed by De Lancy H. Louderback, real estate man, in answer to an action for damages instituted against him by Miss Agnes Sowka.

Miss Sowka had asked for $25,000 as compensation for an attack which she charges Louderback made on her. Louderback responds by calling her an adventuress and blackmailer and offering to prove a variety of infamies to which, he alleges, she and Harvey Hill, the son of a wealthy real estate man, were parties.

He says in June, 1912, Miss Sowka was employed by Hill, who is a married man, and that soon after the two became involved in a liaison which led to the all night dives of the south side.

Tells of Milwaukee Spree.

In August, 1912, says Louderback, Hill and the girl went to the Schlitz hotel in Milwaukee where they registered as man and wife and remained one night, returning to Chicago in a taxicab. Arrived in Chicago, Louderback says, Hill asked the girl for money to pay the chauffeur, whereupon Miss Sowka, in the presence of an interested crowd, removed the fare from her stocking.

On Sept. 5, says Louderback, Hill and Miss Sowka went to Libertyville and from that place to Fox Lake, where they registered at the Illinois hotel. From the hotel, says the cross bill, Miss Sowka called up her mother and informed her that she was stopping there with Hill and would not return that night.

On Sept. 15, says the bill, Hill and Miss Sowka went to West Baden, Miss Sowka having first telephoned her mother to tell any one who inquired for her that she was with friends at Barrington.

Meanwhile Mrs. Hill was in a hospital preparing for the birth of a child, the fact, says Louderback, being well known to Miss Sowka. The various excursions the couple had been on had cost Hill about $5,000, and this extravagance, together with reports he had received of his son's conduct, caused Hill Sr. to refuse the youth any further financial backing or to continue social relations with him.

"The Plot" Thickens.

Louderback then sets forth the girl came across the street to his office on various pretexts and sat with him on a bench.

It was agreed they should go out together on the evening of Aug. 31.

They dined together at a restaurant, and after dinner Louderback asked Miss Sowka if "she did not wish to go where they could be more comfortable," in reply to which, he says, Miss Sowka said, "Anything that suits you." The place that suited Louderback was up three flights of stairs in a building on the north side where he had a suite of rooms.

In this place the alleged attack took place. Louderback denies he made any advances not countenanced by the girl, and he adds that if she had called for help the windows were open and hundreds of persons in the street below would have heard her.

SAMUEL GOMPERS LOSES ON APPEAL

Term in Jail Reduced to 30 Days; Mitchell and Morrison Fined $500 Each.

MAY TAKE CASE HIGHER.

Dissenting Opinion of One Judge Gives Them Angle to Have Supreme Court Review.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Contempt of court judgments against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, and Frank Morrison, the labor leaders, for their violation of a court's injunction in the noted Buck's Stove and Range case were affirmed today by the District Court of Appeals, but the jail sentences imposed were held to have been too severe.

The court reduced Gompers' sentence from one year to thirty days and decreed that Mitchell and Morrison should merely be fined $500 each.

The lower court sentenced Mitchell to nine months and Morrison to six.

The Supreme court of the United States undoubtedly will be asked again to review the decision.

Unlike previous decisions in this case, which have been unanimously against the labor leaders, the Court of Appeals was divided. Chief Justice Sheppard dissented, held that the whole decision should be reversed, that contempt of a federal court was a criminal offense, and that the statute of limitations had run in the case.

Justice Van Orsdel Concurs.

Justice Van Orsdel, who concurred in the majority opinion, held that the refusal of Mitchell to assure the lower court his intention to obey the mandate of inferior courts in the future was "important in measuring the intent and temper of the respondents." With that the dissenting chief justice disagreed, saying in his opinion:

"I am unable to see how the refusal to apologize for an act, the commission of which has been expressly denied, shows a reprehensible intent or temper. On the contrary, it seems to me the natural conduct of a self-respecting man. Having sworn that he neither disobeyed nor intended to disobey the mandate of the court, a confession that he had done so would be a solemn admission of the commission of willful perjury."

The majority decision was largely devoted to setting out why the original sentences were held unreasonable. In part it was held:

"To permit respondents to escape punishment would be a travesty upon justice, but we think that the penalty imposed is so unreasonable as to demand modification.

"While the injunction was issued to restrain the most subtle and far reaching conspiracy to boycott that has come to our attention, the boycott has ceased and the necessity for the injunction no longer existed at the time this case was tried below.

Order Punishment Modified.

"A penalty, therefore, which would have been justifiable to prevent further defiance of the order of the court but for the settlement would now be needless and excessive. Had the court below imposed penalties not greatly in excess of those which we now deem adequate, we would not feel justified in holding that there had been an abuse of discretion. Since, however, the penalties imposed are so unreasonably excessive, and we are called upon to modify the judgments, we prefer to err if at all on the side of moderation.

"No one, however, can read this record without being convinced that Respondent Gompers has been the chief factor in this contempt; hence a severer punishment is merited in his case than in the cases of the other respondents."

Mr. Gompers is ill at a local hospital and his physicians decided not to inform him of the court's decision. He has been undergoing treatment for mastoiditis for several weeks, and it was said tonight that his condition was such that any excitement might be dangerous.

Verdict Disappoints Mitchell.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., May 5.—"I am disappointed at the action of the Court of Appeals in not reversing the opinion of the Supreme court," John Mitchell commented tonight at his home regarding the action of the District of Columbia tribunal in the contempt proceedings against him, Samuel Gompers, and Frank Morrison.

"I feel that we should have been acquitted, and I believe now that we will carry the case to the United States Supreme court. I have not seen the papers as yet, but I presume that Mr. Gompers will have an appeal taken.

"I probably will consult with counsel, and when I hear from Mr. Gompers, we will decide on what step to take next."

URGE WIPING OUT VICE DISTRICTS

range and consider in order. When this had been done and the whole of it carefully weighed, members of the committee decided the following are the chief causes of the social evil:

"The inquiry of the committee was directed to vice in its commercialized form, but incidentally it became apparent that back of this there exists serious and deplorable conditions of domestic infelicity.

"The essence of home life is virtue and family life. Where these are absent, whether in the midst of poverty or plenty, there is a fertile breeding spot for vice.

"There is a very large proportion of homes in which the knowledge of right and wrong is never inculcated—the rule of the household is without the direction of parental authority or interest. There are many homes where domestic infelicities are not caused by poverty, where there is little or no sense of responsibility of parentage, and where ideals or knowledge allied to virtue have no existence.

List of Recommendations.

"Your committee submits the following recommendations:

"1. Constant repression of the social evil with a view to its total annihilation and the immediate elimination of all segregated vice resorts. Your committee gives the following reasons for its conclusions regarding segregation.

"Commercialized vice has no rights that ought to be respected and conserved.

"A red light or segregated district means a recognition of commercialized vice and implies a permitted or legalized vice traffic.

"Existence of such a district furnishes an open market for the white slave traffic.

"Segregation does not segregate, nor does regulation regulate. Abundant evidence was furnished that all efforts in Chicago or elsewhere to restrict the business within a given zone always have resulted in its spreading to other districts, the recognized district becoming a feeder for other neighborhoods.

Makes Attack on Flats.

"2. The appointment of a morals committee by the mayor and the city council was considered by the committee. However, we believe full opportunity should be given to the department of police to work out the provisions of the ordinance relative to the inspection of moral conditions. We believe this branch of the department of police, properly organized and directed, will prove to be a most effective means of checking the growth of the social evil.

"We find it to be a fact that flats or apartments in various parts of Chicago are being used for assignation purposes. And we further find these flats or apartments were in existence before the Twenty-second street district was closed last fall.

"The committee is not able to learn the location or to what extent these flats or apartments exist, but we believe, and recommend accordingly, that the department of police make a special effort to locate and tabulate these flats and apartments, the keepers and inmates of the same, and then proceed systematically to drive them out of Chicago or out of this business.

Favors Teaching Sex Hygiene.

"3. A recommendation to the board of education to furnish education to parents on the primary facts of sex life, necessary to instruct their children.

"4. A housing commission to consider means and suggest to the city authorities and also to private philanthropists the acquisition of vacant lots and the building of sanitary tenement houses suitable for civilized homes for the people. And also the condemnation of some of the hovels in which such people are now living.

"5. A marriage law providing that public notice of several days shall be necessary before the issuance of a marriage certificate.

Urges Wage Question Study.

"7. Employers to be required to protect their employés, especially young girls.

"8. The assistance in coöperation of the people of Chicago with the department of police in order effectually to prevent the continuation of flats, residences, and hotels now being used for assignment purposes."

WORLD IN CHICAGO CROWDS COLISEUM

Big Missionary Spectacle Also Draws Huge Audiences to Auditorium Theater.

MANY NEW SIDE SHOWS.

Everything Practically Complete in All Sections of Exhibit.

World in Chicago Program

In the Auditorium theater—Pageant of Darkness and Light at 2:30 and 8:15 p. m.

Chicago's great missionary exhibition, the World in Chicago, did a record breaking business yesterday both at the Coliseum and at the Auditorium theater.

The Pageant of Light and Darkness, given in the downtown playhouse, drew larger crowds at both afternoon and evening performances than on the opening day. At the Coliseum several thousand more people crowded into the big hall than on Saturday.

A feature of yesterday's events was the closing. A few minutes before the hour set for dismissing the public a band of 100 Indians in the American Indian section, near the main entrance, began to sing a hymn. Hundreds of "stewards" leaving the building stopped to listen and joined in. In a few minutes several thousand people were singing and for thirty minutes ever the time for closing the audience both listened to and took part in a huge song praise service.

Several new features were introduced in the Pageant of Darkness and Light at the Auditorium theater which were omitted at the Saturday performances owing to lack of time for rehearsal.

New Side Shows.

Three of the larger "side shows" at the missionary exhibit at the Coliseum were opened for the first time yesterday. These had been delayed in shipment from the east. With a few exceptions everything in the Coliseum show now is complete.

To the latter was added yesterday a Japanese play entitled "Sunlight or Candlelight," presented by a cast from St. Paul's Episcopal church. It tells of a Japanese youth, Hoshi, who scoffs at the gospel story, because he has spent a year in a rich American home without having heard a mention of Biblical history or personages. But his friend, Mito San, also returned from America, has been converted and explains to Hoshi his intention to spend his life in giving the message to his own people.

A Second Meeting.

The development of the play brings a second meeting between Hoshi and the woman in whose home he spent a year, when their resolutions to enter mission work.

At the Auditorium a prologue spoken by a minister preceded each act of the theatrical oratorium, which is divided in a north, south, east, and west episode. The cycle closed with a "processional" on the stage, when the audience rose and joined the choir in singing "Old Hundred."

THERE'S one nice thing about money—your money; you can spend it wherever you please, for any kind of merchandise you please. So far as we're concerned with it, our one object is to make sure that if you spend it here you shall get the greatest possible value for it. It may be $15 or $50 for a suit; it may be 25 cents or $3 for a cravat; or anything else we sell; the amount you pay here isn't as important to us as the value we give for it.

If you care to know what a policy of that kind produces in real value, come and see our suits, light weight overcoats, raincoats. Start at any price you like the sound of, $15, $18, $20, $25, $30, $35, $40, $50, and study the result for real value. We know what we've done in that line; and we'll leave it to your judgment.

You'll be especially interested in the M-L-R Special made Hart Schaffner & Marx suits, overcoats, raincoats we sell at $20, $25 and $30; they represent in a very forcible way our value giving idea; we've made some interesting comparisons to justify the statement that at $20, $25, $30 we're offering $5, $10, $15 more value than you can get in any other clothes. JAPS FOR WAR!

Many orientals now favor fight—if California does not "back down."

What is your opinion? Should California be let alone or should the National government insist on pacification?

We know this much: there's often a lot of talk about "fight"—"getting even"—and so on—when it's only a bluff. We know this from our own business—just the last two months there's been a lot of war talk by our competitors selling long-profit cigars to dealers. You've read perhaps the publicly printed extracts from the tobacco journals telling dealers to push long-profit brands when the smoker calls for the better grades of cigars. And you probably saw that "nervy" circular directly knocking the Tom Keene 5c cigar, because we cannot give the dealer the same profit on this brand that he gets on inferior goods.

There Was a Lot of War Talk

but it went up in smoke.

Why? Because the public was with us. The smoker insisted on quality, and the loyal dealers, who want the better class of trade, offer and display Tom Keenes more than ever in spite of its closer profit.

Throughout this bluff of war the high-grade 5c cigars made by the reputable manufacturers, we are told, all kept up their sales well, and as for our books show that its sales have been breaking all records during the last few months. Quality again won out.

When a manufacturer maintains quality consistently—using always a long filler—best of workmanship—superior choice top leaves—he's bound to succeed.

MR. SMOKER, if you want your money's worth, and if you also want to know the taste of that Presado blend, try a Tom Keene at 5c today and note the delicate ALMOND FLAVOR, the spicy yet mild and mellow fragrance of this unusual cigar. Try one at 5c today.

ALDERMEN PLAN $500,000 PHONE CUT

Ordinance as Drawn Must Go to Council and to Company for Approval.

DENY SUNNY CONCESSION.

Head of Corporation Offers to Support Measure, if Income Is Boosted $10,500.

The rate and service ordinance proposed to govern the Chicago Telephone company was completed yesterday by the council committee on gas, oil, and electric light. It was estimated the proposed reductions will aggregate more than $500,000 a year.

The ordinance should have become effective in June, 1910, the date specified for rate revision in the franchise of the company. So in the three years the telephone subscribers have been forced to contribute for service no more than $1,500,000 which they might have saved.

The ordinance is in contract form. After formal adoption by the committee it must be approved by the council. Later the company has the right to accept or reject it. The promise of President B. E. Sunny to recommend to the directors of the company that the ordinance be accepted could have been obtained at a price during the day.

Mr. Sunny asked for a concession in rates which it was estimated would increase the company's income about $10,500 a year as a condition for the promise. The committee refused the offer.

Then Mr. Sunny asked the committee not to hold him responsible for what "may happen." His tone and manner indicated he was not pleased and soon afterwards he left the committee session, but he did not say clearly that he would urge the directors of the company to refuse the ordinance.

Bemis Urges Acceptance of Offer.

Prof. E. W. Bemis, city's expert, recommended the offer be accepted.

"That would clinch the matter," he said. "We would then have the promise of President Sunny that he would use his influence with the directors of his company for an acceptance of the ordinance. We would know the council was given an ordinance which the telephone company could not well afford to fight in the courts, when the president of the company had gone on record in favor of it."

Bemis said each day's delay would cost telephone users $1,000.

Ald. Walkowiak said the suggestion of the company came with poor grace so late in the negotiations, and made the motion that the offer be refused.

The committee, after virtually agreeing on all rates, had adopted the suggestion of Ald. Merriam for the establishment of a city bureau on phone service. A section was added to the ordinance compelling the company to pay a percentage of its receipts for this bureau. The amount was estimated by Prof. Bemis at $8,000 a year for an average of the five year period.

Then the company came back with a plan to recoup this loss. President Sunny suggested the rate per message for certain classes of service be increased a quarter of a cent each above rate determined on by the committee. This is the particular suggestion which the committee turned down.

Reductions for 107,000.

Roughly speaking the ordinance provides for rate reductions for approximately 107,000 of the 228,000 subscribers of the company, according to Prof. Bemis. This does not refer to the number of phones, the company having a considerably larger number. Prof. Bemis has figured the average price paid for the transmission of each message is about three cents. It is held the ordinance provides for a reduction in rates for each class of service paying more than the average cost with one exception—pay stations will continue to pay 5 cents a call.

The two largest classes of subscribers, who will receive no reduction in rates, are the switchboard subscribers and those having the commuted trunk lines.

The following tabulation of the committee shows the estimated number of patrons benefited and the loss to the company because of the proposed rates:

	No. benefited.	Reduction first year.
Residence, 4 party, nickel	70,000	$104,000
Residence measured, 1 party	2,050	55,000
Residence measured, 2 party	2,050	28,800
Residence, 2 party, nickel	1,250	3,850
Toll some nearby exchanges	5,000	10,000
Transfer charge [phone not moved]	1,700	6,800
Charge reinstatement	1,586	800
Business, nickel, 1 party	1,950	25,000
Business, nickel, 2 party	9,350	45,500
Business measured, 1 party, small stores	5,150	58,100
Business, 1 party, flat	2,000	91,000
Business, 1 party, nickel	1,550	26,350
Business, 1 party, measured	4,150	20,000
Totals	107,786	$472,000

The company, however, will be forced, if the ordinance is passed and accepted, to permit a much larger reduction than indicated above. The ordinance provides for an in-

Saleswoman 40 Years and Still Devoted to Her Work.

FORTY YEARS A SALESWOMAN

Miss Hallan of Marshall Field & Co. Holds a Celebration.

HER LACE COUNTER A BOWER

Loves Her Work and the People She Works With, She Asserts.

Employés and patrons of Marshall Field & Co.'s retail store yesterday celebrated Miss Mary Hallan's fortieth anniversary of service in that house.

A bronze vase containing forty American beauty roses was the gift of the store. Another vase with as many roses of a different type had been presented by her friends in the store, and there were roses, and violets, orchids, sweet peas, forget-me-nots, and daisies from her friends outside. The lace counter looked like a florist shop. The aisle was jammed with well wishers all day long.

Telegrams and Letters Galore.

Telegrams and letters, and several cablegrams, too, came in all day, and the silvery haired saleswoman expressed her appreciation.

Forty years ago she first took up a position behind one of Marshall Field's counters; she was promoted twice, and thirty-seven years ago she was placed in charge of the laces.

Every night for thirty-seven years her last duty before going home has been to put the laces "in their beds," smoothing them down with many a little pat, fearful lest some wrinkle, some stain, may spoil them.

"Please don't write about me," she said. "Don't make me out to be anything but an old saleswoman who loves the store she works for and the people with whom she's working."

"Most Wonderful Old Dear."

"Say that she's the most wonderful old dear in the world," said one of her friends. "Say that she does more good for her fellow workers than all the churches in the city, and that nobody knows it but those she helps."

"I started as a young girl," Miss Hallan said. "I came into the store with a net over my hair and a ribbon on the back. I'm just a business woman. See that man's forehead I've got, and these blue-gray eyes that have not dimmed, and these hands that are still strong? Do you think I've been overworked?

"It's my philosophy that everybody gets just what he or she is worth. I made myself valuable to the store by hard work, and they have repaid me. I'm happy. I've thousands of true, warm friends, and I've enough material wealth—too much, in fact."

Miss Hallan had one letter from John G. Shedd, president of the company, which she refused to show. She treasured it too highly.

SOLVE PROBLEM OF OPERA: DIPPEL OUT FOR THREE YEARS

Agreement Made in Philadelphia Provides That Chicago Season Shall Remain Without Change.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—[Special.]—Chicago's and Philadelphia's grand opera problems were solved for the next three years at least at four conferences which were held here this afternoon.

Under the new agreement Andreas Dippel will retire from the operatic field for that space of time. What consideration he will receive is not known. His contract as general manager has another year to run and by his resignation he will not forfeit his salary of $25,000.

Practically the same seasons as those in force last year will be continued. Philadelphia's season will begin early in November and run two and one-half weeks. Then the company will go to Chicago for ten weeks, returning here for five.

Many new and famous artists have been obtained. Among them will be Titta Ruffo, the baritone. By the agreement signed today, however, Mr. Dippel reserves the use of Titta Ruffo for fifteen of the forty nights for which the baritone's contract calls.

EX-WIFE NURSES PROFESSOR.

Woman Who Divorced Harry Thurston Peck Takes Care of Him in Time of Illness.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 5.—[Special.]—Harry Thurston Peck, the former Columbia professor, writer, and editor, was taken from Ithaca tonight to New York, en route to Sound Beach, Conn., the home of his first wife, Mrs. Cornelia Peck, who divorced him several years ago. Prof. Peck was accompanied by his first wife and by a nurse. For several weeks Mrs. Peck has spent most of the time at her former husband's bedside, and she is confident that her prayers and faith have won back some of his former strength.

Saloonkeeper Held for Murder.

Stephen Starzask, 3011 Keeley street, a saloonkeeper, was held to the grand jury on a charge of a murder by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Victor Barney, 2943 Keeley street, who was shot on Sunday night by the former.

SPEEDER WANTS ALL STREET

COURT FINES HIM $200.

Declares That the Thoroughfares Belong to the City.

Harold Bracken, the 19 year old son of a saloonkeeper at 2122 West Fifty-ninth street, learned yesterday that the streets of Chicago belong to the city and not to motorists. The lesson cost him slightly over $200.

According to Adam Papiros, Bracken on Sunday night while speeding on Michigan avenue, knocked him down and injured him. Papiros jumped into a passing car, caught up with Bracken, and had him arrested.

"He was in the way," said Bracken lightly. "If he had been on the sidewalk where he belonged he would not have been hurt."

"The streets of Chicago belong to the city, not to automobilists," said Municipal Judge Fry. "Fined $200 and costs."

Mrs. Rose Hebuthmott, 553 North Monticello avenue, died yesterday from injuries incurred in a motorcycle accident on April 27.

Mrs. Minnie McKeon, 22 Wendell street, was seriously injured by an automobile at West Huron and North Clark streets.

A skidding taxicab crashed into a wagon and two automobiles in front of 115 South La Salle street in the afternoon. A driver on the wagon was hurt. The taxicab was wrecked.

Carlson had been employed here about two months, and had made some long flights within the last few days. It is the first fatality at the new aviation field.

WOMEN ORGANIZE LIFE SAVING CLUB

AUSTRALIAN INSTRUCTOR.

Athletic Organization Move Impelled by Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor's Accident.

The newest fad among Chicago's well known women is the forming of a life saving class at the Woman's Athletic club. The first meeting was held yesterday with Harold Baker, the new instructor from Australia, in charge. Mr. Baker will be with the class for the next six months.

The club has one of the finest swimming pools in this part of the country. From the beginning of the organization many of the members have taken the keenest delight in swimming as a sport and as an exercise, and yearly the expert swimmers in the group have given programs on special swimming days.

Some months ago they became imbued with the idea of organizing a class where the tactics of life saving might be learned with a view to the class becoming a member of the American Life Saving society.

Since then the club management has been looking for a teacher and recently they found Mr. Baker, who comes from Sydney, Australia, where for the last year he has been in charge of the Woman's Life Saving society, the first of the kind in the world. He has been persuaded to give the next half year to the Chicago women.

Bring Australian Expert.

With the club's swimming teacher as the "dummy" awaiting rescue the class yesterday morning indulged in its first lesson. Among the women who were in the pool for the opening instructions were Mrs. W. J. Chalmers, Miss Florence Spofford, Mrs. G. W. Soden, Miss Dorothy Dox, Miss Louise Beidler, Mrs. W. L. Springer, Mrs. W. W. Dixon, Miss Marion Steever, Miss Lucile Showers, and Mrs. Frank Andrews.

Impelled by Near Drowning.

The class will meet every Monday and Thursday morning, and promises to become one of the most popular of the club's features. Real impetus was given the life saving idea by the near drowning of Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor and Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman off one of the Florida beaches within recent weeks.

Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor and Mrs. Coleman had gone in bathing when they found themselves being carried out to sea by a strong undertow.

They called for help, but were unable to make those on shore understand. It was only after much battling with the waves that they reached land again.

Relieved eczema instantly

Philadelphia, Pa., March 28, 1913: "Resinol has surely been a friend in need to me. I had eczema on my face. It was in the form of a rash. I used many treatments, without any results. I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment and it gave me instant relief, and very thankful I was, for my whole head felt like it was afire. I told the doctor about Resinol and he highly recommended it and told me to continue its use. I am now completely cured of that dreadful disease after using only about four jars of Resinol Ointment and washing with Resinol Soap." (Signed) Miss Caroline B. Laughlin, 214 Pleasant St., Mt. Airy.

TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1913.

DR. ABBOTT IS BOUNCED.

St. Louis, Mo., May 3.—Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York was removed from the list of vice presidents of the American Peace society today because he signed the appeal of the Navy league for large naval appropriations.

This gentle and revered homilist now must be a terrifying thing to himself, a man of blood and of the spear, seeing in his mirror a horrific reflection and detecting behind the kindly lattice of his beard a lurking and grinning suggestion of Kublai Khan.

This is the curious work of that strident, striding militarist, T. R., who has sat and worked with the gentle Abbott and caused a psychological change to appear in a man of peace.

The Peace society could have none of it. At almost any meeting of the vice presidents the real Abbott might have come violently through his bland and docile crust and have been revealed as a cruel man of iron, of chariots and war elephants, his steps attended by a myriad pikemen and his footprints stamped in desolation.

The mark of blood is on the venerable and gentle Abbott, and the wail of the widow and orphan echoes about him. The sapient society of piffling peace saw this monster within the precise precincts of its well ordered corporation and, conquering a palsy of shudders and a vertigo of fear, fired him.

He asked for battleships—this menacing Oliver Twist of militarism; he wanted more. Let him go out and howl in the night like a hungry wolf in the deep forest. He wants to see stricken fields and wreckage floating on the waters. He wants doom, that's what he wants.

Peace has its victories and peace societies their invertebrates.

FORWARD, THE HEALTH BRIGADE!

The neighborhood parks and playgrounds in Chicago can take care of but 10 per cent of this city's children. Deplorable as such an admission may be, it is a fact that the alley is the only playground the great majority of children in the congested districts have. It is there they can play and romp without being in the way of pedestrians and vehicles.

But if the children playing in the alleys are safe from the wheels of street cars, automobiles, and trucks they are exposed to even greater agencies of slaughter—the deadly fly that rises from the garbage can and the disease germs that lurk in the dirt.

This is Chicago's cleanup week. Municipal, public, and private organizations have united to make the city streets healthier, cleaner, more attractive during the next five days. They urge every man, woman, and child in this city to do his or her share towards making the home, the back yard, the alley—especially the alley—cleaner. There is room in this health brigade for all. Fathers should join it for the sake of their children. Children should join it for the sake of their fathers.

Cleanliness is next to godliness.

CLEARING SKIES IN EUROPE.

The definite decision of Montenegro to withdraw from Scutari and leave the disposition of that prize of its valor to the final conference of the powers removes the last imminent peril from the Balkan situation. Confronted by a concert working in substantial accord, the Serbs of the Black mountain could hardly fail to yield. But there was always a threat of desperate tactics, and these, if resorted to, might have forced the hand of Russia.

Now that reason, if not sentiment or ideal justice, has prevailed, Europe will breathe a sigh of relief. The problems before the powers are many, vexatious, and critical. But the governments have shown an ability to hold together, and without much doubt will be able to work out a settlement compatible with European peace for some years to come.

The setback to the jingoes in Germany and France owing to the revelations of wire pulling armament interests cannot but operate to relieve the tension in that direction, and a period of relative calm and amity is not unlikely to ensue.

THE POWER OF EVIL.

The power of evil is strong in the house in Springfield.

It is holding up necessary measures, promoting special privileges, and conditioning the adoption of the first upon the granting of the other.

The plunderbund demand bribes in the nature of the passage of evil legislation to allow the enactment of statutes essential to the public welfare.

The chief bribe bill of this kind now before the legislature is the Kleeman bill to make a "harbor" in Lake Calumet at public expense.

There is, of course, no public demand for this legislation; the private impetus is almost irresistible.

Four hundred thousand people are to pay for the "harbor." The beneficiaries will not exceed four hundred.

Matters of public importance have been held up in the house, but this private measure has been maneuvered through the house and slipped through the senate committee.

It is now before the senate and is being advocated in the senate by the same argument that caused its passage last year.

Each senator is told that if he opposes it the "gang" in the house will defeat any measure in which he is interested.

If the bill is passed the value of the waste lands around Lake Calumet belonging to big corporations and speculators will increase by millions of dollars.

And the four hundred thousand taxpayers of Cook county will pay for this increase.

The bill is vicious, not to say suspicious.

It is the Allen bill, the Lorimer vote of this legislature.

Let us hope there is enough virtue in the senate to overcome the power of evil which is rampant in the house.

CORRUPTION VS. EXPOSURE.

The Lee O'Neil Browne bill to prevent the exposure of corruption has been reported by the house committee on judiciary and is now before the house.

The public will be interested to know which of the members stand with the king of the jackpotters for his bathroom bill.

THROUGH ELEVATED ROUTES.

The reply of the executive committee of the Chicago elevated railways to the chairman of the local transportation committee sets forth the company's willingness to operate its north and south side system as through routes and to establish free transfer stations for connection with the other lines.

This is not a specific statement as to other than the Northwestern and the south side elevated. The executive committee says the company is prepared:

1. To establish through routing of the north and south elevated trains in such manner as will produce the best service to the public, using the loop for that purpose.

2. To establish free transfer at transfer stations between the north and south trains and the trains for the Metropolitan company, and also between the north and south trains and the trains of the Oak Park company.

The committee asks for a conference with the local transportation committee. One is needed to develop the proposals which are stated without definiteness.

Two objects are sought in the demand for through routing. One is one fare on the lines of one company. The other is better service. The establishment of transfer stations would give the single fare, but would not improve the service materially if the loop were to be used as it is now, with the exception that trains from the south went on north and trains from the north went south.

Congestion would be but little relieved. The executive committee shows a willingness to take the question up with the city for settlement, and professes itself alive to the necessity of improvement. It must make its proposals more specific.

WHAT America chiefly admires in its woman suffrage leaders is that they are so different.

PRESIDENT WILSON must be convinced by this time that the salary pertaining to his job is none too large.

"THE leaven is at work!" exclaims a reformer. Well, the cost of living, we observe, still seems to be rising.

MAY it be faintly hoped that the men who receive regular wages from the city for keeping the alleys clean will remember that this is cleaning up week?

IT appears from the "large quantity of woman suffrage literature" found scattered around wherever one of those incendiary fires happens in England that the suffragists have literature to burn.

JUST when you need the money for something else you discover that the old house must be reshingled right away. And it was only a few years ago—probably not more than sixteen or eighteen—that you had an entirely new roof put on it!

IF the official scorer were to mark an error against every ball player who has a "run in" with the umpire and is ordered out of the game perhaps these annoying incidents would be fewer.

MONTENEGRO might hope to realize something substantial from its victories, even without the approval of the powers, if it had taken the precaution, in the more or less remote past, to grow larger while it was growing.

THE esteemed Cubs, however, should not get the impression from anything that is happening locally this is their week for being cleaned out.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Adopting the Suggestion.

"Shorty, you gourdhead, you're carrying three perfectly good umbrellas under your arm, and it's raining hard! Why don't you put up one of them?"

"Gosh, that isn't a bad idea, Squinchley! I believe I'll put up all three of 'em."

Wasted Opportunity.

"Bobby, boy, take a look overhead;
See the starry wonders, wide outspread.
There's Hercules, and Lyra the Harp;
You'll see them twinkle if you look sharp.
You don't know that one? For pity's sake!
They call it Hydra, the Water Snake.
Then there's the Virgin, fair but fickle,
Leo next, with his famous Sickle——"
"But hold on, daddy," said Bobby. "Whoa!
Why doesn't old Leo his Sickle take,
And chop off the head of the blooming snake?"

[Accompanying this effusion is a note from the author, a "Hyde Park Father," who says it "actually happened." We'll let it pass this time, but it mustn't happen again.]

Not in the Nature of Things.

"Colonel," said the man with the hunted look in his eye, "you resided in the far west for many years, did you not?"

"I did."

"Was it a matter of common knowledge and observation out there that landslides happened oftener early in the month of May than at any other time in the year?"

"It was not, so far as I know."

"Then May 1 is not the natural and heaven ordained moving day! That is what I have always contended! Thank you, colonel!"

NEW YORK'S CAMPAIGN.

THE New York spring cleaning campaign began by adopting as a motto, "For health and decency, clean up." This motto is to be printed on buttons, and every one of the thousands who are to participate in the campaign is given a cleanup button.

The Housewives' league has adopted a special cleanup button. Every housewife is expected to wear one of these buttons during spring cleaning week. This league has had 25,000 placards printed. These are to be posted in places where food is sold. The housewives are to be advised to purchase no food in a place that does not display this placard.

The placard proclaims the following ordinances:

"QUALITY.

"From Sec. 42—No food or drink that is not fresh, wholesome, and safe for human use, or food that is not sound, shall be offered for sale in the city of New York.

"EXPOSURE.

"From Secs. 45 and 46—No fish, fowl, meat of any sort shall be exposed for sale in any street or outside of any store or in open windows or doorways, and no other food shall be exposed for sale in the open air, except such food as is peeled, pared, or cooked before use, unless it is so covered as to be protected from dust, flies, and all other dirt.

"CLEANLINESS AND WHOLESOMENESS.

"From Sec. 49—Every owner, renter, occupant of any premises where food of any sort is sold shall put and keep such premises and everything connected with them in a clean and wholesome condition; and any person in charge of the business shall see that the food sold is kept clean and free from any poison or disease, and otherwise kept wholesome."

During the week the Boy Scouts are to patrol the streets and report violations of the sanitary code. For their use a manual of inspection is being prepared, describing in detail how scouts may help in the cleanup movement, and quoting appropriate extracts from the scout law.

For one month space has been taken in newspapers, on billboards, and on elevated stations to tell the public of what is to be done. The street railways have printed information about the cleanup campaign on the backs of their transfer slips.

Before the actual cleaning is begun each householder is to receive a printed notice from the district organization. This notice is official, or semi-official, in its character. It calls attention to the city ordinances relating to the cleanliness of premises, and serves notice that they must be complied with in twenty-four hours.

Health Commissioner Lederle, in advocating the plan, spoke as follows:

"Neither New York nor any other great American city has ever reached very far below the surface in its cleaning. Good housewives do, and obtain results worth while. The city should, and it would also obtain results worth while—results which would be demonstrable in a lower death rate and lower rate of fire loss."

SEEMS TO BE APPENDICITIS.

M. S. writes: "What would cause gas to form in the bowels, causing great pain in the right side, directly in front of the hip, sometimes causing a cold feeling, extending almost to the left side? What could I do to prevent it and to relieve the pain when it comes? I have doctored for it without much benefit."

REPLY.

You describe the colic stage of appendicitis. Evidently your attacks stop short of the fever stage. A physician seeing you in an attack would probably diagnose appendicitis and advise an operation.

MEASLES.

M. writes: "After the eruption in a case of measles has disappeared, how long is there danger of contagion [a] from the patient; [b] from the attendant or nurse? [c] How long is there danger from the sickroom where ordinary cleanliness is observed but no fumigating is done?"

REPLY.

[a] The present day teaching is that the danger is greatest before the eruption, in the fever and coughing stage; is not very great after the eruption appears, is slight after the eruption fades, and has disappeared entirely by three days after the fever and breaking out has gone.

[b] The nurse who covers her clothes with a gown and washes her face and hands as she leaves the sickroom is not dangerous during the illness and certainly not after the illness has subsided. Unless she follows this plan scrupulously she is about as dangerous as the patient.

[c] Ordinary cleanliness does not accomplish much. If the room and its contents are scoured with soap and water and then thoroughly aired and sunned the danger will be ended as soon as the process is finished.

TOBACCO STUNTS GROWTH.

Mrs. H. M. C. writes: "Please inform me whether smoking a pipe or cigar, when about 16 years old, will stunt one's growth. What other effect is possible?"

REPLY.

1. Yes.

2. May cause nervousness, nervous heart, cough, indigestion, and tobacco habit.

AIR AND FOOD.

E. H. D. C. writes: "What would you recommend as a good spring tonic? Is a spring tonic generally known as a remedy for removing pimples, or would a skin food of some kind, used externally, have better effects?"

REPLY.

Exercise in the open air, plenty of fruit and vegetables to eat. No other spring tonic and no other flesh food is worth 10 cents a carload.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Mrs. M. K. T. writes: "A girl 2 years old, having infantile paralysis for eight months, has shown some improvement under treatment. The trouble is in the instep. She cannot bend her foot to throw the front part of it up in walking. The weak leg seems to be a little shorter than the other. What would be the best treatment for her? Would you advise an operation?"

REPLY.

Generally speaking, no operation is advisable. Muscle training, patiently persisted in, accomplishes much. Have a Chicago medical book company get for you a pamphlet by Wright on "Muscle Training After Infantile Paralysis."

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

IS the kaiser about to add any of Portugal's colonial dependencies in Africa, China, or India to the German empire? This has been frequently rumored, and as often officially denied. But that something of the kind is in the wind at the present moment may be gathered from a single sentence in the annual report just issued at the Colonial bank of Berlin, a semi-state concern. The phrase in question is to the effect that "negotiations are now pending with a view to the extension of the colonial possessions of Germany."

The new republican government of Portugal has so unenviable a reputation abroad and has been guilty of such gross maladministration as to close all the foreign money markets to its appeals for loans. Its position is not considered sufficiently secure to warrant lending it any money.

On the other hand, the national treasury is absolutely empty. Both Great Britain and Germany are known to have made advantageous financial offers to the republic for the purchase, or failing that, the long lease, of some of the Portuguese colonies in return for large sums of money, which will be welcome at Lisbon.

However, any such transaction on the part of Portugal with either of these two great powers would entail war between them, unless they were previously agreed about the matter.

England could not tolerate the acquisition by Germany of Goa, on the coast of India, about a hundred miles north of Bombay; of Macao, in China, of Timor, in the Malay archipelago, or of the Cape Verde islands without rigorous opposition, or of the Portuguese possessions in the west and east portions of the dark continent without itself sharing in the increase of territory.

It therefore follows that if Germany has some deal on hand with Portugal for the acquisition of some of its colonies England is, in all probability, a party thereto, and will also obtain some of Portugal's oversea dependencies, possibly Mozambique and Goa.

Emperor William's Prussian ministers of state are preparing themselves for a disagreeable ordeal, which they will be compelled to undergo a fortnight hence on the occasion of the wedding of his only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, to Prince Ernest Augustus of Great Britain and Brunswick. It is the fackeltanz, or torch dance, which takes place at the imperial palace on the evening of the day of the marriage.

On these occasions the emperor and the empress, having taken up their places on the dais of the ballroom, their guests arranging themselves to the right and left, according to rank and precedence, the principal marshal of the court—namely: Count August Zu Eulenberg—receives orders for the dance to begin.

He thereupon approaches the royal bride and bridegroom and, bowing low to them, invites them to take part in the dance.

The bridegroom extends his hand to his consort and, to the sound of a slow and stately polonaise, conducts her around the huge ballroom, the procession being headed by twelve picturesquely arrayed pages of honor, followed by the twelve ministers of state, walking two by two, those highest in rank coming last.

When the procession returns to the point from which it started in front of the throne the bride approaches the emperor, and, with a low curtsey, invites him to take part in the polonaise, and is conducted round the room by him, the bridegroom going through the same formality with the empress.

The bridegroom then similarly invites each queen or lady of sovereign rank present, the bride going through the same procedure with the remaining monarchs attending the ceremony.

After that the bridegroom invites the princesses of the blood, two at a time, leading one with each hand, while the bride goes through the same procedure with two princes of the blood until the total list of royal personages has been exhausted. The ministers of state continue all this time to head the procession with their lighted, heavy wax candles, which are of considerable size.

As this wedding polonaise usually lasts about two hours, it may be readily imagined that the ministers of state, who are all of them elderly and in some instances portly men, become exhausted.

Moreover, the uniform of a Prussian minister of state is extremely hot and heavy with all its gold lace, and at the same time terribly unbecoming.

It emphasizes embonpoint and robs even the best masculine figure of any elegance that it may possess.

Then, too, the ministers are aware that they present, especially toward the end of the polonaise, a somewhat sorry spectacle, inviting critical comment and even ridicule, which is never pleasant.

The late Prince Bismarck, in fact, toward the latter portion of his term of office as chancellor, was wont to plead sudden indisposition as an excuse for his withdrawal in order to escape having thus to march around the room bearing a lighted candle, declaring "I am a little bit too old to dance before these printlitions" (princelets).

On the occasion of the forthcoming wedding Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg, an exceedingly tall, thin, and angular man, will come last among the ministers in the torch dance. In addition to being chancellor of the empire he is president of the council of ministers of Prussia.

So much that is unfounded and distorted has been printed in the press on both sides of the Atlantic regarding the score of children of the last Duke of Parma, who have been described as all of them either downright lunatics and imbeciles or as mentally deficient, that I am glad to be able to announce the impending publication of a book on Arabian exploration by one of the sons of the late Duke of Parma, Prince Sixtus of Bourbon.

Accompanied by several young fellow officers of the Austrian army, by a physician, an archeologist, a geologist, and a well equipped, well armed suite of retainers he spent last year some six or eight months in exploring the until then unknown regions of the interior of Arabia, discovering the ruins of many long forgotten cities and strongholds and meeting with all sorts of adventures.

On half a dozen occasions the expedition was compelled to defend itself against fierce attacks by hostile tribes in pitched battles, and in other instances allied itself with one coalition of the desert tribes in war against others.

The expedition has brought back to Vienna all sorts of wonderful photographs, geological specimens, tracings, and new information concerning the various tribes roaming about the interior of Arabia of great value to science.

Prince Sixtus has been delivering a series of lectures on the subject of his tour at Vienna, and the lucidity, the cleverness, and the wit with which he speaks, coupled with modest bearing concerning his own feats, have served to dispel any doubts that may ever have existed as to the brilliancy of this, the favorite brother of young Archduchess Zita, the future empress of Austria-Hungary.

Another sister of Prince Sixtus was the late Princess Marie Louise of Bourbon, the first wife of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, and the mother of his four children.

MAY SONG.
[From the May Ainslee's.]

May,—
And the rose upon her way,
Bedight
And all caparisoned for fête. What say
Yon pair of lovers through new grass that go
So slow
And stop?
And hark! Yon bird in the treetop—
Tirandalay!

Guffle,—
A mess of words in the shuffle,
And
The information that the month is May.
"Jerked English" this, as Wallace Rice would say.
Hark, hark,
The lark!
Or is't the watchdog's bark?
Tilooralay!

BEFORE the tariff bill is passed Mr. Wilson is going to give the industries that are yelling "Ruin" an opportunity to explain just how the bill will ruin them. We have been praying for many years for some one to call that bluff.

Jack London was a thirsty kid
When he was only four
He drank a keg of beer a day,
And used to cry for more.

He grew a chesty, breedy man,
With whom the redbloods mingle;
It took ten shots to fix him up
With what he called a "jingle."

He passed up all the "unveiled truths,"
But kept his other fad; he
Likewise in Hakodadi.

He wrote a thousand words a day,
And always had a skinful;
He drank and drank and drank and drank,
And never thought it sinful.

At last "white logic" came his way
(I don't know what it all meant),
He tinned the booze and took a brace—
So runs the last installment.

SAYS DEPARTMENT COULDN'T INTERFERE.

Chicago, May 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—A building owned by Mr. M. Garvey, who happens to be a cousin of a city hall official, burned down almost completely, and no one could see how it could be used again, but the owner sawed off half of it and is now attempting to build it up, although the matter of removing the burnt part has been taken up with the building department. This ought to be looked after, as it is dangerous for the rear, burnt part to be put into place again.

N. THOMAS.

The building evidently referred to and owned by Michael Garvey is located one block further south at 6915 South Western avenue. This was a two story frame building, 21x62 feet, and was damaged by fire in November, 1912. The owner was notified to "repair and make safe or tear building down." As the fire insurance appraisers had not valued the building at the expiration of the time the owner applied to this department for an extension of time and the district inspector having reported the building "not dangerous, but in need of repairs," the time was extended to Feb. 1, 1913.

As nothing was done the matter was placed on Feb. 15, 1913, in the law department for prosecution.

This building being outside the fire limits and a permit taken out for the reconstruction, the building department has no right to interfere or to prevent the reconstruction of this building.

HENRY ERICSSON,
Commissioner of Buildings.

OPENING NEWPORT AVENUE.

Mont Clare, April 30.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me if Newport avenue will be cut through from Forty-eighth avenue west to Fiftieth avenue this spring; also when sewers will be put in on Cornelia avenue from Forty-eighth avenue west.

Proceedings have recently been instituted for opening Newport avenue, between Forty-eighth and Fiftieth avenues, but the street will not be opened until the latter part of next year at the earliest. As to sewer in Cornelia avenue, between the above points, bids were opened on April 28, 1913, and contract will be awarded in a week or so. The work will go in this summer.

A SIDEWALK REPAIRED.

Chicago, May 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Why is it that the sidewalk near the driveway of Sibley warehouse, North Clark street, can't be fixed? One end of the walk is lower near the building and the water always stands after a rain.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Supervisor Corey reports as follows:

"I made a careful examination of the walk referred to by Mr. William B. Fink and the only place where water would stand is at the north side of the driveway, where there is a depression. Drainage, however, is provided at this place by a scupper pipe which I found was stopped up. I called upon the manager of the building, Mr. Bell, who promised to have the pipe cleared out at once."

SKIMMING MILK IN RESTAURANTS.

Chicago, May 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise me if there is any law against restauranteurs serving from small bottles milk which has been skimmed and the bottles refilled with water, the skimmed milk evidently being used for coffee.

It is unlawful to skim top milk from bottled milk, refill the bottle with water, and then sell the compound.

RAIN GUTTERS BY JUNE 15.

Chicago, May 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will you be good enough to inform me if there is a possible chance to compel a neighbor to put a rain gutter on a cottage next to my property? I have made numerous complaints to the department of health, but so far have got nothing but promises.

A. K.

On account of the poverty of the owner of this cottage the department has been unwilling to take extreme measures unless compelled to do so, and he was therefore granted until June 15 to put on the gutters and connect them with the sewer.

INSPECTING PICTURE THEATERS.

Chicago, May 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I noticed several articles in THE TRIBUNE on ventilation of theaters. In one of these articles an official of the health department spoke of enforcing the ordinance on ventilation in all theaters. I have since then visited several theaters in various neighborhoods and found perfect ventilation in many of the places. I should like to hear from the health department through your columns whether or not anything is being done in our vicinity in this direction. There seems to be no attempt made to ventilate the theaters on Halsted street between Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth street, Sixty-ninth street near Normal avenue, and Wentworth avenue near Sixty-ninth street. A visit by a health inspector to these places will verify my complaint.

P. W.

There are 535 picture theaters in this city. Fifty of them have been erected recently and have been made to comply with the ordinance requirements as to ventilation. Notice has been served on some seventy-five others as to just what will be necessary to make them comply with the ordinance and work is now under way. We have only three inspectors for this and all other ventilation work and have not yet followed up anything as far south as Sixty-eighth street. We will get there in the course of time.

TO HAVE A CEMENT SIDEWALK.

Chicago, April 30.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I have been trying vainly for two years or more to have some sort of a walk put in on both sides of Pine avenue, between Thomas and Haddon avenues, and I am almost discouraged in the attempt, but as a last resort I am going to ask your assistance. The street, or prairie, is impassable in wet weather, but one can manage to get across in dry seasons.

I wrote to the alderman of our ward under date of March 27 in that connection, but up to the present time I have not been extended the courtesy of a reply, even though I pay real estate taxes, personal property tax, and water taxes.

VARIOUS IMPROVEMENTS.

1—Chicago, May 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise me as to what action has been taken regarding the paving of streets between Vincennes road and Western Indiana tracks and Sixty-ninth street to Seventy-fifth. If favorable action, when will the work be done? Will the water and sewer department investigate their pipes and put in larger ones if necessary before paving is done, or is it necessary for the property owners to take some particular action in this matter?

WM. M. MORRISON,

3—Chicago, May 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise me whether alley between Belden avenue and Arlington terrace, running east from Clark street, will be paved in the near future. I understand that an ordinance for this paving was passed last year.

J. A. H.

1. The system of streets referred to, Princeton avenue from Sixty-ninth to Seventy-fifth street, etc., was ordered paved with asphaltic concrete at the public hearing held on March 11, 1913, but there is no possibility of the improvement being made until next year at the earliest.

Before the streets are paved the board will see to it that all necessary underground work, such as sewers, drains, water supply, and service pipes, are in.

2. The matter of paving Pine Grove avenue from Sheridan road to Graceland avenue with asphalt, will come up for consideration at a deferred hearing to be held by the board on May 13, 1913, at 11 o'clock a. m.

3. At a public hearing held on June 26, 1912, proceedings for paving alley in block between Arlington terrace, North Park avenue, Belden avenue, and North Clark street, were ordered abandoned. This action was taken because there was an ordinance before the council to vacate part of these alleys.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

THE COMMUTER AND THE TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM.

Chicago, May 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I was glad to see you come out so strong in today's TRIBUNE regarding "through routing" of elevated trains. This is indeed an immediate necessity, but of course you will agree that the people must insist more and more forcibly for a subway system at an early date. Chicago's population is now far ahead of its transportation facilities, and it needs at the earliest possible date a complete subway system and universal transfers.

There is in addition to the urban transportation systems the suburban systems of the railroads, to which, in my opinion, not enough attention is paid by those planning for future transportation.

Now the greatest objection to the use of the steam roads is the distance of the terminals from where the commuter is employed in Chicago or where his family wish to go for their purchases or their amusements. With this objection to the location of the depots removed more people would use the steam roads. To my mind the solution of this part of the transportation problem is the location of the railroad depots at such points as will be best for the city at large and then to connect these terminals with a special subway in the form of a loop which shall cover such territory as will place the traveler in close touch with any part of the business section of the city, including such sections as business will probably spread to in the years to come. H. S. HIBBARD, 1827 Estes Avenue.

CALIFORNIA'S ACT.

Chicago, May 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Shall one state be permitted to make laws that force the whole nation into international complications? Whether the law proposed by California be merely a piece of political legerdemain intended to "put Wilson in a hole," or whether it be a sincere measure intended to remove a real or imaginary peril, the fundamental question is the same.

Neither California nor any other state should be permitted to pass any law which takes away from citizens of this country privileges guaranteed by the constitution, including treaty making rights, nor from foreign citizens any privileges guaranteed under any valid treaty between the United States and any foreign nation.

In the present instance California seems determined to pass a law which not only discriminates against a certain class of foreign residents in violation of a valid treaty existing between the United States and a foreign nation with which this country as a whole is friendly and at peace, but which also deprives our own people of their treaty making privileges in that it seeks to undermine and destroy certain provisions of a treaty already made, which can only be done without dishonor and danger of war through mutual consent of the treaty making powers.

WHO SAVED THE MAN?

Chicago, May 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—THE TRIBUNE makes mention of a man who attempted to commit suicide by plunging into the lake at the foot of Van Buren street and says that he was rescued by two policemen, Jones and Sullivan. The following are the facts: At dusk, or about 7 o'clock, the writer and a young man, a stranger from Cape Girardeau, Mo., who is employed at the National hotel in Van Buren street, were the only persons at the lake front at this time and standing about fifty feet apart. Suddenly this young man called to me, saying a man had jumped into the lake. We ran to the spot he indicated and the man was just coming up for the first time. Neither of us could swim well enough to attempt to save him by plunging in the water after him.

The young man had on a long overcoat, which he quickly divested himself, and cast it to the man, who was only two or three feet from the breakwater. For a few moments the man made no attempt to lay hold of the coat and he went down for the second time. In a few seconds his head and arms again came to the surface, and this time he took hold of the coat. By this time three or four men who had noticed the commotion came and assisted us in pulling the man to safety.

An officer came upon the scene and assisted in carrying the man to a shed. We wrapped the man in a blanket and gave him some brandy. Then the ambulance, with Jones and Sullivan, came and took him away. The police are not entitled to any credit for saving this person's life; that belongs principally to the man from Cape Girardeau and CHILDREN AND FLATS.

Chicago, May 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—There appear some complaints about landlords and their agents not being willing to rent flats to families with children, and in some cases charging higher rates to such families. This is nothing strange. Many parents permit their children unrestrained freedom and they not only ruin everything, but are a continual nuisance. I have seen vacated rooms that were a veritable fright. Window sills cut up, tags and nails driven in the wood work, walls and doors scratched up, and plaster dug out.

I lived below a family at one time whose boy would run across their rooms and jump over some article and make things rattle in our flat below. I was glad to move out.

There are parents who feel that since they pay rent they can do as they please without regarding the rights of others and the experience of many a landlord is not only interesting, but discouraging. Even grown ups will strike matches on doors and door frames and ruin them. I have seen large nails driven through door panels, splitting the panel.

REPUBLICANS SET DATE FOR CONFAB

CUMMINS FATHER OF PLAN

Will Be Presidential Candidate in 1916 if Scheme Works as Anticipated.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Reorganization of the Republican party under the direction of the progressive Republicans is expected to follow a conference, to take place in Chicago on next Monday.

The man responsible for the conference is Senator Cummins of Iowa, who was a candidate for the presidential nomination before the Republican convention last June.

The Iowa senator proposed in November that a party convention be held next fall for the purpose of removing the evils of party control to which the voters offered such emphatic objection.

Among these was the reduction of southern representation in the quadrennial conventions and the recognition of the right of the people of the states to elect delegates in the manner they choose.

Leaders Liked Cummins' Plan.

The Cummins proposal appealed to men like Senators Root, Crane, Penrose, and others, who recognized that if the Republican party were to exist some concessions to the people would have to be made. But they wanted reorganization with their continued control, a condition which Senator Cummins and those of the same view appreciated would not meet with public approval.

So Senator Cummins has devised the scheme of a conference, to be attended only by progressive Republicans, men like himself, and his colleagues, Kenyon of Iowa, Borah of Idaho, Crawford of South Dakota, and La Follette of Wisconsin.

It is not at all certain that La Follette will go to Chicago. He takes the view that the time is inopportune and that the proposed convention should not be held until next year. As a matter of fact, there seems to be some personal politics entering into the arrangements for the conference.

See La Follette as Candidate.

It is the general impression here that Senator La Follette will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1916. He was a candidate last year and he became angry at Col. Roosevelt for not supporting him in his ambition and irritated at Senator Cummins because the latter also decided to throw his hat in the ring.

If Senator Cummins should be reëlected to the United States senate next year, undoubtedly he will be a formidable candidate for the Republican nomination, and the chances are that he would have a stronger following than the Wisconsin man. If Senator Cummins should be defeated probably he would not be a prominent figure in the nomination race.

Hilles to Dodge Conference.

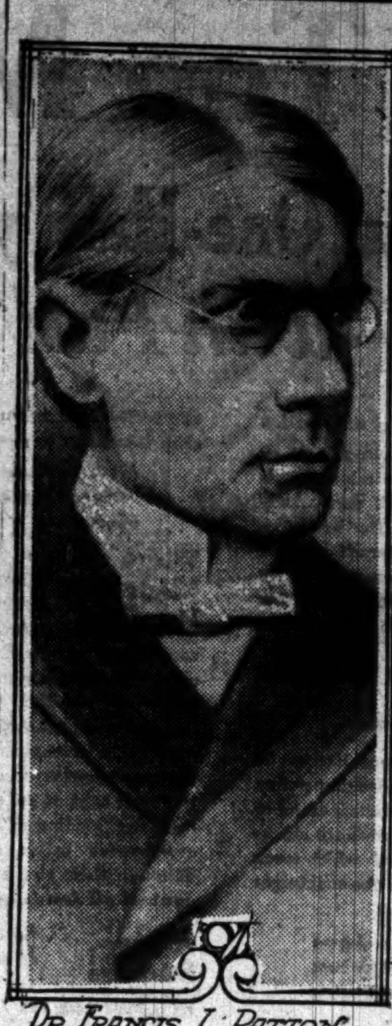

Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee, who by reason of his service as secretary to the president during the last administration, is regarded as closely identified with the Taft wing of the party, will not participate in the conference at Chicago, but it is through the national Republican committee that the call for the proposed convention must be issued.

Failure to recognize the committee would mean naturally the refusal of the men in control to give their sanction to the plan of reorganization. This would leave the party as divided as it is at the present time.

It is expected that the decision not to invite conservatives to the Chicago conference will irritate the latter and cause them to look askance upon any resolutions it may adopt.

Senator Cummins will arrive in Chicago on Saturday.

Resigns His Place at Princeton.

DR. FRANCIS L. PATTON

Princeton, N. J., May 5.—Francis Landey Patton resigned as president of the Princeton Theological seminary at the annual commencement meeting of the board of directors this afternoon. Benjamin Breckinridge Warfield, senior member of the seminary faculty, will act as president until Dr. Patton's successor is elected.

Advancing years and failing eyesight were given by Dr. Patton as reasons for tendering his resignation, which is to take effect at the expiration of his term on Aug. 1.

Dr. Patton, who is 70 years old, was educated at the University of Toronto and graduated from the Princeton Theological seminary in 1865 after which he became connected with McCormick Theological seminary at Chicago. He came to Princeton in 1881.

In 1888 Dr. Patton was elected president of Princeton university and throughout his administration continued his lectures in the seminary. He resigned the presidency of the university in 1902 and was succeeded by Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Patton being elected president of the seminary at the same time.

WILL TAX STOCK OF CHICAGOANS

Board of Assessors Plans to Find Out Holdings of Cook County Residents.

MANY FAIL TO SCHEDULE.

Shareholders in Sears, Roebuck & Co. Found to Be Absent Minded.

There is going to be a grand involuntary revision of personal tax schedules in Cook county, if the board of assessors has its way, and if results coincide with predictions the county will have an increased revenue next year.

Secretary Frank W. Koraleski of the assessing board intends to find out the stock holdings of various absent minded Chicagoans, and to insert their value in a section of the schedule usually ignored.

He has written the secretary of state of New Jersey for a list of persons residing in Cook county who own stock in corporations organized under the laws of that state.

Case in Point Comes Up.

A case in point came up yesterday afternoon. L. E. Asher, 831 West Adams street, had scheduled personal property to the amount of about $1,900. Mr. Koraleski had discovered that he owned 2,840 shares of Sears, Roebuck & Co. stock and summoned him to explain. The par value of the stock would be $248,000, and Sears-Roebuck yesterday sold for 172. Mr. Asher did not want to list these shares, but finally turned in a schedule for $240,000.

A list of the stockholders of Sears, Roebuck & Co. was made public recently. It disclosed that twenty-two persons living in Chicago or Cook county each owned more than 1,000 shares of this stock. A comparison with the sworn schedules showed that not one of the twenty-two had listed his stock.

This includes Julius Rosenwald, the president, who is credited with owning 147,701 shares of the 400,000 shares of common stock, or more than one-third.

Family Owns 165,950 Shares.

The total holdings of the Rosenwald family in this country and Germany total 165,950, Mr. Koraleski has been informed, much of which is not assessable in this county.

The other twenty holders of more than 1,000 shares of Sears-Roebuck stock who failed to schedule that fact, according to the assessors' information, are:

Max Adler	7,808	Nast & Co.	1,391
Mrs. S. R. Adler	1,040	A. N. Rosenwald	2,596
Fin. Barrell & Co.	1,994	M. S. Rosenwald	2,170
A. G. Becker	1,330	Rothschild & Co.	1,569
Clem., Curtis & Co.	1,347	Richard W. Sears	4,140
O. C. Doering	7,040	Hettie B. Skinner	1,000
S. L. Eisendrath	1,000	A. O. Slaughter &
Selma Eisendrath	1,040	Co.	1,040
August Gatzert	2,040	Sarah Stonehill	1,232
Albert H. Loeb	11,664	Julius E. Weil	1,017
L. Metzenberg	1,046

All these will be asked to explain why they did not list their Sears-Roebuck stock.

CONDEMNS ROCKEFELLER PLAN

Senator Works Denounces Effort to Incorporate 'Foundation.'

CALLS IT PRODUCT OF TRUST.

Sees Scheme to "Farm Out" Power to Educate with Tainted Wealth.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Efforts in congress to incorporate the $100,000,000 Rockefeller foundation were scored today by Senator Works, who declared them a "proposal to 'farm out' to John D. Rockefeller and his associates the right and power to educate the people of the country with money accumulated by criminal means." Senator Works' statement was made in connection with a speech he delivered in the senate on trusts and combinations the existence of which he blamed to the high protective tariff policy.

"The extent to which this may be carried out is practically unlimited," he said. "The corporations and institutions of learning which may be established throughout the country in the hands of the people who will be subservient to the interests and views of Mr. Rockefeller and his associates are without number or limitation.

"We do not want our children to be taught the ways nor the methods of John D. Rockefeller or his kind, nor to be generous with ill gotten gains, nor to touch, handle, or profit by gold that should blister the fingers of the man who has accumulated it by extortion, oppression, and crime, and is now attempting to rid himself of it by giving it away, nor to become the receivers of stolen goods in the name and under the guise of charity."

RESENTS BEING CALLED RICH; JUST ORDINARY MAN—COPLEY.

Answers Critic in House by Saying He Worked in Ditch and That His Wealth Is Personal Matter.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Reference to himself as a wealthy man was denounced by Representative Copley, the Aurora, Ill., gas magnate, in the house today. Representative Humphrey, a Washington standpatter, was reading a newspaper article which described the Progressive member as divided on issues.

"How is it possible that a party so filled with righteousness and wisdom," said Humphrey, "can fail to stand together on the right side of this tariff bill? This article speaks of a rich man in the party; but that is nothing unusual. Look at Perkins, look at McCormick. It is easy to serve two masters when you know how."

Previously Humphrey had read the article which mentioned Copley as "the rich man."

"If I am wealthy, that is a personal matter," responded Mr. Copley. "I have worked for my living. I have dug in a ditch, and I am just the same sort of fellow now that I used to be. I have also worked side by side with bank presidents and I am proud of it."

Says Mass, Despite Instructions to Contrary; Hopes to See Toledo Pilgrims.

ROME, May 5.—Pope Pius has entirely recovered from his recent illness. Cardinal Diomede Falconio, who is an American citizen and was for several years apostolic delegate at Washington, found the pope today in excellent health, bright, clear headed, keenly interested in affairs and eager to discuss all subjects of the hour.

Cardinal Falconio was to have been received by the pope on April 7, the day the pontiff became ill. Of necessity the audience was postponed.

The pontiff today expressed profound regret that he had been unable to receive the American pilgrimage headed by Bishop Schrembs of Toledo.

May Yet Receive Americans.

The cardinal remarked that Bishop Schrembs and six American priests were still in Europe and very desirous of seeing the pontiff. The pope replied that he would be pleased to receive them. On this the cardinal suggested that he would try to reach them in London before they sailed, so that they might return to Rome for an audience.

Having already remained half an hour with the pope, Cardinal Falconio took his leave, fearing he might weary the pontiff, but the latter detained him, observing that he had been condemned to such long silence that he felt a true pleasure in talking.

Steals March; Says Mass.

"My seclusion was pushed to such an extreme," said the pope, "that I was almost prevented from speaking with my own sisters. Likewise, I was dissuaded from saying mass, but this morning, without asking the doctor's permission, I celebrated the divine sacrifice."

Real Waltham accuracy is furnished by

Waltham Automobile Timepieces

Here is a timepiece designed expressly for motor cars—the first for the purpose. Heretofore automobile clocks have been adaptations. This Waltham Timepiece was built especially for automobiles. It is similar in design to the Marine Chronometer which the U. S. Government buys from us for war vessels and also to the jeweler's chronometers, 2000 of which are supplying Waltham time throughout America.

It will resist jars and hard usage and will run so accurately that you can set your own watch and clocks from it. All the accuracy of Waltham watches is in this timepiece and we stand back of it as a marvel of precision.

The 8-day movement is adjusted to temperature and will not be affected by the extremes of heat and cold to which automobiles are subjected.

It has a dial indicator which gives warning three days before the timepiece runs down. You can also choose between a raised dial and one which is flush with the dash. In its best form this Waltham Automobile Timepiece costs $25. It may be obtained alone or in combination with speedometers.

If you are buying a new car be sure it is Waltham equipped and if you already have a car you will get comfort and pride from installing Waltham accuracy.

Sanatogen has guided many thousands to better Health and Strength

You must judge the value of Sanatogen by the experience of those who use it. The claims made for Sanatogen as a food for the nerves—as a reconstructor of blood and tissue—as a rebuilder of nervous vitality—are based on what thousands of men and women have found to be true through its use—and what over 16,000 physicians have proved by experiment and observation of its effects.

There is impressive evidence of Sanatogen's value in the recorded experiences of medical authorities. One of Europe's foremost physicians, Prof. C. von Noorden, states that from his experience he considers Sanatogen an excellent albuminous preparation, valuable especially in anæmia. Dr. Kerzl, physician to the emperor of Austria, says he has been using Sanatogen with splendid results and recommends it continually because he is convinced it has conspicuous merit.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee states that after a thorough trial he is "convinced of its merits as a food and tonic. Its beneficial effects are beyond doubt." George Ade tersely states he is convinced of Sanatogen's value. David Balasco, eminent dramatic author, who has to meet tremendous demands upon his nerves and vitality, writes of the "remarkable results obtained from Sanatogen." He speaks of its "invigorating effect upon the nerves" and vouches for its recuperating qualities.

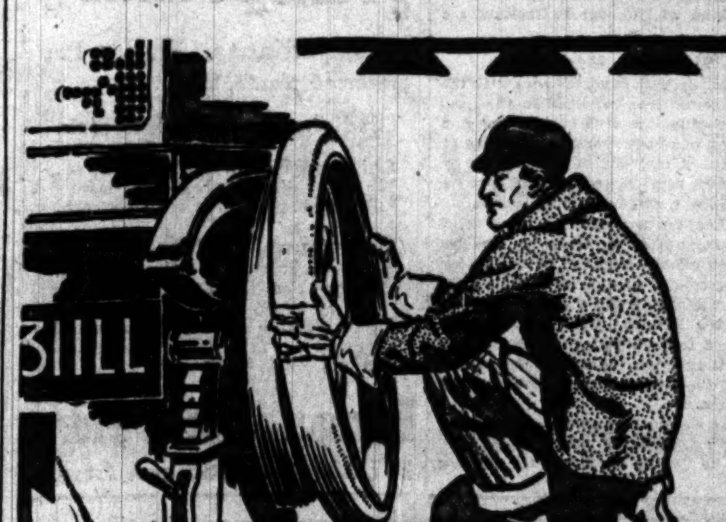

Such are the results of using Sanatogen and such are the happy experiences of those who rely upon its recuperative power. If you need a tonic and reconstructive, can you make a mistake by placing your faith in Sanatogen?

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

HIGH COURT AIDS INJURED RAIL MAN

TECHNICAL PLEAS VAIN.

Employe Lost Both Legs Six Years Ago Because of Foreman's Negligence.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—After fighting his suit through a maze of technical opposition all the way to the United States Supreme court, Haines L. Hackett, a switchman at Monon, Ind., is to receive $30,000 and more than $5,000 interest for the loss of both his legs in the discharge of his duties six years ago.

Sweeping aside the clutter of technicalities the Supreme court upheld the verdict rendered in an Illinois court against the Chicago, Indianapolis, and Louisville Railway company.

Hackett lost his legs through the negligence of his yard foreman in a switching operation. His attorney, Morse Ives, brought a damage suit in the Superior court of Cook county and a jury awarded the switchman $30,000. The verdict was upheld by the Illinois Appellate court. The railroad appealed to the Federal Supreme court, contending the unconstitutionality of the Indiana railroad injury law on technical grounds.

Court Demolishes Road's Plea.

The company contended it ought not to pay the award because the Indiana law makes no distinction between employes in hazardous and nonhazardous positions. The Supreme court demolished this objection as untenable.

"To hold that the negligence of employés directing and controlling movements of the train is not negligence of one in charge of the train within the fair purpose and meaning of the act would be to make the act meaningless as to the most dangerous class of work which falls to the lot of railroad employés," says the opinion with reference to another technical objection.

The company also pleaded the Indiana act had been superseded by the federal employers' liability act, but the Supreme court points out that the latter act was declared void and could supersede nothing. The opinion was unanimous and was delivered by Associate Justice Lurton.

City of Chicago Wins Litigation.

The Haskins & Sells litigation against the city of Chicago terminated today in a decision of the Supreme court declining to review the action favorable to the city in the lower courts.

Haskins & Sells, public accountants, beginning in 1901, systematized the special assessment records of the city running back to 1871. Property owners owed the city more than $8,000,000 on these assessments, and $500,000 would have been uncollectable without the recovery of the records. For this work the firm was paid the contract price, $65,000.

Elijah Watt Sells, surviving partner, sued the city, alleging breach of contract in the failure of the municipal officials to furnish all the records. To supply the deficiency from the county and state records, Sells said he was put to an expense of $100,000. The federal District court decided adversely to the claim and was sustained by the Court of Appeals.

PICK HEAD FOR COURT POLICE.

Juvenile Tribunal Authorities Have Sergt. Rogers Put in Charge of 43 Patrolmen on Special Duty.

Another step toward efficiency in the Juvenile court is the appointment of Sergt. Martin F. Rogers to the command of all police assigned to juvenile work.

"There are forty-three policemen assigned to this work," said J. D. Hunter, chief probation officer. "Hitherto they were under the divided authority of this office and their captains. The result was they did not receive due credit for excellent work.

"I am contemplating other changes for the benefit of the service. A change already made is the specializing of the seventy-six assistant probation officers."

Fined for Beating Horse.

NEEDLESS NOISES BESET CHICAGO

clamor of Chicago finds it hard to get along without a constant stimulant. Such a one retired from business five years ago, bought a plantation in the peaceful and quiet mountain country of Virginia, and settled down to enjoy the remainder of his days. He found that he could not sleep. When the cool silence of the night settled down over the farm something within his head woke up and began to throb. Doctors did him no good. He counted sheep, wiggled his fingers, tried all the devices for fighting insomnia in vain.

Finally, being a Chicago man and therefore passing shrewd, he diagnosed and successfully treated his own case. Out at the barn he had a gas engine which was used to run the food chopper. While in operation it popped every second with a loud and boisterous noise. Just outside the barn stood a shady old apple tree. Under this tree the man who couldn't sleep swung a comfortable hammock.

Thereafter, whenever he found himself in the clutches of insomnia, he got up, started the gas engine, and lay down in the hammock to be quickly wooed to restful slumber by its dear, old, reminiscent explosions.

THERE are a good many anti-noise ordinances in Chicago. There is one which many people will be surprised to learn forbids peddlers to cry their wares in the streets and alleys. Every "old rags an' old iron" collector, every purveyor of strawberries and other fruits who daily chants his wares all over the city is violating it.

There is another forbidding the running of automobiles and motorcycles with a cut out muffler. Only recently there was a threat from the city hall that this ordinance would be enforced. There is a third which forbids the blowing of the whistle of a steam boat, except when signaling a bridge to open or in a case of great and imminent danger.

Last Saturday morning between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock the whistle of a tug boat on the river blew terrific blasts at very frequent intervals. Its clamor was so far reaching and tremendous that people living two miles away were awakened from sound slumber. It may have been that said tug boat was in great danger. It is possible, on the other hand, that the second mate or one of the firemen failed to report for duty until the captain considered it necessary to order him, in a somewhat noisy manner, to hurry his lingering footsteps.

ONE of the biggest noise nuisances inside the loop is the pneumatic riveter, clanging and clattering away all day in its work of nailing together the steel beams of newly rising skyscrapers. In offices within half a block of these gigantic and tireless woodpeckers it is often necessary to close the windows in order to hear ordinary conversation.

Bowing before the altar of progress and material improvement it probably nearly approaches sacrilege even to inquire whether it is not possible to fit the riveter with some device which shall partly muffle its nerve racking beat.

Another addition to the downtown turmoil is the rumble and grind of the elevated trains creaking endlessly around the loop. By whatever means secured, it is certain that in many of the European cities the elevated trains run with comparative noiselessness. As an example of the effect of this constant clatter in the depreciation of property it may be cited that shortly after the Boston elevated road was opened a verdict for over $60,000 damages was secured against the company on the sole ground that the noise made by its trains had ruined the business of an adjoining theater.

MEANWHILE the city itself is a considerable offender. In addition to equipping its crossing policemen with the shrillest of possible whistles, it has set up gongs at certain of the bridge approaches, the sound of which is fiendish enough to drive people to jump into the river rather than avoid it.

It reads like a joke that the only places in Chicago where even unnecessary noises are specifically prohibited are in the zones of quiet about the hospitals. Elsewhere, by implication, at least, one is at freedom to go as far and as loudly as he likes.

STATE ASSEMBLY FACES BUSY DAY

FOUR FIGHTS AT NIGHT.

Boxing Program to Be Given Legislators in Springfield by Friends of Measure.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Four matters of major importance are scheduled as the features for tomorrow, the first real day of legislation during this general assembly. The quartet of measures which "are up" are:

The initiative and referendum resolution, already passed by the senate, reported favorably by the house judiciary committee, and to be debated tomorrow in the house committee of the whole.

The Gorman bill, repealing the entire state civil service law, on second reading in the house, where the attempt will be made to strike out the enacting clause.

The bill amending the Juul law, wanted by Mayor Harrison and the city administration of Chicago to help the city out of its present financial difficulty, now on second reading in the house, and which may be loaded down with "downstate" amendments in the hope of crippling the entire Juul law, now highly unpopular in the outside counties.

The Ettelson private bank bill, which will have its first tryout before the senate banks and banking committee—the first real showdown in many years between the private banking interests and the friends of state supervision.

Many Hearings on Bills.

Besides these are many committee meetings of considerable importance and hearings on the vocational schools, uniform text books, big railroad bills, and propositions covering the whole gamut of proposed legislation.

The program will conclude with a card of four boxing bouts, to be produced tomorrow night for the benefit of the governor and state officers and members of the legislature as a boost for the pending Carroll-Hill boxing commission bill.

Gov. Dunne is prepared to take active command of the initiative and referendum forces, although it is improbable that he will speak himself. The plan is not to force a vote in the house tomorrow on the Piercy resolution. Field managers of the initiative and referendum are not confident that they can line up 102 votes for the resolution.

Fight on I. and R.

The Initiative and Referendum league makes its fight straight away on the proposition that a vote for the resolution is a vote for the constitutional amendment, and in the critical situation which has arisen this has served to hurt, rather than help.

A conservative element had been willing to submit the question to the people is now indisposed to respond to the whip that is being used by the ultra-enthusiasts in the initiative and referendum camp. The speakers scheduled to talk for the resolution include Samuel Alschuler of Aurora, Fred J. Kern of Belleville, Daniel L. Cruice of Chicago, John H. Walker of Danville, representing the miners, and Carl Vrooman of Bloomington. The opposition will be represented by Douglas Sutherland of the Civic federation, B. M. Chiperfield, former Speaker Charles Adkins, and George T. Buckingham of Chicago.

Plan Fight on Merit Law.

Representative Hull, in accordance with the vote of his committee, reported in the Gorman bill repealing the civil service law and it will be up to the proposition of going to third reading. A majority vote tomorrow by friends of civil service would knock out its enacting clause, a move now contemplated.

Senator Compton has called a meeting of the senate committee on banks to consider the Ettelson private banking bill. Senator Compton, personally, is against private bank regulation, but with a full attendance of the committee the Ettelson bill should muster a majority of four in its favor. In previous sessions similar measures always were killed by the private banks' lobby, never having reached a hearing.

The senate elections committee is to get to a final vote on the Keller case. The McCormick case in the house is set for hearing Wednesday.

FREE LIST KEPT UNCHANGED

House Democrats Vote Down All Tariff Amendments.

SCOFFS AT CRY OF "RUIN."

Underwood Says Arguments by His Opponents Are Baseless.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The free list of the Underwood tariff bill, with its Democratic promises of reductions in the cost of living, furnished the grist for the legislative mills of the house today.

The Republicans attacked hundreds of items in the free list of the Underwood bill. In almost every instance they argued that the admission of the various articles free would "ruin the industry" and would not reduce the cost of living. Majority Leader Underwood pointed out that this argument was inconsistent.

"In order to ruin the industries," he said, "as you gentlemen seem bound to do, it would be necessary to reduce the price the producers receive. This would inevitably result in a reduction to the consumer."

Underwood Expedites Matters.

In order to eliminate unnecessary debate Mr. Underwood, after the free list had been one-half completed, obtained an agreement to pass the paragraphs which were not in controversy without debate. The disputed paragraphs were then taken up in order.

Republican opposition centered about the paragraphs admitting free coal, iron ore, cotton, wool, wheat, wheat flour, corn, buckwheat, wood pulp and print paper, meats, lumber, leather, potatoes, works of art, hair, steel rails, barbed wire, and dairy products.

All of the amendments offered were argued in a more or less perfunctory fashion, and the majority, forced to remain in their seats in the hall where the temperature soared, drowned each succeeding Republican proposition in a deluge of "noes."

Plan Fight for Hearings.

A hard fight will be made in the senate to force the finance committee to hold hearings on the tariff bill.

Senator La Follette is to lead the fight and will be followed by all Republicans, reactionary and progressive alike. He will demand that these hearings be open. Later on it probably will develop that this fight is the forerunner of a general effort by the Republicans to delay the passage of the tariff measure, in the hope that they may wear down the determination of the president to insist on the passage of the house bill.

The senate will insist that wheat be placed on the free list and that the duty be removed from cattle.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Met at noon. President Wilson submitted nominations for confirmation. Senator Pomerene introduced a resolution providing for investigation of civil service conditions. Senator Oliver introduced a resolution calling for all papers and information relative to request for resignation of Collector Hill at port of Philadelphia. Senator Works made an address on trusts and combinations. Adjourned 5:14 p. m. until 2 o'clock Tuesday.

HOUSE.

Met at 12 a. m. and resumed reading of tariff bill for amendment under five minute debate rule. All amendments to free list defeated.

Liability Insurance Costs Too Much

We can save you One-Half your Liability Insurance Cost—with Full Protection

Agents and Brokers As a rule, when you seek advice or information on the subject of insurance, you invariably go to your good friend, the insurance broker. If he says "all right," you take his word as final, particularly as regards employers' liability insurance, into the mysteries of which you never have had time to delve for yourself. Please bear in mind that the broker's earnings are paid by policy holders, since stock company premiums include a further "premium" of from 50 to 65 per cent with which to pay commissions and other heavy operating expenses. Consequently any suggestion from the broker is bound to be prompted by a more or less selfish motive.

But don't blame the broker; blame the system.

15,000 of Them And there are 15,000 insurance agents in Chicago alone who are thus supported by policy holders. But even the exorbitant loading of from 50 to 65 per cent dwindles into mere insignificance alongside the further increase of 100 to 800 per cent which stock companies have added to liability premiums since the enactment of the Workmen's Compensation Law—

Despite the fact that best judgment shows liability of employers to have increased by but 50 per cent at most. In fact, in some States the losses have not increased at all.

This is how you can know for yourself all about your liability insurance, and save money as well:

In Kansas In Kansas manufacturers grew weary of paying these arbitrary rates. Liability Insurance already was enough of a mystery without having to pay for the lack of knowledge. So, what did they do?

They Acted They looked about—found that big concerns like the Standard Oil Company, The International Harvester Company, and other with payrolls running into the millions were each carrying their own liability insurance at cost, because the size of their individual payrolls determined the amount to be set aside each year to meet losses.

"Why Not We?" "If they can do it, why not we?" asked these Kansas employers. "Individually, our payrolls may not be up in the millions, but collectively they are. Let's get together for combined protection."

They did.

The Result After paying premiums at the new rate, which did not include the big margin they formerly had been charged by stock companies to cover heavy expenses—after all this, and after meeting all losses—there still remained 39 per cent of what they had paid in for protection—which remainder was then divided among them, by a 25 per cent cash payment, and by a further credit of the balance to the individual account of each member whose membership has been in force a full year.

All told their liability protection under this reciprocal plan cost them less than half of what they formerly had paid.

What Made It Possible In this Exchange, known in Kansas as the Kansas Employers InterInsurers Exchange, and in Illinois as the Illinois Indemnity Exchange, the subscribers join forces for the carrying of the liability insurance of each, at actual cost to each. Everything is simplified by being arranged through an Attorney-in-fact. Each subscriber's liability is individual and not joint AND several as under a partnership arrangement. Under contract between subscribers and the Exchange the management or operating expenses are absolutely limited to 50 per cent of the premium income. Compare that with the excessive loading of 50 to 65 per cent used by stock companies before a penny is available to meet losses. Through their own appointed Board of Trustees, subscribers control all funds at all times.

A Big Success So successful was the plan in Kansas that it is now offered to Illinois employers. In fact, the Illinois Indemnity Exchange already numbers over 125 Illinois manufacturers. So successful has been the plan that other concerns are already applying for permission to offer liability protection along similar lines. But while they emulate our plan, they cannot show our experience and results.

Open to You (1) The plan is open to you, whereby you can cut the cost of your liability insurance in half—(2) have a more prompt and more satisfactory settlement of claims—(3) get back yourself, in cash, the unused portion of your premiums—(4) control your liability indemnity account as you would any other—(5) get from under the excessive and arbitrary overhead heretofore charged through ignorance of insurance conditions and methods—(6) pay for your own liability protection at cost, just as you now buy raw material at the lowest figure.

Write Now; Right Now This has meant a big shake-up in the buying and selling of liability insurance. Our entire organization numbers over 275 representative manufacturers. The time to learn all about it is NOW because the plan has proven itself a success. Finding out costs you nothing. There's no obligation on your part whatsoever. There will be no annoyance. The plan is as dignified as it is successful. Simply sign and mail the attached coupon today, and all the facts will be placed before you. As a good business man this plan will interest you, because you will get more than "broker" information—you will get real money-saving facts.

Found Only in the Alco

THE biggest thing to find in any car is its "road capacity"—its ability on the open road. Some engineers call it "road ability", but they all know where to look for it. They push down the accelerator and speed up the motor. They listen. They seek to find the point where the motor "labors". They call this the "point of vibration".

In some cars it is manifested at 28 miles per hour; others at 35; some at 44; and so on. It is more pronounced in some than in others. Seldom is found a car without a point of vibration at some speed. A motor without it is the ambition of every engineer young and old; (for vibration means wear, shortening of life, loss of power, loss of speed, discomfort to the passenger.)

A number of engineers decisively tell us they have found no vibration in the motor of the Alco Six. They have sped up the motor, dropped it, sped it up again, in the shops, on the open road; have worked every little trick known to the engineer; and each time it has responded—absolutely effortless. They tell us this is the best six cylinder motor they have ever driven. We have long felt so. Let us tell you why.

This motor was first built in Lyons, France, in the shops of the Berliet. It is today largely the old Berliet six cylinder motor—designed and developed by French engineers.

We put this motor in the first six cylinder car we ever built and we have never changed. In 1909 it won for us the race for the Vanderbilt cup. In 1910 it repeated. This is a big reason why anyone buying a car this Spring should examine the Alco.

SUFFRAGIST BILL UP IN COMMONS

Chance for English Women to Get Vote Probably Will Be Decided Today.

BIG BOMB PLOT FAILS.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 5.—The struggle for woman suffrage began again in the house of commons today when the second reading was moved of Willoughby Dickinson's women's franchise bill. Whether this measure, which proposes to enfranchise 3,000,000 women, shall be given a fighting chance or the whole question buried for the lifetime of the present parliament will be settled tomorrow night.

While the house of commons was considering this question the leaders of the militant suffragets were being tried in the Bow street court on charges of conspiracy under the malicious damage act. The prosecutor, in opening the case, described "Gen." Drummond and Miss Pankhurst as "violent women," who were plotting "a reign of terror in London."

Suffraget Outrages Continue.

The suffraget outrages continued today. A nitroglycerin bomb was found among the parcels in the Southwestern district postoffice, which, according to the police, was powerful enough to have destroyed the entire building where some 200 men and women are employed. The bomb was discovered by some of the mail sorters.

Other militants, evading police precautions, entered the offices of the newspaper Standard which has been attacking them. They smashed the furniture and other property and made an attack on Mr. Wilkins, a subeditor. The police finally ejected them.

Miss Nina Bayle, who in a speech at a meeting of the Actresses' Franchise league last Friday night said the British government was composed of "cads and cowards," was arrested, with Miss Anna Munro, another militant suffraget, while attempting to hold a meeting in Hyde Park this evening.

Begin Arguments on Bill.

Arguments both for and against equal suffrage were advanced in the commons.

Mr. Dickinson, in moving the second reading of the bill, argued that to refuse women parliamentary suffrage rights in order to punish a few criminals, such as the members of the Women's Social and Political union, would be unjust.

Arthur Cecil Beck, another Liberal member, in speaking for the rejection of the bill, claimed that the fact that all the outrages and crimes had been committed by women of education and high character showed the inclusion of such women among the voters would be an absolutely destructive blow at parliamentary and constitutional government.

Viscount Wolmer, speaking in behalf of the bill, evoked cheers by his condemnation of "those irresponsible lunatics who are carrying on the militant movement."

The Rt. Hon. Charles B. Stuart-Wortley, another supporter of the bill, said:

What Measure Provides.

"1. Every woman who

"(A) If she were a man would be entitled to be registered as a parliamentary elector in respect of a household qualification within the meaning of the representation act of 1884; or

"(B) Is the wife of a man entitled to be registered in respect of a household qualification and has resided in the qualifying premises during the period required by law to enable a person to be so registered—

"Shall be entitled to be registered and when registered to vote as a parliamentary elector in the constituency wherein the qualifying premises are situate.

"2. A woman shall not be entitled to be registered unless she has attained the age of 25 years.

"3. A woman shall not be disqualified by reason of marriage from being registered and voting."

The parties are so hopelessly divided, and even the members of the cabinet are so widely set asunder on the question that a forecast of the outcome of the debate is most difficult.

Women Called Violent.

Great interest was taken in the police court proceedings against the suffraget leaders. Archibald Bodkin, the prosecuting counsel for the treasury, in opening the case, described the law of conspiracy and said the defendants had been constantly meeting together.

In illustrating the control exercised by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst over the "wild women, Mr. Bodkin called attention to her declaration of a truce while parliament was discussing the government's franchise bill. At a word from her, he said, militancy stopped, only to be resumed at her command when the bill was withdrawn.

"The doings of these miscreants," he continued, "were published in the newspaper, the Suffragette, which is an organ of crime."

The documents seized at the headquarters of the militant suffragets included receipts for money paid to suffragets convicted of crimes, which apparently qualified them to be placed on the pension list.

Balk at Job Expense.

Another letter read by Mr. Bodkin referred to a proposal by the suffragets to damage some stockyards in Great Britain. The cost of the scheme, $100,000, was probably the reason why it was not immediately accepted. The letter said: "The results of the job will be splendid."

In concluding his address for the prosecution Mr. Bodkin asked the magistrate to send all the defendants for trial at the sessions. The magistrate remanded most of the accused again until Thursday. Three of the women, however, were admitted to bail in $5,000 each.

SAYS OFFICER INSULTED HER.

Policeman William Donnelly of the Chicago avenue station yesterday heard his wife accuse one of his fellow policemen of having attempted to mistreat her. All three appeared before Municipal Judge Mahoney. Detective John Murphy of the Warren avenue station exhibited a bandaged hand and a lacerated face, caused either by the teeth or the hatpins of Mrs. Donnelly. Murphy said he found Mrs. Donnelly intoxicated at West Van Buren street and South Kedzie avenue. Donnelly testified his wife never drinks to excess. The judge continued the case till May 9.

ASKS DIVORCE; ALLEGES ABUSE.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Barnett Says She Helped Husband Acquire Business Which Nets $10,000 a Year.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Barnett, who said she has helped her husband gain a business which nets him $10,000 a year, filed a bill for divorce yesterday in the Superior court, charging cruelty. She said he frequently twisted her arms and wrists.

HOYNE RIGID IN FELONY CASES

OHM'S PUPILS SENTENCED

Young Robbers Who Name Policeman as "Fagin" Fail to Gain Leniency.

State's Attorney Hoyne's new rule, "no waivers on felonies," went into effect strong yesterday. Assistant State's Attorney Dwight McKay and J. K. Murphy announced in Judge Kersten's courtroom that the practice of allowing defendants to plead guilty on charges less grave than those on which they were held would be discontinued.

The announcement was made in connection with the pleading of four members of the robber gang of young men, who charged in their confessions that Patrolman William J. Ohm, now under suspension, was their leader.

Held Up 100 Saloons.

The young men were under indictment for robbing with a dangerous weapon. In their confessions they told of holding up more than 100 saloons. If tried and found guilty the defendants would be liable to sentences of from one year to life in the penitentiary. If the charge were changed to larceny, without mention of the dangerous weapon, the attorneys offered to have their clients plead guilty. Such a charge would mean a sentence of from one year to fourteen years in either the penitentiary or the reformatory.

Assistant State's Attorney McKay had examined eleven jurors when there was a change of heart on the part of the defendants. Homer S. Reed and Benjamin Wilhelm entered pleas of guilty to robbery with a dangerous weapon. Wilhelm was sentenced to Pontiac reformatory and sentencing of the others was postponed.

Hoyne Demands More Money.

A clash between State's Attorney Hoyne and the county board yesterday was precipitated when the prosecutor sent the board a letter complaining of the lack of proper funds for investigations. He resolved to "place the responsibility for any failures of justice where they belong—upon the shoulders of the county board."

"In preparing the budget for 1913," replied President McCormick, "the board conceded practically every request you made and it appropriated $40,000 to cover the expenses of any investigations you deem it wise to make. This amount is far in excess, I understand, of any amount granted by any previous board to the state's attorney's office."

BOARD AWARDS FIRE MEDALS

Leaps to Fleeing Horses After Driver Is Hurled to Death.

Chicago's bravest fireman during 1912 was Paul H. E. Reimer, assistant engineer of company No. 113, according to a decision of the board of award yesterday, when they presented him with the Tree medal.

The decision of the board was made known in a letter to Mayor Harrison.

Climbs to Fleeing Team.

Reimer on May 9, 1912, climbed over the engine, the driver of which had been hurled to the pavement and killed, and, letting himself down between the horses, seized the reins and stopped the team just in time to prevent it crashing into several other vehicles.

Three other members of the department were given honorable mention for risking their lives.

Enters Gas Filled Caisson.

Charles E. Rippe, truckman, hook and ladder company No. 17, was given honorable mention for capturing a man armed with a revolver who had just shot a man.

CURIOSITY SEEKERS BARRED FROM JACK JOHNSON TRIAL.

Judge Carpenter Issues Order Limiting Admittance to Relatives of Defendant and Newspaper Men.

Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Carpenter in the federal court on indictments charging violation of the Mann act against trafficking in women. The court issued orders barring from the courtroom all but relatives of the defendants and newspaper men.

The negro is under nine indictments charging transportation of Belle Schreiber, a white woman, from Pittsburgh to Chicago on Oct. 16, 1910.

Fall Kills Elevator Operator.

Joseph Wilm of 10804 Avenue N, Hegewisch, an elevator operator in the plant of the Schwill Malting company, One Hundred and Third street and Indianapolis avenue, was killed yesterday when his elevator fell from the fourth floor.

MAJ. M'CLAUGHRY RESIGNS OFFICE

"Humane Warden" of Federal Prison at Leavenworth Ends Long Labor.

AGE GIVEN AS REASON.

Former Superintendent of Chicago Police Won Fame by His Methods.

Leavenworth, Kas., May 5.—Maj. Robert Wilson McClaughry, for the last fourteen years warden of the federal penitentiary here and one of the best known criminologists in the United States, forwarded his resignation to the department of justice today. In making known this fact the warden, who is 74 years old, said he thought that he "had been on the job long enough."

Warden McClaughry served fourteen years as warden of the Illinois state prison at Joliet, ending this service in 1888, when he was appointed superintendent of the industrial reformatory at Huntington, Pa. Three years later he became superintendent of the Chicago police department, and later was superintendent of the Illinois state reformatory at Pontiac.

Warden McClaughry was known as the "humane warden." His advice to his subordinates was "treat a prisoner as if he was a man—make a man of him." Under these methods prisoners were put upon their honor to observe the rules. Authorities who have visited Leavenworth have hailed it as "the perfectly disciplined prison."

SAYS HE TESTIFIED FALSELY.

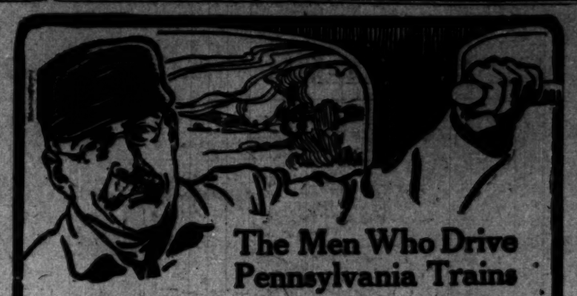

Affidavit Made by Fred Irish Filed in Plea for Pardon for Maurice Enright.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Introduction of an affidavit made by Fred H. Irish, in which he said he had testified falsely at the trial and an attack on the Chicago police by Attorney Charles Erbstein featured the state pardon board's hearing of the Maurice Enright case today.

Erbstein declared the police gave Enright an opportunity to be released on bail only on condition that he confess.

Enright was represented by former Gov. Yates, Dennis Donahue, and Frank R. Reed of Chicago. Seventy-five labor leaders and Representative James P. Morris attended the hearing in his behalf.

The state was represented by John H. Coburn, Assistant State's Attorney Malcolm J. Sterritt, and former Assistant State's Attorney John B. Northrup.

THAT is the one important point to consider in the purchase of a Victrola.

VICTROLAS are the same price in every store in the country. All Victrolas are manufactured by the Victor Talking Machine Co., at Camden, N. J. Victrolas sold by one concern are of the same quality as sold by any other, provided they are new goods.

WHERE, THEN, SHOULD I BUY MY VICTROLA?

This question is answered satisfactorily by a visit to Wurlitzer's.

IN purchasing a Victrola you will find the proposition resolves itself down to the simple question of,

THE tone of each style depends on the inner construction of sounding boards. There is a difference in tone between the $100, $150, $200 styles. Inexperienced salesmen will tell you there is not. Your own common sense and five minutes' time will answer the question.

WE will be glad to explain Victrola construction and other important points to consider in the purchase of a Victrola if you will call.

Bill Bull "Digs" to See a Ball Game—but There Are Two Kinds of Digging.

READY FOR BOUTS AT SPRINGFIELD

GOVERNOR WILL ATTEND.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Followers of the boxing game from all over the state will watch a fast card to be staged at Arion hall tomorrow night, as an exhibition of what may be expected if the Carroll-Hilton boxing commission bill is passed by the legislature.

Gov. Dunne and the state officers and all of the members of the legislature are to be guests of honor. Senator Carroll and Representative Hilton have made all arrangements for the program, admission to which will be free but strictly by card. No purses are hung up for any of the four bouts which are on the list. Mayor Harrison and his cabinet, who will be in Springfield, are expected to attend.

Fight fans from Chicago are said to be coming on a special train. The first proposition was to stage the card in the state arsenal, but plans were changed last week and Arion hall substituted.

BOXERS FROM CHICAGO.

The local boxers who will perform at Springfield tonight will leave this morning. Packey McFarland, who is to box four rounds with his sparring partner, Willie Schaefer, and Johnny Coulon, who is to don the gloves with Jimmy Barry, the famous little bantam of a few years ago, will depart at 11:25, while several of the others will go over another road, on an earlier train.

The members of the legislature will have a chance to see some high class milling when the boxers go into action, for with McFarland and Coulon as principals in bouts there is bound to be plenty of science displayed. Representative Hilton, who is one of the sponsors for the boxing bill, himself is a boxing devotee and pretty handy with the padded mitts. He will make an effort to show his fellow legislators that the sport is what the measure claims for it by boxing four rounds with Pete Boyle, who used to be "some shucks" around Chicago.

Joseph M. Coffey has been requested to act as master of ceremonies, and will go to Springfield this morning, as will also a delegation of fans from the Chicago Athletic association and the Illinois Athletic club. The C. A. A. delegation will be in charge of Director H. H. Latham.

WHITE SEEKS GO WITH KILBANE.

Jack Visits Champion at Venice to Put In Challenge—McCarey May Stage Bout.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—[Special.]—Jack White of Chicago came in from San Francisco this morning to put in a personal challenge to Johnny Kilbane for a featherweight championship battle. White went to Venice to see the champion. The Chicago boxer lost to Kilbane in their only battle here, but he figures he has improved and Kilbane has "gone back" since that meeting. White ranks with the best of the feathers, and McCarey may arrange a bout between the pair for the first week in June, the earliest available date.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—[Special.]—Knockout Mars of New York won over Benny McGovern of St. Louis in ten rounds tonight.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—Clarence "Wildcat" Ferns of this city was given the decision over Jimmy Perry of Pittsburgh tonight at the end of a ten round fight which was tame and featureless.

Memphis, Tenn., May 5.—[Special.]—Frankie Russell of New Orleans easily defeated Jimmy Anderson of Indianapolis in eight rounds tonight. Anderson took his beating gamely.

Winnipeg, Man., May 5.—Tommy Dixon of Kansas City was awarded the popular decision over Johnny Greeley of Pittsburgh in a fifteen round bout tonight. The fight was a tame affair, neither man mixing it until Referee Ben Foley warned them in the ninth that he would stop the fight if they did not liven up.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—[Special.]—Phil Cross, the New York lightweight, showed that he has some of the fighting prowess which made his brother Leach famous when he outgeneraled and outfought Young Erne in their six round bout at the Olympic A. A. tonight.

MAT HONORS GO TO GUNDERSON.

Norwegian-American A. C. Wrestler Takes National Amateur Championship in Heavyweight Class.

New York, May 5.—In the final rounds of the national amateur wrestling championships tonight, Jack Gunderson of the Norwegian-American A. C., New York City, defeated Karl Langer of the German-American A. C., New York City, in the heavyweight class. The other winners were: Joseph Varga, 175 pound class; J. Waldo Smith, 158 pounds; Carl Johnson, 143 pounds; A. Z. Anderson, 135 pounds; V. V. Vosen, 125 pounds.

NOTES OF THE WRESTLERS.

Not to be caught napping or out of condition, Constant Le Marin, the Belgian wrestler, has engaged a staff of trainers in preparation for his match on Monday night at the Globe theater with Dr. B. F. Roller of this city. Constant has three men working with him every day and is getting excellent results. He uses Raymond Cazeau, Ila Vincent, and Eugene Tremblay.

The Blackstone Athletic club, of which John Krone is matchmaker, has formed a syndicate to bid $25,000 for a Gotch-Zbyszko match.

WESSLING WINS CUE MATCH

Defeats Stanley Kandul in Three Cushion Series, 50-35.

TAKES GAME IN 65 INNINGS.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Scoring twenty-one points in his last seventeen innings, Al. Wessling defeated Stanley Kandul, 50 to 35, in the first block of the four handed three cushion match at Weeghman's rooms, in which Wessling and Huey are playing Kandul and Walter Lauben 250 points.

Wessling gave a great display, going out in sixty-five innings and getting high run of 5. Kandul, who had one inning less, notched a 3 for high mark. The Weeghman player made few mistakes. He missed few naturals, while he made a number of counts which showed he had the speed of the table down to a nicety.

In the sixtieth inning Wessling made a single by a long double of the side rail, the black ball being frozen to the cushion half way down. In the following inning he ran five, his third shot being around the foot, his ball having to catch near the angle in order to make the shot. His next shot was a force follow around the foot of the table on to the red in the top corner. His next count was a scratch and he narrowly missed a four cushion bank for a sixth count. Kandul did not play up to his usual form, but was up against a hard proposition. Score:

WADDELL MUFFS ONLY CHANCE.

Southpaw Pitcher Plays Right Field for Minneapolis Amateur Nine, but Fails to Nab Fly.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—[Special.]—With "Rube" Waddell playing right field as an extra attraction, the Silver Bows, a local semi-pro team, defeated the Elliott club.

Waddell did not play the entire game. He was out in uniform, however, and his presence attracted a large gathering. His only chance to gather a fly ball developed into a muff.

President M. E. Cantillon of the Millers, when asked if he believed "Rube" Waddell is in earnest about quitting the Minneapolis Northern league club, said he did not know and cared less.

CONCORDIA REDS TAKE PIN TITLE

PETERSEN'S NO. 1 SECOND.

Concordia Reds became bowling champions of the state of Illinois last night when the final shift of teams rolling on the five men squad of the day failed to equal their 2,878.

The men who rolled their way into fame and $200 Saturday night are Capt. William J. Diener, Al Pudewa, R. Bostleman, Ed Eckart, and William Wagner. The Petersen No. 1 five ran second with 2,854. Its series stood until the closing hours of the big meet, when the Concordia players went into the lead.

Fountains landed third with 2,831, crawling into the berth late in the tournament. Three of the strongest clubs in the entire country fell in behind the leaders with counts over 2,800. The W. J. Moxleys were fourth with 2,828, the Colonnas fifth with 2,826, and the Pelikans sixth, with 2,803. The Mineralites, captained by W. V. Thompson, rolled seventh on the late shift Sunday night, Hughey Buckett leading the club with 607 pins. The Lipmans, former holders of both national and state championships, secured 2,669 on the same shift.

None of the minor event players cut into the money to any extent during the day. The best marks were the 1,178 of W. Ehrensing and Ray Zuegner in the doubles, and R. Wind's 643 in the singles. Final shots in both doubles and singles will be rolled tonight.

TURN-BEZIRK FAVORS MEET.

Stamp of Approval Put on Chicago Olympic Games to Be Held on June 14.

The Chicago Turn-Bezirk put its stamp of approval on the Chicago Olympic games, to be held at the stadium-motordrome on June 14, by passing a resolution at its semi-annual convention at the Lincoln Turner hall requesting its units to compete. Practically the whole time of the convention was given up to discussion of the meet.

Surgeon Cripples Illinois Ball Nine.

"SLIP" COGDAL

Urbana, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—"Slip" Cogdal of Chicago, crack second baseman on the University of Illinois nine, was operated on for appendicitis today after a sudden attack which came just after Cogdal had returned with the Illini from their victorious trip to Evanston and Iowa City. Cogdal's father arrived tonight and reported that his son stood the operation well. Cogdal, who hails from Austin High school, was nicknamed "Slip" because of his light weight—116 pounds. Although a sophomore who did not even make the freshman nine last year, Cogdal is a splendid fielder, and his batting has improved wonderfully. Cogdal is enrolled in the college of agriculture and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

CLAIMS CHICAGO FAILURE IN DEVELOPING HIGHWAY.

Citizens' Business League of Milwaukee Starts Movement to Have Road Association Dissolved.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—[Special.]—That Chicago has not done its share toward the development of a good highway for automobilists between Milwaukee and Chicago is charged by the Citizens' Business league of Milwaukee, which has started a movement to have the Chicago-Milwaukee Road association dissolve and turn over its agencies and records to the Citizens' league.

"Chicago has not done its part," said Secretary Keenan, "and if we want to get results we must fight our battle alone. In Wisconsin we have secured the cooperation of counties between this city and the state line until all of the sections of the road from Milwaukee to the state line is completed in good shape.

"The Chicago end, however, has not been touched. We believe that if we can have the old association wind up its affairs, thus dispensing with the need for reliance on Chicago, we can go ahead ourselves and get the results we need."

A tug of war and other athletic events will be staged. Father J. K. Fielding, president of the association, announced last night that the new fence had been completed and that the field was in better shape than ever.

THIRTY-ONE CARS FOR MOTOR GRIND

TWO 'UNKNOWNS' NAMED.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

The final entry list as announced yesterday by Manager Charles W. Sedwick of the Indianapolis motor speedway showed thirty one cars entered in the 500 mile international sweepstakes race to be held on Memorial day. The number of nominations, as officially announced, created surprise among local motorists, as it had been supposed the total count was only twenty-nine.

One of the last pair to be named was an Isotta, while the other was an "unknown." Two Isottas, previously had been entered, with Teddy Tetzlaff and Harry Grant named as drivers. Information received by the speedway people was to the effect that the entry of a third car had been made impossible by a strike in the Milan factory. This information was considered definite and was made public, but at the last moment advices were received that three entries would be made after all. The driver of the third Italian car has not been picked.

Two "Unknowns" Now Listed.

It is said that Trucco, the Italian pilot, may have the mount on the last Isotta, while another rumor has it that R. C. Gilhooley may be given the place. Gilhooley is down as relief driver for Tetzlaff and Grant.

Deep mystery surrounds the identity of the twelfth hour "mysterious stranger" and the "unknown" entered several weeks ago and placed No. 7 on the list. The managers of the speedway claim they know nothing about the cars or the drivers, but are able to exhibit two $500 checks paid as entry fees. There are some who suspect that one of the unknowns is the car that was built in Indianapolis during the winter by Eddie Hearne and Harry Cobe, and that Hearne will drive it in the race. It is said the other mysterious one has been entered and will be driven by none other than Joe Dawson, who won the 1912 race with a National. The final list of entries and drivers as officially announced is as follows:

Car.	Driver.	Car.	Driver.
Stutz	Anderson	Mercer	De Plama
Stutz	Merz	Mercer	Bragg
Nyberg	H. Endicott	Mercer	Wishart
Keeton	Burman	Mercedes-Knight	Pilette
Mason	Evans	Mercedes-Knight	Pilette
Mason	Tower	Tulsa	Clark
Uknown	Unknown	Mercedes	Mulford
Stutz	Herr	Isotta	Grant
Sunbeam	Guyot	Isotta	Tetzlaff
Henderson	Knipper	Isotta	Unknown
Fox Special	Wilcox	Case	Disbrow
Smada	Adams	Case	Nikrent
Peugeot	Goux	Case	W. Endicott
Peugeot	Zuccarelli	Unknown	Unknown
Amel	Liesaw	Mason	Haupt
Schacht	Jenkins

Field Limited to Thirty.

Under the rules promulgated by the speedway management not more than thirty cars will be allowed to start in the race, but there is no chance that any trouble will arise over the elimination of the odd one, for the reason that all candidates must be able to do seventy-five miles an hour in order to qualify. After the qualifying trials have been held it is not likely that over twenty-four or twenty-five cars will remain. Twenty-four machines started in the 1912 race.

Coast Colleges End Dispute.

Berkeley, Cal., May 5.—Graduate Manager Donnelly of the University of California today announced the final settlement of the dispute between California and Stanford universities over the renewal of the intercollegiate rugby football agreement. KING OF ENGLAND MEETS POLO TEAM

Bids Farewell to Quartet Chosen to Oppose Yankees in Cup Match.

SPORT INTERESTS RULER.

LONDON, May 5.—Uncertainty as to the composition of the British polo team which is to attempt to win the international cup from the American team at Meadowbrook, Long Island, in June was removed today when King George bade farewell to the challengers at Buckingham palace.

The quartet chosen to represent the British Isles was: Capt. R. C. Ritson, Capt. Leslie St. Cheape, Capt. Vivian Lockett, and Capt. Noel Edwards.

The king when he shook hands with them wished them luck in their efforts to bring the cup back to England. King George then paid a compliment to international sport and to polo, which he understands thoroughly. He studied polo when he was a lieutenant serving in the Mediterranean.

The king followed the fortunes of Capt. Lloyd's team with keen interest in 1911 and caused reports of the progress of the international matches at Meadowbrook to be telegraphed to him period by period.

PICKS CORNELL TO WIN MEET.

Coach Farrell of Michigan Favors Ithacans in Coming Intercollegiate Event—Figures on Four Firsts.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 5.—In the opinion of Coach Farrell of the University of Michigan track team, Cornell has the best chance to win the coming intercollegiate track meet championship.

Speaking of Cornell's chances, Farrell predicted that the Ithacans would take four first places with Reller in the sprints and Jones in the mile and the half mile. He said also that he believed Cozzens, Spelden, Kanzler, and Phillips would win places.

Of his own team, Farrell said that while he hardly hoped for a victory he expects his athletes to improve within the next three weeks, and with Haff and Craig back in the line, that they should make a better showing than they did with Cornell on Saturday.

Rain on an Open Date Is Not So Hard for Baseball Fans to Take.

MANAGERIAL JOB LOST TO STOVALL

SENTENCE MOST DRASTIC.

Well Laid Plans of Callahan for White Sox Practice Prevented by Rain.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

George Stovall was deposed from the management of the St. Louis Browns yesterday by President Johnson of the American league in addition to the indefinite suspension as a player previously announced as punishment for his insults to Umpire Ferguson in Saturday's game with Cleveland.

This sentence, one of the most drastic imposed for misbehavior on the diamond in recent years, was not decided on until Mr. Johnson had received and carefully digested the written report of the outbreak made by the umpire involved and had weighed the probable effect of the punishment on the player-manager and on the St. Louis team.

Umpire Ferguson's mail report, Mr. Johnson said, substantiated in detail the accounts of the affair circulated by the press associations. The trouble started over a strike called by the umpire and Stovall kicked until ejected from the game. Leaving the field Stovall grabbed the umpire's cap and threw it on the ground. Not satisfied with that form of indignity the Brown manager, after securing his player's glove from the bench, walked past Ferguson and deliberately spit on the coat of the umpire's uniform.

May Lose Job Permanently.

This conduct, which probably would have resulted in a long suspension for any player, undoubtedly will cost Stovall his managerial berth permanently. That phase of the situation President Johnson would not discuss. He said he had informed both President Hedges and Former Manager Stovall of his decision in the matter simultaneously, but declined to speculate on the future of the St. Louis team.

News of the punishment had not reached Stovall in St. Louis last night, but will not greatly surprise him, judging by his attitude in discussing the affair yesterday. According to telegraphic reports, Stovall made no attempt to condone or defend his action. He said: "I lost my head. Nothing can be said in defense. I was provoked at what I thought was an unjust ruling. I expect the worst is to come."

Stovall's act seems to have wrecked a promising managerial career. Taking the place of Jim McGuire as manager of the Cleveland team in the latter part of the season of 1911, Stovall had the Naps going at a merry clip before the season ended. Before he had this chance to show his ability, Harry Davis had been signed to manage the Cleveland team in 1912. Stovall was traded to St. Louis for Lefty George, and soon after joining the Browns last year succeeded Wallace in the management of the team. Stovall made the St. Louis outfit a difficult one to beat before the race ended, and started this year with bright prospects of getting the Browns out of last place. His loss will be severely felt in the Mound City.

Rain Prevents Sox Practice.

Manager Callahan's plans to improve each shining hour of the two open dates in the White Sox schedule were blocked by the weather man yesterday. There weren't enough shining hours to improve. Just as the Sox got ready for their morning workout it started raining, and kept it up so long that everything was called off for the day. Only Davy Jones braved the weather long enough to get much exercise, and he made several trips around the park to keep in condition against the time when he will be called off the bench by the manager. Ed Walsh also started limbering up his wing, which has been neglected a bit while he was recovering from his cold.

Today there will be another attempt to work out the men if conditions are right, for Manager Callahan wants them on edge to repel the invasion of the eastern quartet of clubs, led by Clark Griffith and his frisky young Senators tomorrow. Washington has had fairly easy picking in the east, and according to all accounts expects easier games in the west. It will be Callahan's task to undeceive Griffith during the coming four game series with the White Sox here. The south side team also is extremely anxious to break Walter Johnson's string of runless innings before the Washington star succeeds in wiping out Doc White's previous record of shutting out opponents without a run.

White Still Holds Record.

Including his five innings against Boston in yesterday's game, Johnson has pitched forty-two and two-thirds innings without having a run scored on him. White's record, made in 1904, was fifty-six innings of consecutive blanks, so that Johnson still has more than a regulation game to pitch before he can attain the goal his admirers have set for him.

Johnson is not likely to pitch more than one game against the White Sox, as his work yesterday precludes the chance of starting him against the local team tomorrow. If he can register a shutout against the Callahans this week his next game will be in St. Louis, where a demoralized team ought to be easy for him. Consequently the White Sox feel that it is up to them to defend Doc White's citadel by scoring against Johnson, and a lot of them entertain hopes of beating him. Doc White himself has asked to pitch against the Washington wonder, and threatens to make a home run if he does.

Yesterday's rain will improve the White Sox infield, according to Manager Callahan, and as soon as the new turf becomes firm enough to permit working a heavy roller over it he promises to have a diamond as fast as any in the league. The best results may not be possible, however, until after the present series with the east.

Following Washington's four games here, Philadelphia will come for four battles, beginning next Sunday, then New York on May 15, and the last of the eastern teams, Boston, is due to arrive on May 19. Each series will consist of four games, barring postponements.

Soon May Get Line on Teams.

The coming clash between west and east will determine to a considerable extent the much discussed relative strength of the teams representing the different sections. In another fortnight or three weeks it will be known whether or not the Athletics are likely to make a runaway race of it, and how well Washington is going to hold up this season; also whether or not the Boston world's champions have slumped under prosperity or merely have been played off their feet by the Athletics and Senators. Up to date the games have merely determined the stronger teams in each section. The intersectional battles will have greater bearing on the general run of the pennant race.

LOOKS EASY FOR THE GOLFER.

New York, May 5.—Can a golf player tee up a ball on the home plate of the Polo grounds and drive it over the topmost center field fence into Eighth avenue, at the same time keeping it between the right and left field flag poles?

This is a problem which has raised an argument between members of the New York Giants and several golfers, and the question will be settled some day this week by an amateur player, who will be allowed five tees.

From the home plate to the center field fence is about 165 yards. The top of the fence, which surmounts the bleachers in that territory, is between fifty and sixty feet high. The flag poles are about 350 feet apart.

Golf players say the feat suggested should be easy. Ball players, who cannot even drive a baseball into the lower part of the center field stand, say it is impossible.

Griffith's Men Defeat Boston Champions in 12 Innings.

Walter Johnson Hurls 42 2-3 Rounds Without Being Scored On.

Boston, Mass., May 5.—Washington defeated Boston, 5 to 3, in a twelve inning contest today. The locals led up to the eighth, when the visitors scored three runs on an error by Janvrin and singles by Shanks and Schaefer followed by Moeller's double.

Johnson relived Engle in the eighth and held the locals to four hits and no runs. In the twelfth Johnson singled, Moeller flied out to Hooper, Milan singled, Ainsmith struck out, and Janvrin fumbled Williams' grounder, filling the bases. Laporte's drive through Ball's legs scored Johnson and Milan, winning the game.

Boston got three men on bases in the fifth on errors by Laporte, Williams, and Engel. A passed ball and a single sent two runs in. Gardner's double was fumbled by Moeller in the sixth, allowing the batter to reach third. He scored on Janvrin's single. Johnson, who finished today's game, has pitched forty-two and two-thirds innings without being scored on. Score:

New York, May 5.—The New York Americans today closed their first home stay without winning a game on the local grounds. They were beaten again by the Athletics, 8 to 1. Fisher and Plank had a pitcher's battle until the eighth inning, when the Highlanders crumpled and the visitors scored four runs. Plank held the Highlanders to two hits, both in the fifth inning. First Appearance of Pittsburgh at Ohio City in Seven Years—Wagner and Clarke Play.

Cleveland, O., May 5.—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Cleveland Americans, 6 to 5, in an exhibition game today. It was the first time in seven years that Pittsburgh has played here, and the first time a National league club ever played here during the regular season.

Recruit pitchers started the game for each team. Conzelman lasted two innings and Cullop was replaced in the fourth. Robinson, who succeeded Conzelman, held Cleveland scoreless thereafter. Robinson's single scored the winning run in the ninth.

START OF CIRCUIT TRIP.

President Sherlock Accompanies Team to the Mound City.

Chicago's Federal league team, fifteen strong, left last night for St. Louis, where the "outlaws" will open the season today with the Mound City nine as their opponents.

"You may say that while we are young we have a chance to grow," he declared yesterday. "Friends of the new league may rest assured we will play every game according to the schedule. Manager Keeley will have absolute charge of the team and he is thoroughly qualified for his task."

TROJANS INVADE BROOKLYN TODAY

Capt. Zim and Cubs Reach New York Ready for First Series in East.

EXPECT HARD BATTLES.

Evers' Players Fear Pitchers Will Not Be Able to Cope with Strong Rivals.

BY SAM WELLER.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Under the personal care of Capt. Heine Zimmerman, the Chicago Cubs arrived in the heart of Manhattan island tonight ready to do battle on Long island tomorrow against Charley Ebbets' revived Brooklyn team.

Heine was put in command of the Chicago forces last night at 11:17 o'clock. Manager Evers separated himself from the squad to stay on the fast train and stop off a few hours at Troy with the home folks. The two Cub Pullmans were hooked on to a slower train at Toledo, consequently the cares of managing the team fell to the lot of the great Zim.

Heine proved to be a great road manager, too. For handling a ball team on a train there is none better. He met every critical situation with the ease of one accustomed to the game.

Cubs Find Themselves Second.

When the boys reached New York they didn't know where they stood in the mad National league pennant race. After they had recovered from Sunday's mêlée in Chicago they discovered they had been nosed out of first place by the masterful pitching of Ed Konetchy of the Cardinals. Several of the fellows are predicting that Koney will lead the National league pitchers this year.

While on the Koney subject it may be of interest to Chicago fans to know that it was at the suggestion of Jimmy Sheckard that the big first baseman was sent to the slab in place of Cather when the latter seemed unable to get the ball over the plate. Sheckard ran in from right field and told Huggins to put Koney on the slab. If Cather had stuck the Cubs surely would have won, so that's one game Sheckard has taken away from his old mates and handed to his new team.

To all indications, the pugnacious Cubs are not confident of such success on this eastern invasion as they experienced in the west.

Must Face Good Pitching.

There are a lot of strong pitchers on the eastern clubs, several of whom are left handers, and there may not be so much clouting by the Trojans. In Brooklyn they expect to meet Nap Rucker and Mr. Allen, both southpaws. Then there's Rube Marquard of the Giants and Tyler of Boston. Besides these there are sturdy right handers in Ragon of Brooklyn, Mathewson and Tesreau of New York, Alexander and Seaton of the Phillies, and Hub Perdue of Boston.

Without a lot of base hits the Cubs see much trouble ahead and there may be many less swats against the array of eastern pitching talent than were secured from the pickup and unconditioned hurlers of the western teams.

Evers has Larry Cheney, who is sure to turn out strong pitching, but he isn't sure that another man on the staff will do it. Richie's blowup Sunday was a great disappointment to Evers not only because it lost that game but also because it looks as if Lew is not ready to turn his regular trick of killing the Giants.

Cheney or Pierce to Hurl.

Before leaving last night Manager Evers said he would use either Cheney or "Lefty" Pierce for the first game of the Brooklyn series. Both are in fine shape and appear to be hurling better than any of the others on the team.

Just at the present time the Brooklyn team is playing as strong a game as any of them, so the Cubs expect some tough battling for the next four days. No one knows what has inspired Bill Dahlen and his crew. They are playing in Mr. Ebbets' new palace park, and perhaps that has caused them to strive for greater success.

Eddie McDonald, who was sold to Birmingham last week, has balked on working in the mosquito league. Instead of going south Eddie was aboard the Cub train out of Chicago last night and came to his home in Albany. He may decide later to try the sunny south, but for a while at least he's going to stay home.

Old Friends Await Zim.

Heine Zimmerman grabbed the subway for the Bronx as soon as he had seen "his boys" housed at the new McAlpin hotel. A lot of the Bronx boys were waiting up at Heine's home to give him a reception and listen again to his diamond tales.

Evers expected to reach New York late tonight or early in the morning and relieve Zim of the cares of manager. Three of the players have their wives along. Mrs. Overall, Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Reulbach accompanied their husbands. The weather was hot throughout the trip from Chicago, and the players passed the tedious hours playing rhum. As many as five games were going at the same time.

PITCHING NOT NEW TO KONEY.

St. Louis Player Hurled in Game Against Brooklyn Three Years Ago and Also in Cincinnati.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—[Special.]—Ed Koney did not make his pitching debut on Sunday in Chicago, where he rescued Teddy Cather and hypnotized the Cubs into a thirteen inning defeat. Koney served his novitiate on the mound three years ago, when he finished up a game in Brooklyn after the St. Louis regular pitchers had been exhausted. He also worked in that memorable burlesque game in Cincinnati in 1911, the day that Mr. McGinnis, a backlot umpire, served in lieu of the regular umpire, who failed to appear because of President Tom Lynch's mistake in handing out assignments.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

Charles Louis Hall, pitcher, of the Boston Red Sox, was born in Ventura, Cal., May 6, 1883. He broke in as a professional in 1906 with the Seattle team of the Northwestern league. The following season Hall joined the St. Paul American association team and pitched there in 1907-08. Hall's good work with the "Saints" caused Boston to purchase his release in 1909 and he has been a member of the Red Sox team ever since. As head of the Sox wrecking crew Hall has done his best work. His record last season was 17 games won and 8 lost.

PHILLIES LOSE IN PROTEST

Hole Back of Pitcher's Slab in Giants' Park Causes Dispute.

New York, May 5.—The New York Nationals had no undue advantage over the Philadelphia club in the games played at the Polo grounds late in April by reason of the fact that there was a hole scooped out of the diamond back of the pitchers' slab. This is the finding of President Thomas J. Lynch of the National league on the protest of the Philadelphia club and he orders that the result of the game shall stand as played.

The Philadelphia club protested the games played on April 23 and 24, alleging that a hole several inches deep was scooped out back of the pitcher's plate in violation of the rule which requires the field to slope from the pitcher's plate to every base line. New York won the first game, 3 to 1, and also the second, 7 to 1.

During the series President Locke of the Philadelphias made a verbal complaint to headquarters relative to this hole and Umpire Klem was instructed to have the groundkeeper level off the ground in order to avoid the possibility of a ball thrown from center field striking back of the rubber.

The New York club, in answering the protest, stated that it became necessary this season to put in a new pitcher's plate at the Polo grounds, and that owing to the rains and the fact that the field is in use every day by the National or American league clubs a slight depression resulted back of the plate.

A surgeon opened the foot and removed a growth which, he said, had resulted from a "weeping sinew." It will take about three weeks for the wound to heal.

THREE HOME RUNS WIN FOR PHILLIES

CLEAN SWEEP OF SERIES.

Quaker City Team Takes Fourth Straight Game by Pounding Marquard.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Three home run drives by Magee and Cravath off Marquard's delivery gave Philadelphia today's game with New York, 6 to 3, and registered a clean sweep for the home team in the series of four contests with McGraw's team.

Cravath, in the second, and Magee, in the fourth, put the ball into the left field bleachers. In the sixth New York tied the score on singles by Doyle and Merkle, Knabe's muff of a throw in and Herzog's single.

In the same inning Knabe's double and a pass to Lobert were followed by Magee's second home run, and Cravath's single. Doolan's triple added another tally before the session closed. McCormick's single and Herzog's double gave New York another run in the eighth when Ames took Marquard's place. Score:

BROOKLYN IS VICTOR IN TENTH.

Superbas, After Being Blanked for the First Seven Sessions, Defeat Boston, Three to Two.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 5.—James of Boston held Brooklyn hitless for six innings today and runless for seven, after which the locals got busy with his offerings, and won a spirited ten inning game, 3 to 2.

Moran's muff and wild throw in the seventh let in a brace of tallies for Boston. In the ninth Ragan was called to the rescue of Curtis and retired the visitors in quick succession in the final two innings. Brooklyn tied the score in the eighth through Smith's double, Fisher's single, two outs, and an error by Maranville.

Fisher started the tenth with a hit. Erwin's bunt rolled safe. Kirkpatrick, batting for Ragan, was hit by the first pitched ball. Moran forced Fisher, but Cutshaw sent home the winning run with a clean single to center. Pitcher Rudolph, from Toronto, joined Boston today. Score:

LE COUNT SLAYER HELD FOR MURDER

SELF-DEFENSE REFUTED.

Brother of Widow Says Victim Was Shot Dead Without Striking Blow.

Joseph A. Williams was yesterday held to the grand jury without bail for the murder early Sunday morning of Leon Lafayette Le Count by a coroner's jury sitting at 6110 Cottage Grove avenue. Although Williams had confessed being suitor of Le Count's 17 year old wife and admitted shooting the wronged husband to Capt. John H. Alcock at the Woodlawn police station, he declined to testify at the inquest on advice of his lawyer, John Sweeney.

The principal witnesses were Mrs. Irene Westfall Le Count, the young widow, and her brother, John Westfall, 6542 Washington avenue. Westfall denied the allegation of Williams that Le Count had struck him in the face before shots were fired. He and his brother-in-law had followed Williams with the intention of chastising him.

No Blows Struck, He Says.

"No blows were struck," said Westfall, "and Le Count was not even in a threatening attitude when he was shot. We did mean to give him a good licking and tell him to get out of town," he added.

The young girl's brother declared she had been attacked by Williams in Jackson park about two weeks ago while returning from the White City ballroom. When Le Count returned from Panama his wife told him of the occurrence.

Most of Mrs. Le Count's story was told to the jury and Deputy Coroner Adolph Hermann only. She recounted her secret marriage before a Joliet justice of the peace on Feb. 6, Le Count's departure for Panama two days later, and her announcement to her parents of her marriage.

Met Williams at White City.

The latter part of the same month she met Williams at the White City ballroom, and they became friendly, meeting about eight times. She related the circumstances of the alleged attack on her in Jackson Park only after spectators had been excluded.

The youthful widow was not told of her husband's death until noon. She fainted, but soon revived and did not lose her composure until the coroner's verdict was announced, when she wept in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Belle Westfall.

WIFE STANDS BY WILLIAMS.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—"I think Joe must have been justified in shooting, and I will stick to him through thick and thin," said Mrs. Joseph A. Williams, wife of the art student who shot and killed Harry Le Count in Chicago yesterday. Mrs. Williams will leave tonight for Chicago to join her husband. Williams' mother, Mrs. Marcus T. C. Williams, will accompany her.

Mrs. Williams denied she and her husband had quarreled. She said she had received letters daily from him. Mrs. Williams said her husband had frequently written her of attending public dances in Chicago.

Legislative Committee Awards Palm to Feehanville Asylums.

Sisters of Mercy Methods to Be Urged on Other Homes.

A home for dependent children that satisfied every member of the legislative committee investigating maternity homes was discovered yesterday at Feehanville, Ill. There are two, in fact—the St. Mary's Training School for Boys and the Chicago Industrial School for Girls—both conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

The committeemen spent the entire day at Feehanville, and decided that when they recommended remedial legislation these two homes should be utilized as models.

Gives Homes High Praise.

There are 800 children at Feehanville, 500 boys and 300 girls. They are quartered in buildings valued at $900,000. The Rev. James M. Doran is superintendent. The commissioners were edified by seeing the youthful inmates rush frantically at the Rev. Father Doran and clasp him affectionately by a leg, a hand, or a coat tail.

Children Show Skill.

They also witnessed a drill of a cadet corps of boys, and heard a cantata sung by girls. The girls also were seen making shirtwaists and other articles.

The committeemen talked to the children, inspected the buildings, and were pleased to notice that no uniforms were worn by either boys or girls.

Charges Plot to Cheapen Stock.

A conspiracy to lessen the value of the stock in the New Jersey Reduction company, organized with a capital of $500,000 to exploit lead and zinc mines in Jo Daviess county, Ill., is the charge made in a suit filed yesterday in Superior court against the president of the company, James G. Sinclair; its secretary and treasurer, James J. Meagh and Henry B. Koller, by Frank P. Crane, owner of 6,000 shares of the stock. The shares have a par value of 10 cents. Crane asks that the directors be forced to make an accounting.

Mrs. Field May Reopen Prairie Avenue House.

Mrs. MARSHALL FIELD has written some of her Chicago friends that she expects to come on from Washington for a short visit before she sails for her regular visit abroad. Mrs. Field has not left Washington this spring and is preparing to leave rather regretfully. She is expecting to come to the city about the middle of the month, and will leave again for the east within a short time. Whether she means to open the long-closed Prairie avenue house on this visit she does not state, but it is not probable that she will do so. She maintains a sumptuous apartment in Paris and goes abroad for a great portion of every year. This year she has spent the entire winter in Washington.

An interesting announcement of today is made by Mrs. Thomas Orton of 3951 Michigan avenue in the news of the engagement of her daughter, Alice Keith, to John R. Poyser of Canton, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Poyser. The wedding is to take place on June 4.

Discuss Ministerial Department.

That a minister of the gospel should at all times and in all places represent his calling in a faithful manner, avoid deceit of every character, and by his personality and actions uphold his calling was the consensus of speakers at the weekly meetings of the Baptist ministers' conference and also of that of the Congregational Ministers' union that were held in their respective rooms in the Masonic Temple yesterday.

How to Earn Money at Home

Do You Like Young Girls?

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

The purpose of this department is to find profitable employment for women in occupations which they can carry on at home without interfering with their domestic duties. To stimulate suggestions, The Tribune will award $1 each for every help published.

Address—Sally Joy Brown, care The Tribune, Chicago.

The exhibit room in The Tribune building is open from 9.30 a. m. to 4 p. m., except on Saturday, when it closes at noon.

DO you like young girls?

Read this letter which came to me just a day or so ago—it has a valuable suggestion for the woman who wishes to have a nice vacation at no cost:

"Can you recommend to me some home woman who would be capable of chaperoning five young girls to a summer resort for the month of July? I want some one who would be popular with the girls and yet who would be somewhat of a curb on their young spirits.

"I am a father who is anxious to have his two daughters have the best kind of a good time, but who realizes that a summer resort is not a proper place for unchaperoned girls. Two other fathers are joining with me in the search for a sensible woman who will undertake the responsibility of the girls for a month or six weeks. Can you help us out?"

There are many mothers and fathers who are anxious for their daughters to have a good time and are unable to go with them for the summer.

How are you going to reach the mothers and fathers who would be interested in such services?

The advertisements in THE TRIBUNE Home Workers' Market Place reach just such people.

In a small advertisement you could tell people of your qualifications for such work, of the prices you would charge, and any other details you would care to give them.

It would bring you to the attention of the kind of people who would appreciate the conscientious service of an educated woman.

Have you a home in a small town or in the country?

They would enjoy the home cooking and the home atmosphere so much and would go back to the city really rested.

Vacations are going to begin very soon now, and now is the time for you to bring to the attention of such people the advantages that your little home place has to offer as a summer resort.

Won't you write to me and let me help you in preparing an attractive advertisement that will really give people an idea of what an interesting and restful little home you have?

I know how eagerly city people welcome the opportunity to spend their vacations in a place that has the real home atmosphere and real home cooking.

I know that you can turn your place into profit at small cost for advertising.

I know that you can make your ability to handle children count for profit this summer.

Your talent for understanding young girls can be made to help you earn that money for which you are so anxious.

Will you let me assist you to turn these things into profit?

Selling Grape Juice.

One can make from $75 to $100 a season selling grape juice made by the following recipe:

Renting Rooms for Little Parties.

A good way to earn money is to advertise in the Home Market that you will rent your home at a reasonable fee for an afternoon or evening. Many women are debarred from entertaining because they board or live in rooms. They will be glad to rent your parlor for a little card party, and if you let it be known that your home can be used you will have all the engagements you care for. If just the parlor and a bedroom to put the wraps is used charge $1 for evening or afternoon. If dining room and kitchen are included charge more. If parlor and kitchen charge accordingly. If you can serve nicely let us know, and woman will be glad of your help.

Made Cloth Bags for Meat Covers.

A woman living near a large packing house, feeling called upon to make money to help with living expenses, but unable to leave home on account of her small children, made arrangements with the packer to make the cloth bags used for covering the hams at so much a hundred. As the work needed no special care, she was able to make a large number each day. In off seasons she made mattress covers for a nearby mattress factory, and before the opening of the baseball season she was able to make a contract with a manufacturer of sporting goods to cover baseballs. At this work one of the older children became quite adept, and in this way in the evenings helped to earn her clothes and books.

Start Educational Clubs.

The correspondence class is a feature of many educational institutions, but does not completely cover the ground. There are many women in every town and city who have not had educational opportunities suitable to their present social position. Such women are only too glad to have a chance to make up these deficiencies in a quiet way.

A class in "current topics" is always popular. In the years of presidential or state elections a class in politics attracts a good many, while classes in literature probably please more individuals than those along any other line. One may give a general survey of the literature of a country, or may choose a certain period, such as the Elizabethan period in English literature. Travel classes are always good, and persons who hope to go abroad are always interested in classes of this kind.

If one thinks that possible patrons would not like the idea of attending "classes" it is always possible to organize a "club" instead; and the lecturer is of course paid for her work. One must be competent to really instruct these classes, but there are many university women who would like such work and who have plenty of time for it; and it should attract especially women who were teachers before being married and who are thoroughly qualified by education and experience.

The most interesting method of conducting these classes is where the members meet once a week and the class is conducted orally; but if this is not feasible it may be carried on by correspondence. By using a mimeograph or carbons the work of preparing the lessons is made easy.

Cover for Clothes Basket.

When laundry must be sent in a basket an oilcloth cover will prove to be "a joy forever." These covers are easily made and will keep the clothes from becoming soiled by rain, dust, etc. One and one-half yards of white oilcloth will make covers for three laundry baskets of ordinary size. Cut the oilcloth in desired length. Firmly bind the edges with strong muslin and insert tape for gathering string to tie on basket with. Make an opening through which the basket handles may be free. Bind these openings to prevent tearing. The cover is now complete and will sell readily for 50 cents.

SUFFRAGIST GARDEN TO AID CAUSE OF VOTES FOR WOMEN.

Nature Made an Ally of Mrs. Lewis K. Torbet, Vice President of Cook County Alliance.

Nature is the latest ally to be lined up under the banner of "Votes for Women," and the suffragist garden is the means by which it has been secured for the cause.

Mrs. Lewis K. Torbet of the Hotel Metropole announced last night her plans for the brand new publicity method.

"I intend to have my entire garden at my summer home in Mason, Ill., remodeled and install nothing but flowers of a yellow hue, the color of the American suffragists," she said.

"I will have marigolds, sunflowers, Japanese gold lilies, chrysanthemums, buttercups, and every yellow flower that will grow and wave for the cause of woman's suffrage.

"But I won't have anything with the English militant suffragist colors—violet, green, and white—for I don't believe in their methods. They ought to be in prison if they smash windows, so I don't want anything to remind me of them around my house."

Mrs. Torbet is a vice president of the Cook County alliance and is a member of the North Side Equal Suffrage association and several state organizations.

TRY TO SETTLE CHURCH SUIT

Lawyers Confer with Judge Petit on Marie Chapel Dispute, but No Decision Is Reached.

Judge Petit and lawyers representing both sides in the Marie chapel litigation over the title to the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church property, West Twenty-third street and Wentworth avenue, conferred yesterday with a view to settling the suit.

Marie chapel claims title to the property and is seeking to review and set aside the Supreme court decision dismissing a prior bill brought in an effort to obtain it. Judge Petit said the case cannot be settled until he has another conference with Matson Hill and Harlow N. Higinbotham.

HA! HA! REVENGE AT LAST! GETS EVEN WITH MILLINER!

Judge Uhler Takes Advantage of First Opportunity in Life to Hand It to Maker of Headgear.

Judge Uhlir in the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday "got even with the milliner" when the case of William Ravid, proprietor of Ravid's millinery store at 1411 West Madison street, was called. Ravid was charged with violating the ten hour labor law. He was fined $10 and costs on one charge and $5 on another charge.

Lillian Boysen and Miss Fern Curtis, who are employed by Ravid, testified that they worked more than ten hours April 26.

"This is the first time the court ever has had a chance at the proprietor of a millinery store," said Judge Uhlir, smiling. "This is a pleasure to impose this fine. Milliners have had me at their mercy for a long time and this is the first time I ever had one at my mercy."

"It is easily seen you are not a married man," said the court when the defendant's attorney protested.

News of Music and Theaters.

"Quo Vadis?" as a Moving Picture Play.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

IN case the entire afternoon or evening is not at the disposal of "Quo Vadis" in moving picture one may reach McVicker's an hour late and still be in time for much entertainment. Ere then the amorous Vinitius will have made vinous love to the chaste and shrinking Lygia at one of Nero's rough revels, and the turbulent romance between him and the fair hostage will have been well under way. Nero is an inveterate party giver and Vinitius an insistent wooer, and so there is plenty of other orgy and lovemaking to come.

But arrival must be timed to precede Nero's rare prank of burning Rome. That agitating episode is introduced as the sinister Tigellinus whispers his infamous suggestion to the emperor, and sends the incendiaries forth with torches to set the city on fire. At once the streets are thick with running people—thousands of them, it seems, rushing, praying, crowding in an exciting panic, which, in the queer silence of the films, becomes even more exciting. You see the flames leap over the Palatine, up the hills of the Esquiline, and laying waste the Aventine until they reach the Tiber and the solid barrier of the Servian wall. Palaces, circuses, forums flare up and crumble, horsemen vault fallen pillars, great gates totter and disappear in smoke, while Nero grins from a balcony and contemplates the chaos of events as he sings to a lyre. You feel something like Nero yourself as you sit in comfort and safety observing the conflagration, not annoyed by smoke, cinders, nor regret at your insufficiency of insurance. Dr. Falk is playing fire music on the pipe organ, and if it is afternoon your investment for all this spectacle has been but 25 cents. An interesting experience altogether, and, to the moving picture neophyte, rather an amazing one.

Well, with Rome in ruins Nero, to rehabilitate himself, proceeds to more popular and less expensive sports and pastimes. The prisons are full of early Christians, and the imperial zoo holds many hungry lions. So we have the amphitheater on a gala day, with thousands of Roman celebrants present, and Nero in the familiar gesture of turning his thumb down on the unlucky gladiators. There has been some marvelous stage management so far by the film producer, but it has been massed picture mostly, in which detail was lost. Now, however, there is a bit of effective minutiae. As the martyrs huddle kneeling in a corner of the arena a gaunt trap door in the foreground slowly, very slowly, opens and hangs ominously ajar. For half a minute it remains so, and then the lions creep out and turn to carnage.

In point of spectacle the pictures are astounding—they make stage endeavors of the kind seem pitifully futile. The buildings appear to be substantial structures of stone and mortar, not the cheap makeshifts of the average photoplay, and the crowds are moved with wonderful realism in and about them. The players are Italian and expert, though necessarily given to nostril acting and the heaving bosom.

Manager Herrmann of the Cort theater announces the engagement of H. B. Warner to play "The Ghost Breakers" at that house beginning a week from Monday. "The Ghost Breakers" is by Paul Dickey, an actor, and Charles W. Goddard, a Sunday editor. Its performance involves the services of Miss Katherine Emmett, Frank Campeau, Frank Westerton, Miss Margaret Boland, Miss Sarah Biala, Sam J. Burton, and Willard Louis.

The regular season of the Cort will begin Aug. 3 with a farce called "The Elixir of Life," which comes under the auspices of Messrs. Cort and Morosco, and with the recommendation of a long run in Los Angeles.

The American Music hall will be reopened a week from next Sunday by Miss Eva Tanguay and her company of vaudeville players for an engagement of two weeks.

Maurice Browne, director of the Little theater, breaks the news that his venture has had a successful season financially, with 52 per cent of the preliminary indebtedness already paid. The season will close some three weeks hence with a production of W. B. Yeats' "The Shadowy Waters."

CHARLES RANN KENNEDY

In "The Necessary Evil," now in rehearsal by Miss Edith Wynne Matthison's company for production at the Fine Arts theater next Monday night, Charles Rann Kennedy will appear in the triple capacity of dramatist, actor, and musician. That is to say he wrote the drama, he will interpret one of the principal rôles, and in the character of a musician he will play the Brahms intermezzo (opus 118, No. 6) in the course of the performance, that composition having a definite relationship to the mood of the piece. The musical incident may serve to reinstate Mr. Kennedy in the regard of B. L. T., an incurable Brahms "fan," as his column testifies, and one of those who were infuriated by "The Terrible Meek."

Among other results of the tour of "Man and Superman" is a lawsuit whereby Liebler & Co. hope to collect $2,117.50 from Robert Loraine, the star. In their complaint the Lieblers charge that while George C. Tyler of that firm was in London he placed Mr. Loraine under contract for a thirty weeks' season in America in the Shaw play, agreeing to give him a salary of about $700 weekly and a percentage of the profits.

Mr. Tyler advanced the actor £500 with the understanding the money was to be taken from the profits of "Man and Superman." Should there be no profits, then the actor was to return the advance.

On the Saturday preceding the final week at Powers' theater, the Lieblers charge, Mr. Loraine refused to go on before he was paid not only his salary for the current week but also for the following week, which the management had told him would not be played, but for which he would nevertheless receive his salary.

Rather than disappoint the audience the actor was paid, but when they came to cast up accounts the Lieblers found there had been no profits on the engagement and they were out $2,117.50.

English Girls Present a Pleasing Novelty.

A DELIGHTFUL novelty in the form of a program of British folk songs in costumes of a half century or more ago was presented at the Chicago Little theater last evening by the Misses Dorothy, Rosalind, and Cynthia Fuller of Sturminster Newton, in Dorset, England. It was a novelty not only in the personnel of the performers but in the type of entertainment they offered.

The songs were divided into groups, not of local origin but of general character. Thus, following the prologue, a Yorkshire "Song of the Sword Dancers," came a quaint cradle song of Irish origin and a few children's songs, from Somerset and Hampshire, one of them "Here Comes a Duke a-Riding," stirring up a keen recollection of our own American nursery songs.

The love song group was divided into the cheerful songs of the happy lover, introducing the familiar "Lizzie Lindsay," from the Scotch, and the laments of the unsuccessful swain, "O, No, John," typical of Somerset, and not unknown to those who are at all in touch with English folk songs, was as charming a snatch of rural comedy as the singers offered.

The mothers' songs, representing the Hebrides and Somerset, were rich in childhood reminiscence not entirely British. There were given songs of occupation, of home and country, a dirge from the north of England, and what was intended to be the epilogue, an amusing defense of music and poesy, based on biblical precedent. But it was not the farewell. The audience, cordial from the start, declined to let it be the last number, and brought back the Misses Fuller for a final encore.

The young women, picturesque in their old fashioned dresses, fresh and pretty as to face, had more than clear, sympathetic voices to offer. All three appear blessed with a sense of humor essential to the adequate presentation of music of this order, entirely at ease, and thoroughly devoted to their unique program. Their voices blended well in their infrequent three part offerings and in concert with the Irish harp, used in accompaniment.

The entertainment brought forcibly to attention the richness of the native British music. The folk songs of Russia, highly developed during the last few decades, certainly offer little superior to the songs of the British isles as to melody, emotion, or diversity. There is much worthy of development in the airs typical of each section, and a simple sincerity that carries a direct appeal by its natural beauty.

The audience was warmly appreciative and the Misses Fuller generous in their encores. Programs largely similar are to be given at their subsequent appearances.

Talking Picture Lecture Newest.

A talking moving picture lecture was given at the Majestic and also at the Palace last night. It showed Mayor Gaynor of New York and his street, police, and fire commissioners, one following the other, in dissertations on the aims and achievements of their various departments. The picture showed the four men seated around a table engaged in conversation. Then each in turn introduced the other as he made his talk to the audience.

Mayor Gaynor lauded the work of his commissioners and pointed out that he had stood by them when outside influences attempted to remove them. Within fifteen years the mayor predicts that this plan will be universal.

Commissioner of Streets Edwards said there were 6,500 employés in his department starting their labors at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Eleven thousand men are employed in the police department, according to Commissioner Waldo, and the city spends $5,000,000 yearly for its protection.

The fire department employs 5,500 men, has 800 pieces of fire fighting apparatus, and 300 buildings, maintained at the yearly cost of $9,000,000.

Ghent Peace Delegates Welcomed in New York.

NEW YORK, May 5.—New York formally welcomed within its doors today the delegates who have come from Great Britain, Canada, Newfoundland, and Australia to join American representatives in a five day conference looking toward a centenary celebration of the treaty of Ghent—the compact of peace between the United States and Great Britain—to be held in the city of Ghent and in English speaking countries beginning Dec. 24, 1914.

In the room where the first United States congress convened—now the governor's room in the city hall—Mayor Gaynor welcomed the visitors to the municipality, and Alton B. Parker on behalf of the American delegation.

Ghent was honored at this gathering through the selection of C. de Bruyne, alderman of that city, as chairman. Mr. de Bruyne, Lord Weardale of England, and Sir Edmund Walker of Canada made addresses in promotion of continued peace.

The delegates then went to the Waldorf-Astoria to become guests of honor at a luncheon given by the Pilgrims society. Chauncey M. Depew welcomed the conferees in the presence of Walter H. Page, ambassador to Great Britain; former Ambassador Joseph H. Choate, and other distinguished citizens.

Later the delegates met in executive session at another hotel, Lord Weardale presiding. A general discussion of ways and means for celebrating the 100 years of peace was held.

Mr. Depew in welcoming the delegates at the luncheon recalled crises that have arisen during the century of peace and their solution without resort to wear.

"Peace among the English speaking peoples will continue forever as an example for the civilization and the humanity of the whole world," he predicted.

Sir Arthur Lawley stated that not alone are the disputes of the future to be settled amicably but Americans and Britons must "frustrate these misunderstandings which beget mistrust, and that can be done only by mutual knowledge and by mutual sympathy." The bonds of friendship and affection must be strengthened and vitalized, he urged.

Sir Edmund Walker spoke of the friendly relations existing between the United States and Canada. Enormous investments of Canadian money in this country, he declared, rest upon Canadians' confidence that war between the two countries is impossible.

Auction at Chicago Opera House.

The last play staged in the Chicago Opera house might have been called "The Auction." It was given yesterday. The audience was made up entirely of the house management. Players were the auctioneers and buyers.

Everything of any value in the old playhouse was sold, and most of it was carted away before nightfall. Curtains, hangings, railings, orchestra chairs, seats, scenery, calcium, carpets, even the picture frames in the foyer went under the hammer.

It was the first auction of theatrical "furniture" and fixtures ever held in the country, according to the auctioneers, Michael Tauber & Co. "The Chicago Opera House company realized $7,400 from the sale," said Tauber.

Praises Toronto Vocational Plan.

W. L. Richardson of Toronto, Ont., newly appointed director of industrial education in Edmonton, Alberta, stopped in Chicago yesterday to see the workings of the school system.

"In Toronto there is an advisory industrial committee," he said at the board of education rooms. "It is composed of six members of the board of education, three labor leaders, and three employers of labor, and its purpose is to give advice on all vocational work.

"It is very successful. It strikes a life relation between the theoretical and the practical people, between the people who want the instruction and the people who want them to have it."

Plan Flag Day Program.

Plans for elaborate observation of Flag day, June 14, were discussed last night at a meeting of the American Flag Day association, which met at the Great Northern hotel.

It was announced by Mrs. Julia L. Wood, president of the local organization, that celebrations would be held in all of the city parks in which children of the various public schools would take part.

Rapid Masterpieces.

One of the most famous books of recent years is "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless. It has gone into edition after edition, and was the first and last work of a quiet little English girl the niece of the present Archdeacon of Chester. Dr. Edward Barber. This book is one of the most rapidly written masterpieces in literature, for it was written on the young authoress' death bed in the short space of nine days, and during this time she took no nourishment of any kind save a little iced water.

Bishop Heber, while on a visit to his father-in-law, Dean Stanley, wrote "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" in fifteen minutes, making but one correction, the change of "savage" for "heathen" in the second verse.

The present Lord Tennyson tells in his charming biography of his father, the late poet laureate, that he wrote "Crossing the Bar" in a few minutes. He had been down to Salcombe, near Bolt Head, where there is a bar which makes a curious moaning. He sat on the cliffs listening to it, but it was not until long afterwards that the great lyric came "like a flash of inspiration."

Dr. John Brown wrote his famous "Rab and His Friends" in an evening, Dr. Johnson finished "Rasselas" in a week, and Lord Byron wrote the "Prisoner of Chillon" at a sitting.

Electricity in Rubber.

An ordinary indiarubber band stretched and allowed to spring back by virtue of its own elasticity develops a negative charge of electricity, which is retained for a considerable time. The result does not appear to be influenced by the quality of the indiarubber, and the same effect is produced by a length of tube sufficiently thin walled to be fairly elastic. An essential condition, however, is that the material be allowed to contract suddenly. If pulled out slowly and gradually allowed to resume its original dimensions, no electrification will be produced.

After Dinner Tricks.

FOR HANDY FINGERS.

Take a piece of stout paper of thin cardboard, about 10 inches by 8 inches, and cut it as is shown below, removing the parts that are shaded in the diagram.

If you hold this between a plain wall or other surface and a strong light you will, with a little practice, be able to cast a shadow similar to one or other of these Madonna heads, which will vary in intensity and expression with the positions of the paper and the light.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle.

ANSWER TO TWINS' PUZZLE.

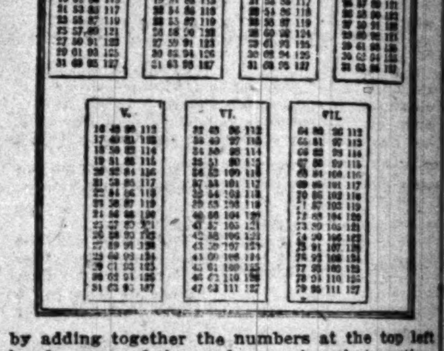

In the matter of dividing the O'Shaughnessy estate, it being clear that it was designed to give the mother twice as much as the daughter, and the son twice as much as the mother, it becomes a simple matter to carry out the terms of the bequest by giving the daughter one-seventh, the mother two-sevenths, and the son four-sevenths.

SEVENTEEN YEAR OLD YOUTH COMES HERE TO FIND SISTER.

A mother dead and a scattered family formed the pathos of a story told in the office of THE TRIBUNE yesterday by George Greenway, 17 years old, who asks that TRIBUNE readers help him find his lost sister, Helen, who came to Chicago six years ago. She is now 21 years old.

Mrs. Greenway, the mother of the separated brother and sister, died seven years ago in Pontiac, Mich., according to the story related by George. All of the children were taken to other homes. Helen went to live in the home of the Rev. Mr. Duffy, pastor of one of the churches of Pontiac. The minister brought Helen to Chicago when she was 15 and placed her in a home or a school. He then went to England. For several years George has not heard from her.

George reached Chicago yesterday morning. In walking by the First Presbyterian church, Grand boulevard and Forty-first street, he read on the church bulletin the name and address of the pastor of the church, Dr. W. C. Covert, and called and inquired about his sister.

"George seems such an earnest, determined boy that I want to encourage him," said the Rev. Francis M. Fox, Dr. Covert's assistant. "Any communication may be sent to me at 509 South Wabash avenue."

WRITES A PLAY; LOSES PULPIT.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—[Special.]—The Rev. Henry William Lambert has been forced out of the pastorate of the Thirty-fourth Street Baptist church of this city because he has written a play which has been accepted by a New York producer and will make its initial appearance on Broadway next fall.

The minister is said to make the finest appearance in the pulpit of any minister in Philadelphia.

He is broad in his views, and this broadness has bothered his congregation on several occasions.

Splendid Spring Tonic At Small Cost

As millions of bottles of various blood medicines and liver regulators are taken yearly to tone up the blood, restore vitality and healthy conditions to the body, it will not be amiss for us to repeat the formula of an old-time remedy that has been used with marvelous success.

Dissolve one ounce of kardene in one-half pint alcohol, then add one-half cupful sugar and enough hot water to make a quart. The ingredients can be had at any drug store at small cost. One tablespoonful of this tonic taken before each meal will soon correct all disorders of the liver, make the blood clear, and strengthen and build up the system most satisfactorily. For correcting sallow or pimply complexions, and giving one vigor and good health, we have never found a remedy to equal it.—Advertisement.

CLETTENBERG DONE WITH SON.

Says George F. Has Gone on One Spree Too Many, and Court Action Results.

Petition for a support summons against George F. Clettenberg and his father, Bernard F. Clettenberg, former alderman, was filed yesterday in the County court. It was brought by the state's attorney for the benefit of George and Joseph Clettenberg, sons of George F. Clettenberg.

"My son went away about two months ago. I don't know where he is now," said the former alderman. "I have set the boy up in housekeeping three times and each time he has gone off this way. I have had to foot the bills. I can't afford to pay any more."

Carl Chindblom, county attorney, said that Mr. Clettenberg would appear in court on Friday.

The World's Cooks

By Jane Eddington

Macaroni Ad Infinitum.

ROME.

RICHARD BAGOT in "My Italian Year," recent book, says:

"The majority of English people elect to come to Rome at a season when they see little or nothing of the real life of the city. 'Easter in Rome' is still a catch phrase of the tourist agencies; and for the few who spend Christmas in the Eternal City there are thousands who flock to it for holy week and Easter.

"It is extraordinary how difficult it is to kill ancient traditions. Numberless foreigners, especially English and American, hasten to Rome at Easter time, under the impression that they will be able to assist at papal functions which have been discontinued for forty years. As a matter of fact, the churches of Rome during the Settimana Santa present a sorry enough spectacle and by no means an edifying one.

"The crowds of idle sightseers which throng the basilicas are attracted by no spirit of devotion, and the few who come to join in the religious ceremonies are hustled hither and thither by Anglo-Saxons and Teutons, who have no scruple in fighting their way to every possible coign of vantage. I imagine that, except at Jerusalem at the same season, there is no city in which Christianity cuts so sorry a figure as it does in Rome at Eastertide.

"Those who make a point of absenting themselves from Rome during the holy week and Easter are wise, and many of the Romans betake themselves elsewhere during those days."

It is not to be proud of one's countrymen to see some of them who are now in Rome. Conversations show more than plainly that the people conversing came here because they thought it was a thing to do and are going on to other places they think it the thing to see.

MACARONI ALLA SAN GIAVANELLO—"While three-quarters of a pound of macaroni are boiling in salted water, prepare the following: Chop up fine two ounces of ham fat with a little parsley. Peel six medium sized tomatoes, cut them open, remove the seeds and any hard or unripe parts, and put them on one side. Take a frying pan and put into it one scant tablespoon of butter and the chopped ham fat. When the grease is colored put in the sliced tomatoes, with salt and pepper. When the tomatoes are cooked and begin to sputter, put the macaroni into the pan with them, mix well, add grated Parmesan cheese, and serve."

TIMBALE OF MACARONI—"Take a small piece of ham fat, one-half an onion, a piece of celery, parsley, and a small piece of carrot. Chop up fine together. Put into a saucepan, and when the vegetables are fried add two or three mushrooms which have been chopped fine. After five minutes add two tablespoons of tomato paste, thinned with five tablespoons of hot water (or equal quantities of tomato sauce with water). When the sauce is cooked take out the mushrooms and put them on one side. Take one-half a pound of macaroni. Boil in salted water for fifteen minutes, drain, and add the sauce described above. Add two tablespoons of Parmesan cheese, grated, and one tablespoon of butter. Butter well a mold, then cover with a thin layer of bread crumbs the bottom and the sides. Pour into the mold one-half the macaroni, then place on it a layer of mushrooms which you have taken out of the sauce. Now add the other half of the macaroni and then another thin layer of bread crumbs. Put the mold into the oven without turning it over and bake in a slow oven until well browned. Then turn out and serve. To this timbale, if desired for variety, cold meat of any kind, cut up fine, may be added to the sauce, and one egg, hard boiled and cut into four pieces. Add the egg and the pieces of meat which you have removed from the sauce to the timbale at the same time that you add the mushrooms."

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice

By Laura Jean Libbey

Light o' Love.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

IT often seems ludicrous, if not pitiful, to me, the manner of men who inspire love in some women's hearts. When a girl first commences to dream of a lover her idea is that he must be noble, genial, and true, with all of the attributes which inspire and retain affection. Yet somehow some man just the opposite of her fond imaginings captures the citadel of her heart. She has had most delightful day dreams of the constant devotion he would pay her; that no other woman's face would have the slightest attraction for him; that her will would be his law. The flesh and blood lover who has crossed her path seems to possess none of these excellent qualities.

Instead of being devoted to her he is decidedly neglectful of her. And as to not seeing any beauty in other women he considered the most ordinary women were better looking than herself. They seem to not have the slightest difficulty in luring him from her. Instead of her will being his law, she has to put forth every effort to please him; delighted at his smiles, sobbing over his frowns.

A sorry maid writes me: "What ought a girl to do when she has a fickle lover? I am in constant dread of being cut out by some other girl. It seems to please his vanity that different girls admire him and invite him to call upon them. I do everything to humor his moods. If he comes bringing tickets for the theater and declares that it is so cold he had rather stay in than go, no matter how bitterly disappointed I am, and want to see the play, I take off my hat and wrap and cloak and do my best to cheerfully entertain him at home. This happened last week. I would not complain if I had not learned that on his way to my home he called at the theater and got the tickets exchanged for the next evening and took another girl. A girl who is a dear friend of mine saw him and told me. When I questioned him he refused to answer other than to say if I couldn't trust him I shouldn't think of marrying him."

It would seem to me that a girl who has a lover who is so light o' love has very little to hope for in contentment and peace if she marries him. Two who are really meant for each other feel the influence of a strong attraction which neither can resist. They are true to each other, for therein lies their greatest happiness. They find each other's society heart satisfying. They are congenial to each other in the highest degree. Each feels the need of the other's presence. Distance only enhances the knowledge and the yearning that they are intended for each other. And when the close relationship of the betrothal is reached they look forward to all the happiness that this world can give, with each other. Neither is "light o' love" where hearts are truly mated.

If one or the other shows signs of fickleness it would be best to think over the matter carefully, not once but a score of times, 'ere taking a plunge into matrimony. When he makes the trips to nearby towns, sometimes staying a fortnight, why not agree to write to each other? Fervent, heartfelt sentiments cannot help but be appreciated. If it does no good it surely cannot do harm.

Love is the sweetest possession of a man's or a woman's life. Without it the world is cold and hard and dreary. With it life is one grand, sweet song. "No one is so accursed by fate, no one so utterly desolate, but some true heart, perhaps unknown, beats responsive to its own."

The true lover will not be "light o' love."

Shall She Marry?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 16 and am deeply in love with a fine young gentleman of 24. But my folks object to me keeping company with him because of the difference in our ages. He has asked me to marry him and is able to give me a very good home. Would you advise me to accept his offer regardless of my parents' wishes. For I am truly in love with him and it would break my heart to give him up. F."

You are too young to think of marrying! Don't you know that marriage brings responsibilities that are almost too heavy for a girl of 16 to have to shoulder? And your girlhood days are far the happiest days you ever will know. Why not try to prolong them as much as possible? When you marry you marry for a lifetime, and one so young as you is in no way qualified to tell whether this would be the man you would choose five or ten years from now. It so rarely happens that the man a girl would marry at 16 is the man she would marry at 24 that you really can't afford to take the risk. Wait five years at least.

"Glenn Didn't Like It."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 20. I have been keeping company with a young man for almost a year, until about two months ago he went to a play in town and did not take me. He had always taken me everywhere and it hurt my feelings. One evening the same week I went to a little show with another boy friend. Of course Glenn did not like it, for he is very jealous. He said he didn't care, but I could tell he did. After that he quit going with me, which nearly broke my heart, for I love him as I can never love another. He often comes in the store and waits for me to go to supper and one evening I was at a party and he came home with me. He seems to like to be with me and doesn't want me even now to go with the other boys. He has often told me it would take some good reason for any one to cause trouble between us. I think he likes me, but he doesn't think I care for him. D."

Why do you want to let such silly little misunderstandings spoil your friendships? If you are not engaged you are both privileged to go about with whom you please. If you are fond of him don't try to make him think you care nothing at all for him. But be careful not to show too plainly your real feelings toward him.

"Rocks" That Are Good to Eat.

ONE-HALF cup sugar, one-half cup lard, one-half cup butter, one cup sour milk, two cups dry oatmeal, three cups flour, one-half cup currants, one-half cup sultana raisins, one-half cup chopped walnut meats, one teaspoon baking soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, two eggs. Cream butter, lard, and sugar; add eggs well beaten, sour milk, soda, flour, raisins, currants, and nut meats. Mix and drop by spoonfuls on buttered pans.—Kindness of Mrs. A. G. S.

Boiled Cake.

Put into a kettle one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half package seedless raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one pinch salt, one cup boiling water. When the above begins to boil let it cook three minutes; let it cool and then add two cups flour and one even teaspoon soda sifted with it, a teaspoon vanilla and bake.—Kindness of Mrs. E. G.

Would Adopt Two Children.

"For years I have worked and saved and saved and worked to enable me to provide a home for myself, with sufficient income to adopt a couple of little children. I have not only provided a home for myself but for my sister as well, and am ready to take a couple of motherless little children or destitute children to support, educate, and care for, and hope you in some way can assist me in finding them. A boy and a girl between the ages of 1 and 5 years are what I would like, but they seem somewhat hard to get at that age. I shall be glad to give references if desired. A. J. G."

I gladly publish your letter in the hope that some one knowing of children to whom your offer would mean their only chance, humanly speaking, of care and love will write to me for your address.

Ambitious to Write Funny Letters.

"Is this question too hard to answer? I am a great letter writer and have been trying to procure books which contain all funny ones. It seems the more funny letters I write the more they are appreciated. Could you help me to find what is called 'a funny letter writer book'? I am willing to pay for it. I never want something for nothing unless I am 'broke.' "E. M. C."

As a rule I am sorry when I cannot give any correspondent the information he wishes, but, honestly, I am almost glad that I have never seen a book entitled "Funny Letter Writer." Genuine humor is seldom reeled off by the yard in letters, and the self-confessed "funny person" is often interesting only as a species of egotist. If one is so clever that what he writes is naturally witty and amusing, then his letters are a joy to the reader. But when one "tries to be funny" the result is most depressing. May I repeat to you with regard to your ambition to write "funny letters" Punch's famous advice to the young man contemplating matrimony, "Don't!" Forgive me if I seem unsympathetic, but be yourself in your correspondence rather than aiming to be "funny."

None Has Been Offered.

"You were so good to remember to ask for the old song 'The Harp with a Thousand Strings' for me. I hope to get it. Also I would love to have the hymn of Isaac Watts referred to. May I have it? Mrs. C. B."

Much to my regret, a copy of "The Harp with a Thousand Strings" has not yet been received. But I have not given up hope of getting the song for you. Will any one having a copy of Watts' hymn in which occurs the lines, "Strange that a harp of thousand strings should stay in tune so long," send it to this correspondent, first writing to me for her address?

Requests Samples of Crocheting.

"I should be thankful if some Cornerite has samples of crocheting that she will give to me. I am learning to crochet and enjoy it very much. But I have no patterns. I especially like lace. I have a short coat for spring wear that will fit a girl of 12 or 14 years. Also some postals which have been sent to me that children may have for the pictures if they wish. "A READER."

I would remind those of my readers who would be glad to accept the articles contained in the latter paragraphs of the above letter that it is but fair they should give equal heed to the request mentioned in the first paragraph. Will any one having patterns for crocheted lace supply this correspondent's want?

Wants Lone Woman's Companionship.

"Would you kindly help me through your Corner to find some lone, worthy woman who would appreciate a good home and help do the housework for myself and son. Having recently lost my daughter, I am very lonely. I should prefer a woman with a cheerful disposition, interested in the new thought. I have a piano and automobile for recreation and amusement. "A WIDOW."

Some lonely woman may find with this bereaved mother such a home as she could not otherwise secure. She must, of course, furnish letters or give "personal references" to the effect that she is honest and trustworthy in every particular before making any contract with this correspondent, whose address I have entered in our index.

Inquiry Concerning Quotations.

"Will some one please tell me the author of the following quotations, 'Get thee behind me, Satan,' and 'Coming events cast their shadows before'? Also if quotations are quoted correctly. MRS. E. F. H."

Surely you do not mean that you do not know who said, "Get thee behind me, Satan"! I would refer you to the Bible, Luke, the fourth chapter and eighth verse, for the text you quote. In this chapter, where we read one account of the temptation of our Lord, you will find the words in question. The second quotation is from Thomas Campbell's poem "Lochiel's Warning."

Offers Work for a Home.

"Who would like a girl from the country to work for her this summer in return for a home? I would like very much to work in some private family and hope I may find a place through the Corner. E. D. F."

Were you seeking wages in return for your service I could not print your letter, for, as you must know if you read the Corner, we do not ask for paid employment. As it is, I gladly hold your address and will give it to any applicant sending a stamp for it. The matter of looking up and furnishing references rests, of course, with yourself.

For a Soldier's Widow.

"If there is some old lady who is trying to live on a small pension allowed to a soldier's widow and who would like quilt pieces, perhaps to help add a few pennies to her income or for her own amusement and pastime, I will be glad to send them to such a one. INQUIRER."

I hope most sincerely that some soldier's widow will see this kind offer and profit by it, or will some friend of such a person call her attention to this gift? Naturally only such a person as our correspondent names would think of claiming the quilt pieces.

Restoring Green Sheepskin.

"Will you please tell me through your Corner how to restore the color to a green sheepskin that has faded from sunlight? L. D."

Try the following: Dissolve artist's oil paint (such as comes in tubes) in gasoline, adding the paint gradually until the desired shade of green is obtained. Then apply to the leather with a brush. When dry wipe off the leather with clean gasoline.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

Diet Us; Common Sense.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell.]

IT seems a foolish thing to allow our stomachs to tyrannize over our common sense. How many times do you hear a woman say, "I ought not to eat candy," even while she is biting into a great, luscious chocolate cream. I am sure that woman does not realize that she is not only sinning against her good health when she does this, but she is also weakening her strength of character. Every time you succumb to a little temptation of this sort the easier you will find it to follow when something of more importance beckons.

This country, so vast and prolific, provides us with an overabundance of good things to eat, and even the average woman can eat her fill. Lord Bacon says: "The virtue of prosperity is temperance; the virtue of adversity is fortitude."

As a rule I think most women have more fortitude than temperance; they will bear with equanimity the ills that they could have escaped had they practiced control of their appetites.

I have never yet known a fleshy woman who was not fond of sweets and starchy foods and ate them even while she deplored her increasing weight.

I have never yet known a dyspeptic who did not long for the fleshpots and who sometimes did not cheat herself by eating things which she knew were positively poison to her.

Women as a rule eat too much and too irregularly. They will breakfast at 9, lunch at 1, munch candy until 3, play bridge and eat again, and at 5 drink a cup of tea with some more food.

Then comes dinner at 7, and they end the day of gorging with a supper at 11. Personally I plan my meals very regularly. Of course, when I am playing my breakfast is necessarily rather late, but it consists only of a roll, a dish of fruit, and a cup of coffee. I have my dinner early, usually at 5 o'clock, and it is quite as simple in its way as my breakfast—a cream soup, a bit of fish or chicken—I rarely eat other meat—a vegetable, and a salad.

After the theater at night I usually have a light collation of some sort, and it is then that I enjoy my food the most of any during the day.

Remember: Regularity in eating is absolutely necessary. Much meat eating will ruin the most beautiful complexion. America is the only country where butter is served at the same time as meat, and there are a number of religious creeds which absolutely bar this habit. I believe that the Jews made the laws of hygiene; they ordered baths at certain times and their passover is as obligatory as housecleaning.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

E. W.: The eyes require the greatest care, upon arising in the morning, or any exposure to dust and wind, snow and sun. It is desirable to bathe the eyes in tepid water in which a little salt is sprinkled. The bathing must be done with a fine linen cloth. Absorbent cotton is much used, but it is dangerous, as little particles of the cotton occasionally get into the eyes and cause severe inflammation. The cloth should be dampened with the water and patted on, not rubbed, letting a few drops of the salt water drop into the eyes. Cold tea leaves are a great healer of tender eyelids and are sufficiently astringent to keep the eyelids smooth and firm.

A. W.: Biting the nails is such a disagreeable habit. I am sure if you use a little will power you can break yourself of it. Have your nails manicured once a week until they get into good condition, or if you can, manicure them yourself. A little care each day, cleaning them and carefully pushing the cuticle back from the nails with the blunt end of an orange wood stick and giving them a slight polishing will keep your nails in good condition. When they do grow out you will be proud of them and will not want to bite them and spoil them. If you care for them I shall be glad to send you complete instructions for manicuring upon receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

A SUBSCRIBER: It will take some time to remove the hairs entirely by using peroxide and ammonia, but this is a sure cure, for once they are removed they will not return. The ammonia will kill the roots of the hairs and the peroxide will bleach them.

YOUNG ESKIMO WINS A WIFE BY EARNING AN EDUCATION.

Schooling in Seattle Obtained by Boy After He Overcomes Many Handicaps in His Way.

Seattle, Wash., May 5.—Paul Patkotak, an 18 year old Eskimo, will sail for Point Barrow, Alaska, on May 22 to claim the hand of Miss Alice Ahlook, native teacher in the Point Barrow government school, who refused to marry him three years ago because of his lack of education.

When he was rejected by Miss Ahlook, the youth trapped enough arctic foxes to pay for a year's schooling and worked his passage to Seattle. Here he was permitted to enter one of the grammar schools because of the knowledge he had gained at the Point Barrow school. His summer vacations were spent with a fishing fleet. During the last year he has learned shorthand, typewriting, and bookkeeping in addition to his other studies.

Patkotak came south clad in furs. He will return smartly dressed in American clothing.

DEED INCREASE ENLIVENS REALTY

Gain of 1,363 Over April, 1912, Shows Growing Activity in Sales.

J. F. MEAGHER A SELLER.

Disposes of Property at West Monroe and Desplaines to Nathan Friend.

Tangible evidence of the growing activity in the real estate market is furnished by the April report of the recorder's office, which shows an increase of 1,363 in the number of deeds recorded as compared with April, 1912. The figures are 5,290 in number and $13,453,816 in total consideration, as against 3,927 in number and $18,573,176 in total consideration for April a year ago.

Rapid increase in the number of deeds with nominal considerations is shown by the fact that, despite the large gain in the number, there was a decrease of $5,119,360 in the total considerations.

There were 3,729 trust deeds and mortgages filed for record, amounting to $16,627,556, as against 2,882, amounting to $16,220,200, for April, 1912.

Under the Torrens system there were 235 transfers, amounting to $330,024, as against 177 and $266,967 for April a year ago. Applications for initial registration numbered 83, valued at $308,000, as compared with 64, amounting to $305,750, for April a year ago.

J. F. Meagher Makes Sale.

James F. Meagher has sold to Nathan Friend the property in West Monroe street 79½ feet east of Desplaines street, 70½x189 feet, south front. The improvements comprise an old three story brick factory building of little value. The consideration is withheld, but the property is said to have been held at about $80,000. Mr. Friend obtained $50,000 of the purchase money by a trust deed to the Chicago Title and Trust company, one year at 5 per cent. Alex. Friend & Co. negotiated the deal.

The Friends own the property adjoining at the northeast corner of Monroe and Desplaines streets, and the Meagher property gives them a holding with a frontage of 160 feet on Monroe and 190 feet on Desplaines street through to School street.

Apartments Bring $90,000.

The Monroe apartments at 5515-25 Monroe avenue, a six story building containing ninety-six apartments and five stores on a lot 150x175 feet, have been conveyed by Alex. Johnson and others to Frank A. McKee, consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $90,000.

John J. and Mary Mehlem have sold to Herman H. Schroeder the six apartment building with 50x150 feet of ground at 5831-33 Kenmore avenue, just south of Balmoral avenue, consideration nominal, but said to be $33,000, subject to an incumbrance of $11,000. The purchaser conveyed in part payment the three flat building at 4445 and 4453 Evanston avenue.

The Berkshire Life Insurance company has made a loan of $150,000 five years at 5 per cent to Fred E. Lee and D. H. Bishop, secured by the apartment house property and 160x271 feet of ground at the northeast corner of Fifty-first street and Grand boulevard.

The Equitable Trust company has made a loan of $100,000 five years at 6 per cent to the Connelly Iron Sponge and Governor company, secured by the property at the northwest corner of West Twenty-second street and Morgan street and other property.

Plan New Subdivision.

William D. Preston, with George G. Newbury & Co., has closed the sale of six and two-thirds acres at the southeast corner of Addison street and Fifty-fourth avenue, running through to Roscoe street. Title was taken by the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee, for a syndicate represented by William D. Kerfoot & Co. The property is adjacent to Kerfoot & Co.'s Irving Park subdivision and will be subdivided and placed on the market at once.

Willis & Frankenstein have removed their offices from 25 North Dearborn street to the Westminster building, Dearborn and Monroe streets, for which they are the agents. They will occupy the Monroe street frontage on the ninth floor.

William T. Hopeman will talk on the pending legislation on special assessment law at today's weekly luncheon of the Cook county real estate board.

Liberal Runs in East Cut Down Demand; Market Off 5@10 Cents.

CATTLE REMAIN STEADY.

Liberal runs of hogs in the east interfered materially with demand for swine at Chicago yesterday, the market suffering to the extent of a general decline of 5c and loss of 10c from Saturday's figures in some instances. Shipping orders were unexpectedly light and packers elected to play the waiting game, coming in toward the finish. Most of the early offerings went into the hands of a few shippers and speculators. The market was weakest in midsession, firming up a little near the close. The fact that shippers were light buyers threw the most pressure on the good hogs and weakness here was consequently most pronounced.

Arrivals of cattle were moderate at 18,000 head and the offerings proved to be all that the trade required. Steady prices prevailed for the bulk of the stuff with a few sales of choice steers made on a 10c higher basis. Buyers were slow in getting started, fearing to take hold because so much of the stock was "water heavy," due to enormous consumption of the liquid because of the hot weather, but there was no tendency to drag when the hour got late.

More sheep and lambs were received than the trade had looked for and lower prices was the natural result. The bulk of the sheep showed declines of 10@15c per head, while many lambs dropped 25c under closing figures of last week. Packers were very bearish bidders for wooled Colorado lambs.

ENERGY—By the Ton

What is coal? It is energy—stored up, compressed, reduced to a form that can be carried from place to place and converted into heat and power. Nature hasn't been uniform in her making of coal. On some deposits she has not been so long at work. But at the Tecumseh Mines, in Indiana, Time has given Nature a chance—and the result is a matured, potential coal that enables us to place a remarkably strong B. T. U. efficiency guarantee on

Tecumseh Coal

We can also pledge the buyer a character of service that removes the troubles so commonly known in the purchasing of coal.

Tecumseh Coal proves out 13,400 B. T. U's per lb. on 1¼-inch lump, with only 9% ash and 9% moisture.

We guarantee the above efficiency heat test on every order of Tecumseh coal. Add to this the saving in freight over eastern coals and our on-time delivery service, and you will contract now for TECUMSEH and save time, money, worry and losses incident to your shipper failing you at critical times.

HOGS TAKE DROP; SHIPPING SMALL

CATTLE REMAIN STEADY.

Liberar runs of hogs in the east interfered materially with demand for swine at Chicago yesterday, the market suffering to the extent of a general decline of 5c and loss of 10c from Saturday's figures in some instances. Shipping orders were unexpectedly light and packers elected to play the waiting game, coming in toward the finish. Most of the early offerings went into the hands of a few shippers and speculators. The market was weakest in midsession, firming up a little near the close. The fact that shippers were light buyers threw the most pressure on the good hogs and weakness here was consequently most pronounced.

Arrivals of cattle were moderate at 18,000 head and the offerings proved to be all that the trade required. Steady prices prevailed for the bulk of the stuff with a few sales of choice steers made on a 10c higher basis. Buyers were slow in getting started, fearing to take hold because so much of the stock was "water heavy," due to enormous consumption of the liquid because of the hot weather, but there was no tendency to drag when the hour got late.

More sheep and lambs were received than the trade had looked for and lower prices was the natural result. The bulk of the sheep showed declines of 10@15c per head, while many lambs dropped 25c under closing figures of last week. Packers were very bearish bidders for wooled Colorado lambs.

CHICAGO RAILWAYS TO GIVE DIVIDEND

Directors Declare Payment of 6 Per Cent on Series 1 Certificates.

LEAVE 12 PER CENT DUE.

Policy to Clear Up Accumulated Dividend as Rapidly as Possible Announced.

The directors of Chicago Railways company yesterday declared a dividend applicable to the payment of 6 per cent on the series 1 certificates. This will leave an accumulation on series 1 of approximately 12 per cent. In connection with the declaration of this dividend the directors issued the following statement:

"The board of directors of Chicago Railways company yesterday authorized the payment on May 15, 1913, of a dividend upon the capital stock of the company, applicable to the payment of 6 per cent upon series 1 certificates. This dividend was declared pursuant to the policy heretofore followed by the management of clearing up the accumulated dividends in favor of series 1 certificates as rapidly as conservative financing will permit."

Local Stocks Moderately Active.

Chicago stocks were moderately active yesterday. They did not gain in price to the extent that characterized New York issues. Distinct improvement was lacking in any quarter. Sears-Roebuck common was most active, but closed at a price corresponding to that of the opening. Market opinion is not favorable to the current range of quotations for the stock, which pays 7 per cent, and at this time is lacking in prospect of an extra disbursement.

Chicago and Northwestern common pays 7 per cent and is quoted around 131. The only warrant for any issue selling above a money market basis is either extreme security or the probability of highly speculative returns.

Montgomery Ward preferred was steady at 107½. There was not much doing. Commonwealth Edison was steady at 135. Public Service preferred dropped 3 points, selling at 95½. Diamond Match was fractionally higher at 101.

In the bond department the market was dull and steady.

New Armour Vice Presidents.

At a meeting of the directors of Armour & Co. yesterday the number of vice presidents was increased from one to three. In addition to C. W. Armour of Kansas City, who has been vice president since the incorporation of the company, there were elected two additional vice presidents: Arthur Meeker and R. J. Dunham, both of Chicago.

Treasury Department Cleans House.

According to Washington advices, the treasury department is being absolutely divorced from banking influences in New York, which formerly operated a "plant" in the treasury department. The following special correspondence to a New York newspaper outlines this situation:

"Unless all signs wholly fail, the end of the great banking oligarchy is in sight, with the possibility of a successor to it still uncertain or only nebulous. Secretary McAdoo's actions within the last day or two have received a good deal of attention for the mere superficial interest they carry. But behind this interest is the fact that the pet banks that have stood for years in close relations to the treasury department have lost their grip on the situation. No longer will these institutions have advance knowledge of issues of bonds, or be able to exert first claim upon public deposits or be given a generally favored status as compared with others.

"There are two New York banks that are especially concerned in this situation. One has had the preference in nearly every matter of treasury finance where bonds were concerned for years past; the other has been afforded early 'tips' as to prospective dealings, so that it could shape its course accordingly. Both have made a specialty in affording good places to retiring treasury officers, and in supplying available timber for in-going officials to take their places."

To Cut New Haven Dividend.

Directors of the New Haven railroad are scheduled to meet May 15 to take action on the dividend which should be payable June 30. It is reported that the directors contemplate ordering a dividend of 1½ per cent. This would make 7½ per cent for the year, and apparently put the stock on a 6 per cent basis as against the current rate of 8 per cent.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, May 5.—[Special.]—People who have inquired into the matter have been surprised at the lack of interest displayed in stock exchange circles over the annual election, which will come off within a few days. It is charged that some of the adherents of the former Young Turks' party, which began its work of internal reform last year by overthrowing the old custom of having the members of the nominating committee name their own successors, have lost a little of their enthusiasm for the cause, and that in this fact and the general apathy of the exchange members toward the subject there is danger that the regular ticket may be defeated.

The former standpatters, who have been described as the Bourbons and have now become the insurgents, have named their own ticket in opposition to the regular ticket, and the question of whether the ground won by the new party last year is to be abandoned or held will be settled next Monday. But in spite of this interesting situation it is asserted there is little talk of politics nowadays, which is leading to prophecies that the vote polled next week will be the smallest in years.

Persistent attempts are being made to convince an unfriendly public of the reality of the bargains which await it in the bond market. It is even pointed out that the savings bank depositor who gets 3½ or 4 per cent on his money can materially increase his income by withdrawing his cash and investing it in exactly the same class of securities from which the savings banks derive their income. Securities legal for savings bank investments are selling at prices which yield 4 to 5 per cent, and it is argued that the advantage of the transfer does not end here, for these securities possess potentialities of no inconsiderable appreciation in price.

The idea is not a new one. In fact, it has been mentioned more than once during the present era of declining bond prices. On each occasion the point has been made that the risk involved was small because prices had fallen so low that a further decline seemed outside the range of ordinary probabilities. The theory might not have worked out very well in practice if it had been undertaken in recent years except perhaps in the period of panic in 1907.

The success of the operation depends largely upon whether bond prices have really seen their low level for some time to come. Besides the fact that a savings bank has many sources of income it must be remembered that a savings bank buys securities with the intention of holding them to maturity and consequently up and down swings do not count as they very well might with the ordinary investor.

The granting of time by the Supreme court until July 1 for arrangements to be made in the dissolution of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific system was received in the commission houses with a good deal of unfavorable comment. In the first place it was thought unfavorable in a market sense because it emphasized the difficulty of the whole matter. Secondly, it was unfavorable because the desire of the railroads for an extension of time for an indefinite time was refused and it was figured that there would be no further extension of time should not the plan of dissolution be agreed upon because the Supreme court would not be in session in July to grant one.

It was unfavorable because it meant that the $126,000,000 of Southern Pacific would be marketed within the next few days. It was unfavorable because the Southern Pacific will be forced to sell its Central Pacific stock to the Union Pacific at a lower price than it held out for, and it was unfavorable because Wall street believed that no plan can possibly be agreed upon by that time and that a court receivership to unravel the whole tangle is the only logical conclusion of the affair. In its present state of mind Wall street is not willing to admit there is any consolation offered by an early settlement of a matter that has been a source of disturbance for weeks.

Test for Bond Market.

On May 20 the New York City authorities will offer $45,000,000 4½ per cent bonds. A great deal of interest centers about the price which the issue is likely to command. Already there have been sales against the bonds on the "when issued" basis at prices varying from 100⅜ to 100¾. It is expected the city will get an average price of 101. The sale is expected to afford an important test of the bond market, and to have much influence upon the price of municipal issues. The public has already been attracted by the opportunity to bid for 4½ per cent New York City bonds.

In the week following the last sale of New York City 4½ per cent, that of Feb. 14, 1908, $6,717,000 of the bonds were marketed at prices ranging from 100⅞ to 107. These prices compared with an average price bid by the public of 104, for the total $50,000,000 offered. The loan was six times oversubscribed. Until this year the bonds never sold again as low as the sale price. Before 1908 was out they touched 119⅝, which was the high price. The high price of subsequent years was: 1909, 112¾; 1910, 106⅝; 1911, 106⅜; 1912, 107⅝. This year the bonds sold as high as 105⅜ on Jan. 9. Last Thursday they touched 101¾, which was the low level.

Financial News Notes.

Operations at the United States assay office for April totaled $3,349,424, as compared with $15,981,254 for March. This total was made up as follows: Gold bars paid on deposits, $313,685; gold bars exchanged for gold coin [domestic], $2,873,614; gold bars exported to Europe, $220,490; gold bars exported to Canada [jewelry], $41,616.

The Harris Trust and Savings bank is offering $1,100,000 San Francisco 5 per cent gold bonds at a price to net 4.80 per cent. The total assessed valuation of real and personal property of San Francisco is $510,432,101. The bonded indebtedness is $28,449,300.

Officials of the American Steel Foundries company say that new orders show considerable falling off, but that business booked ahead is sufficient to keep the plant employed for several months.

An officer of the American Radiator company is quoted as saying sales thus far this year have averaged larger than those of 1912. The new plant at Birmingham, Ala., will be ready for operation late in the summer.

Newman Erb, president of the Denver and Salt Lake Railroad company, announces that the sale of the property of the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway company to the noteholders' committee has been confirmed by the court. The new company assumed control as of May 1 and will administer the property with general offices at Denver.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, May 5.—The brighter political outlook and the news that Montenegro will evacuate Scutari gave the stock market a cheerful tone today. Professional support advanced prices in all sections and bullish continental advices imparted additional strength later in the session. Consols gained a quarter of a point and Canadian Pacific and American shares generally were prominent in the upward movement, while home rails were higher on the proposed advance in freight rates on June 1. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. Canadian Pacific gained sharply on Berlin buying and the rest of the list advanced another fraction during the early trading. Later Wall street and the continent supported the market and the improvement was continued to the closing, which was firm. Money was dearer and discount rates easy.

NEW YORK STOCK AIDED BY EUROPE

AMERICAN ISSUES SOUGHT

London Demand Booms Home Exchanges and Sustained Buying Hits Shorts.

New York, May 5.—The decided improvement in the European political situation consequent upon Montenegro's decision to yield to the powers, and the resultant strength of securities abroad, exerted the dominating influence upon the stock market today. Expectations of speedy settlement of problems which have menaced the peace of Europe for months opened up the prospect of the repurchasing of American securities by foreign investors. London, in fact, has been buying stocks on every favorable opportunity for some time and before the opening here American stocks in London were marked up sharply. The situation was one which offered no comfort to the bears and there was spirited bidding for stocks to cover when the market opened. London also was in this market, buying most heavily of Steel, Amalgamated, and Union Pacific.

Bull Operators Show Confidence.

Operations on the long side were carried on more confidently and in the first hour there was a quick upturn, resulting in gains for important issues of one to three points. The action of the market during the remainder of the day showed that the improving prospects abroad had not produced sufficient effect here to bring about aggressive and sustained buying for the long account. Trading grew dull and prices eased off, although in the final hour the list rose to around the top again.

Optimistic reports which Wall street has received from Europe have several times proved disappointing and there was a general disposition to await definite developments before building too strongly upon hopes for peace.

There were several developments at home which served to take off the edge of any tendency toward enthusiasm. Traders were disappointed at the Supreme court's refusal to extend beyond July 1 the time for completing the Harriman dissolution, and Union and Southern Pacific sold off.

Gold Still Going to Europe.

Announcement that exportation of gold to Paris had been resumed, with the engagement of $2,000,000 gold for shipment, also was accounted a bearish factor. The rate of exchange suggested that a premium is being paid for the gold, and the foreign exchange market was unaffected.

Bonds showed an improved tone. Total sales, par value, $1,870,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call, steady, 2@3 per cent, ruling 2¼, closing bid 2¼, offered at 3. Time loans, easier; 60 days, 4 per cent and 90 days, 4@4¼; 6 months, 4¼@4½. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5¼ per cent. Sterling exchange, steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8315 for 60 day bills and at 4.8670 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83. Bar silver, 60c. Mexican dollars, 48c. Government bonds, steady. Railroad bonds, firmer.

FUTURES DECLINE; RAIN BIG FACTOR

Wheat Depressed, Owing to Heavy Precipitation Over the Southwest.

VISIBLE SHOWS DECREASE

Coarse Grains Are Shade Lower; Better Buying Support in Hog Products.

Good rains all over the winter wheat belt was the big influence in wheat yesterday, and prices worked materially lower. The relatively firm cables were not effective in stimulating much outside buying, and local bear leaders were encouraged in selling by the lack of aggressive support. Final prices were ⅜@½c to ⅝c off.

Heavy rains were reported over Sunday throughout Kansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri, as well as in the states east of the Mississippi. As a result there was a more optimistic sentiment current in regard to the crop outlook. Private reports continue to dwell on the bright crop prospects, and other factors were not pronounced enough to create any buying sentiment. A decrease of 3,666,000 bu in the visible supply checked the selling to some extent, and there were reports of a fair cash inquiry on the dip, which served to induce some short covering.

Foreign Prices Are Steady.

Liverpool closed ¼d off to ½d higher, the strength being due to the continued firmness at Buenos Aires, damage reports from Russia, and the strength at Paris. Small world's shipments, 11,072,000 bu, with a decrease of 2,552,000 bu in on passage stocks also helped the bulls abroad. Paris was 1c higher, Antwerp and Budapest unchanged, and Berlin ⅝c off.

Weather conditions northwest generally were cool and fair, and unseasonably low temperatures in western Canada. The primary movement continues heavy, 1,214,000 bu vs. 1,005,000 bu a year ago. Local arrivals were 22 cars, with 65 cars the estimate for today. Northwest cars were 463, against 249 cars a year ago, but Winnipeg arrivals were small, 213 cars, compared to 594 cars a year ago. Minneapolis stocks decreased 275,000 bu for two days.

Local Stocks Increase.

Local stocks increased 938,000 bu, the total here now being 5,448,000 bu. Clearances were liberal at 689,000 bu wheat and flour. The local cash demand was fair and there were sales of 75,000 bu for shipment to mills. St. Louis reported the best demand for hard wheat witnessed in several weeks. Outside millers were active buyers there. On the break here there was a good inquiry from local and outside mills.

Late in the session sales of 45 loads of Duluth No. 1 northern were reported, the going for export. Duluth claimed the sales were made by Chicago owners at less than Duluth was offering the wheat. Snow estimates the condition of winter wheat at 90.5, indicating a yield of 516,000,000 bu.

Small Decline in Corn.

Corn prices held well in spite of the weakness in wheat. Prices at the finish were ¼c lower. Cash prices here were ¼@1c off, with a fair shipping demand. Country offerings generally were reported a little more liberal and there were heavy receipts in the St. Louis market. At latter place cash prices were ½@1½c off. The weather map showed general rains over the entire belt.

Receipts here were 148 cars, with 310 cars estimated for today. Receipts in the west were 883,000 bu, against 1,103,000 bu a year ago. World's shipments were 3,308,000 bu. The visible decreased 2,175,000 bu, compared to a loss of 522,000 bu a year ago. Local stocks decreased 1,742,000 bu, bringing the total down to 2,379,000 bu. Liverpool was unchanged at the close. Shipping sales were 100,000 bu.

Narrow Trade in Oats.

The trade in oats was narrow and there was not much feature. Fuller was credited with buying September. Armour sold May oats freely. Prices at the close were 1-8@1-8c off. Cash demand fair with sample prices ¼@½c off. Offerings from the country were moderate. The visible decreased 779,000 bu; last decreased 2,034,000 bu. Shipping sales for the day were 235,000 bu. Primary arrivals for the day were 782,000 bu, compared to 578,000 bu a year ago. Local arrivals were 167 cars with 204 cars inspected yesterday.

Hog Products Finish Higher.

The trade in products was moderate with the tone generally firm, stock yards houses being credited with selling. Offerings were moderate. Receipts of hogs were 42,000, with 15,000 estimated for today. Western receipts were 88,400 compared to 82,500 a year ago. Liverpool prices were unchanged for lard and hams and 6d higher for backs and Cumberland sides.

Rye Market Firm.

Barley showed firmness, with malting 52@68c; feed, 44@48c, and screenings, 20@40c. Receipts were 40 cars.

Timothyseed slow. May sold at $4.00 and September at $4.25 in exchange. Cash lots quoted at $2.75@3.50.

Duluth flax was ½c higher to ⅝c lower with cash on track, $1.30¾@1.30½; May, $1.30; July, $1.31¾, and October, $1.32.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 5.—WHEAT—Prices today sold to lowest levels on this turn. Market narrow and weak. Trading of small volume. Excellent crop outlook caused trade to be more bearish. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Snow's May 1 crop report shows an abandoned winter wheat acreage of 2.9 per cent, amounting to 949,000 acres. This is the smallest abandoned acreage ever reported, and on the basis of area reported seeded last fall leaves for harvest this year 31,488,000 acres, or the second largest acreage ever grown. The average condition of the crop is reported at 90.5, a decline of about 1 point during April, due to a lowering of condition in the Ohio valley, Michigan, and in California. Upon the present basis of figuring the government report the present situation could be taken as forecasting a crop of about 516,000,000 bu. There is a deficiency of both current and accumulated moisture in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas, but up to the present time such rain as has been received has been timely and no crop damage has occurred.

Spring wheat seeding was not completed on May 1, but local agents are of the opinion that the final area will be smaller than that of last year by about 1,000,000 acres, with the greater part of the loss in North Dakota.

Offerings of corn were a little larger yesterday and many receivers look for a liberal run of corn during the latter part of May. As a general thing farmers are pretty well along with their spring work now, and consequently more liberal deliveries are to be expected. However, reports to several receivers indicated no desire on the part of farmers to sell corn at these prices, many preferring to hold until after the crop gets a start. Stocks of contract corn at Chicago are only 210,000 bu, and of this only 102,000 bu is No. 2 mixed. For the week there was a decrease in local stocks of 1,742,000 bu, bringing the total down to 2,379,000 bu. Another week of as liberal shipments as recently will see stocks pretty well cleaned out, and a heavier run of corn from the country could be taken care of easily.

POTATO SHIPMENTS HEAVY; DEMAND PREVENTS A SLUMP.

Increasing Receipts Well Cleared—Egg Market Has Easier Undertone—Butter Trade Quiet and Easy.

Prices for potatoes held steady in face of heavy receipts yesterday, with fancy stock active and firm. Receipts were 98 cars and the largest in some days, and there was some inclination on the part of buyers to hold back and wait for a break, but sufficient demand was forthcoming to move the offerings and disappointment was in store for those who held back. Bulk of sales were made at 40@45c. Quite a little cheap stuff was noticed among the arrivals and there was small inquiry for this kind.

An easy undertone prevailed in the market for eggs, but prices remained unchanged. Receipts were large at 30,589 cases and exceeded those of a week ago and a year ago by good margins, while demand was less urgent than it has been recently and stock is inclined to weigh on the market.

Butter was quiet and easy. Buyers are not in sympathy with the present level of prices and few have sufficient confidence to make anything but hand to mouth purchases. Receipts were 9,401 tubs.

Prices for live ducks were reduced 1c a lb. Practically all of the stock on sale was thin, and demand calls for heavier stuff. Other poultry unchanged. Trading in green vegetables was moderately active, supplies liberal, and prices generally easier. Asparagus displayed pronounced weakness, the street being flooded with all descriptions.
